BUGGIES TO BAGGIES

150 years ago, we arrived in our buggies and began to build. We wanted a town to love and to become part of. We nourished our town and watched it grow.

After 150 years, Mooreville really hasn't changed. Yes, it has grown, and we wear baggie jeans instead of stove-pipe suits and calico dresses. Men still pitch horseshoes and plow fields. Women still quilt and kids still go bare-foot.

150 years from now Mooreville will have changed even more, but we'll always remember growing from BUGGIES to BAGGIES.

All the different types of people in all the different sports were participants. Participants who gave their very best so that everyone would respect Mooresville High School. Some of these athletes became stars, some of them went unrecognized, but each one did his part.

PARTICIPANTS

A. No. 1 man on the tennis team, Mike Bagley showed great skill as he returned the ball. B. After winning a tough match, Brad Adams relaxes with some water in a tennis ball can. C. The freshmen Brownsburg meet proved victorious for Donnie White. D. The only thing on Stuart Smith's mind at the Decator Central meet was a pin. E. The look on Mark Williams face shows the tension he's under in a big cross country meet. F. Rex Morley was a little uncertain as to whether he would be playing much more football last season. G. Going up for a lay-up shot against Greenwood is Tom Rob-ling. H. The Pioneers arch rivals Martinsville, was almost upset when Chris Blackwell ran the ball which caused a near tie, 12-13. I. Terry Denny watches on as Avil Callahan served in the sectionals in which they placed second.

MHS consisted of many home-made celebrities (teachers). Some of these personalities were famous; some were no. 2, and they tried harder. Through their personalities, they contributed very much to MHS. They shared knowledge, experiences, and encouragement to students who were willing to accept them.

PERSONALITIES

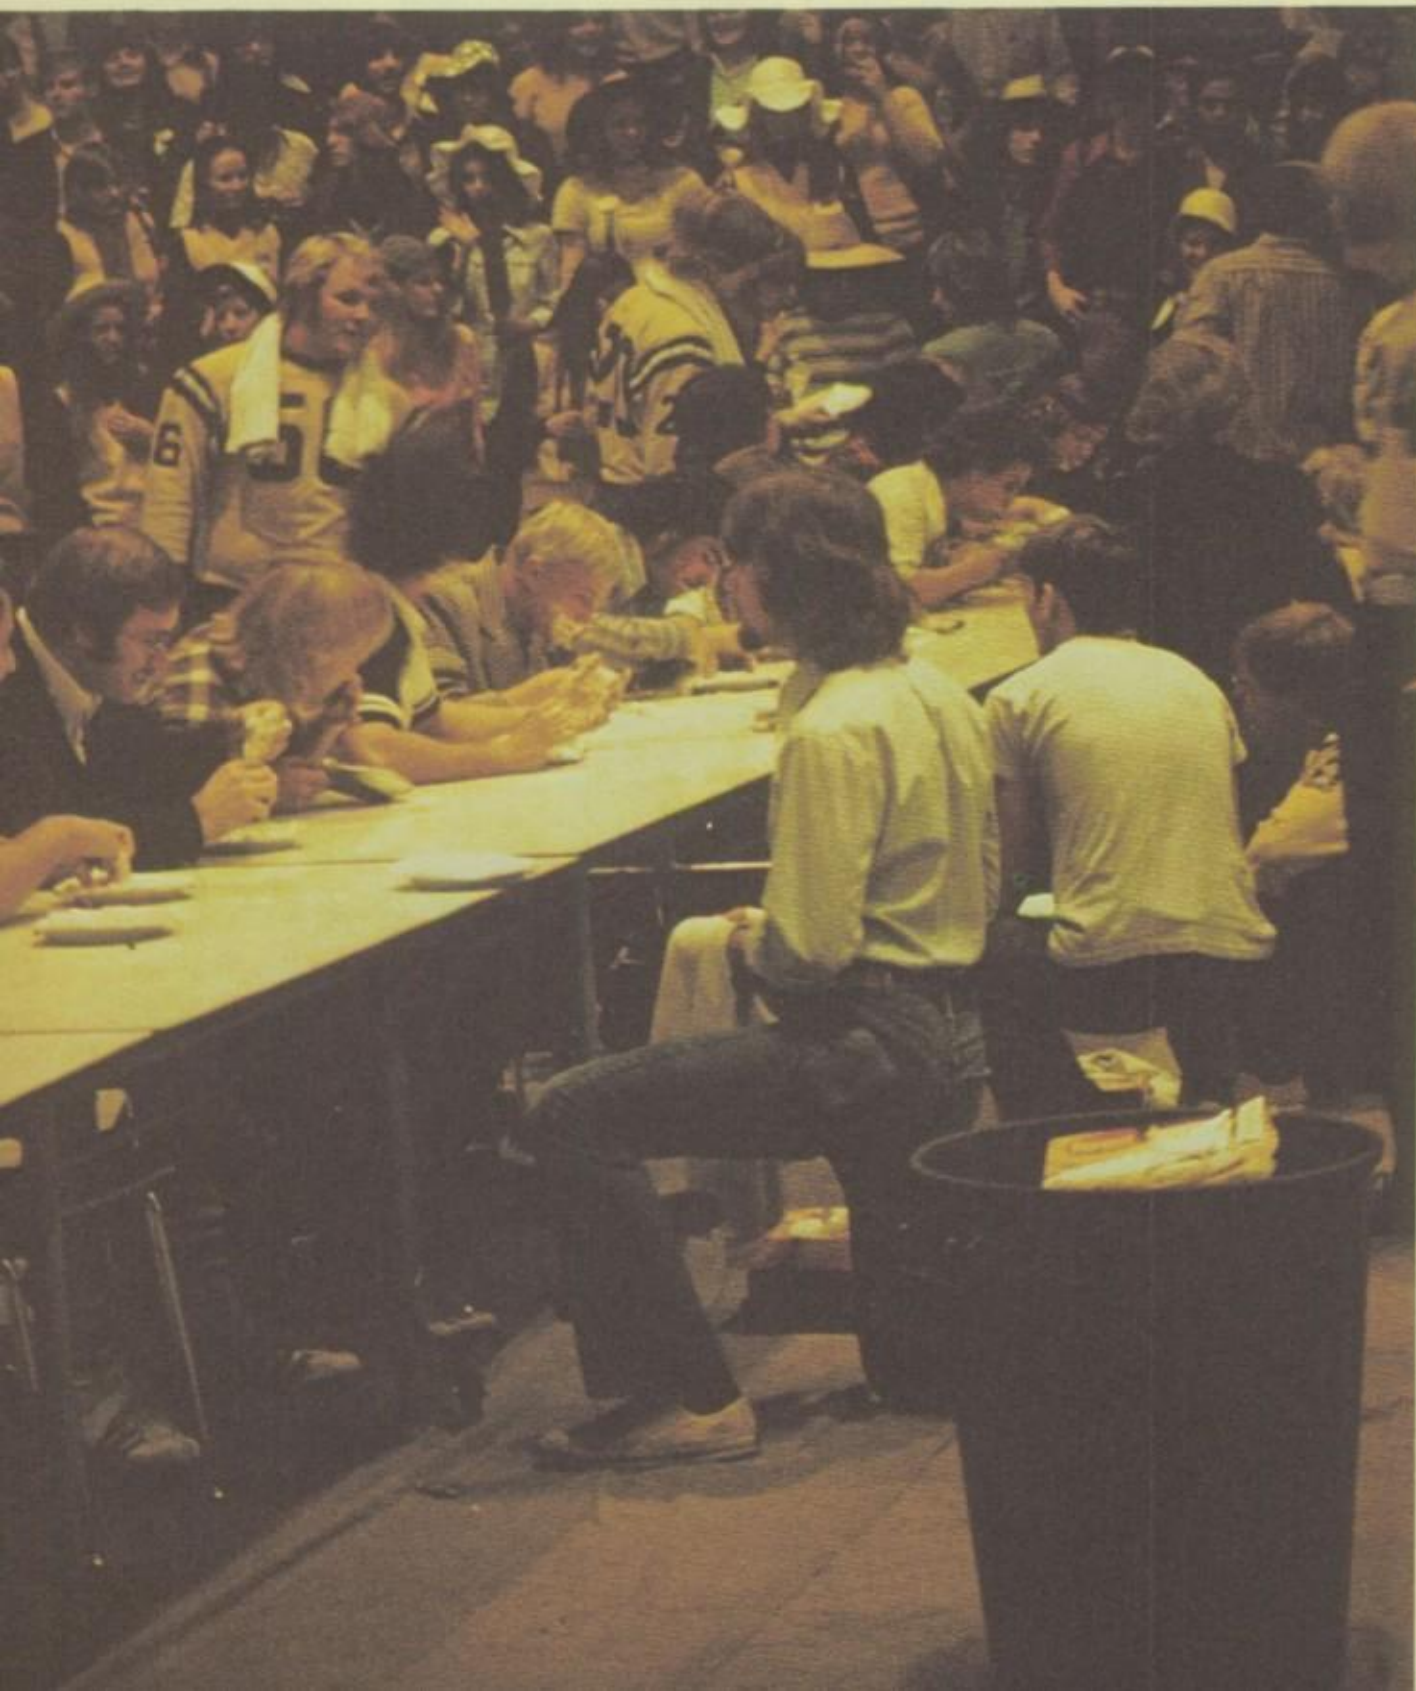

A. Mr. Jones not only directed plays; he also played some unusual parts. B. Mrs. Hadley was quite unaware of her own picture being taken. C. "One second to go," was what Mr. Qualitza told Jeff Graham as he got his pin. D. Freshmen wrestling coach, Ken Everhart, appeared to be disturbed about the meet. E. Mr. Silver took a break from announcing a wrestling match. F. Mr. Hammel was none too happy about the happenings of the football games. G. Mr. Johnson was listening to one basketball game and watching another; both his teams won. H. Director Stewart was trying to figure out how that line got in the play. I. The expression on Mr. Pelley's face shows his feelings for picture taking.

Mooreville was made up of many different faces. Each individual face portrayed a spirit vital to the creation of unity in a school. MHS developed these individuals with the hope that their contributions to society in the future would be as genuine and meaningful as those they gave to MHS.

INDIVIDUALS

A. The Homecoming pie-eating contest brought much enthusiasm from the spectators as well as contestants. B. Sheri Gilliam set a different mood with her song, "Coat of Many Colors." C. Sharon Hart displayed the very handsome vase she made in ceramics. D. The Dumb Clucks clucked their last song as they waited for Colonel Sanders. E. Eating Fritos and watching volleyball is the perfect way to have lunch. F. Julie Prescott relaxes on the bleachers and sketches a face from a magazine. G. An assignment for Mary Swope for ceramics class was to throw a pot on the potters wheel. H. Smiling, Karen Abbott models her 1920's hat on a sunny December day. I. "Sitting on the bench," David Holmes awaits his turn to play volleyball. J. Stoy Hedges was in one of those trying situations-mind against math test. K. While sweeping up, Kent Stoughten stops to take a quick break. L. Beth Whitaker did a monologue on a very bratty girl named Eloise, in the Revue.

BARN

, Whenever something new was to be constructed it became the business of the entire town, and everyone was there to help. Afterwards, we would eat and play games and OH! it was so much fun dancing around the bushes to catch their older sister with her beau then maybe running to tell the news of a wedding to be put on the calendar. We enjoyed the Barn Raisin's for they brought us close together.

RAISING

MOORESVILLE HOMECOMING CLASS

Through the years, Homecoming at Mooresville High School has been a time for students, teachers, and alumni to come together with pride and happy remembrances of the past. The 1974 Homecoming celebration began with much school-wide rivalry in the tug-of-war and pie eating contests and ended with an overwhelming defeat of Cascade. Tears of Joy were experienced by many seniors as their float, "Pioneers Don't Monkey Around" topped the float competition, a first for the class of '75. Toni Martin and Lori Summers reigned over the evening as queen and princess. Once again, Homecoming proved to be a time of harmony for everyone involved at MHS.

A. Although not a winner, Mr. Greg Silver demonstrated good form as he "gets into" a lemon Meringue pie at the Homecoming pep session. B. Contestants eagerly awaited the starting whistle that began last year's pie-eating contest. C. Perhaps hoping not to be recognized, Jim Curry lurked behind this mysterious disguise. D. The first winner for the class of '75- "Pioneers Don't Monkey Around."

E. Greg Finch, Senior Class President, accepted the plaque for the winning float from Queen, Toni Martin. F. Homecoming queen and princess candidates are shown with their escorts. G. Toni Martin, 1974 Homecoming Queen posed with her escort. H. Sophomore princess candidate, Lori Summers smiled during the parade.

On November 2 the Yearbook Staff presented their 4th annual Wagon Trails Revue. That Year's theme was "When You Wish Upon a Star", based upon the Walt Disney TV series. The Revue consisted of 22 acts, the Mouseketeers, and the crowning of Miss Wagon Trails 1974.

The Dance Band opened the show with songs such as Corazon and The First Thing I do, followed by Anne Carlisle singing "When You Wish Upon a Star." The Seven Dwarfs danced and also joined Mickey Mouse during the intermission to sign autographs.

Margie Mason was crowned 1974 Wagon Trails Queen. Princesses were: Kathy Hornaday, Kathy Ulrich, and Pam Nugent.

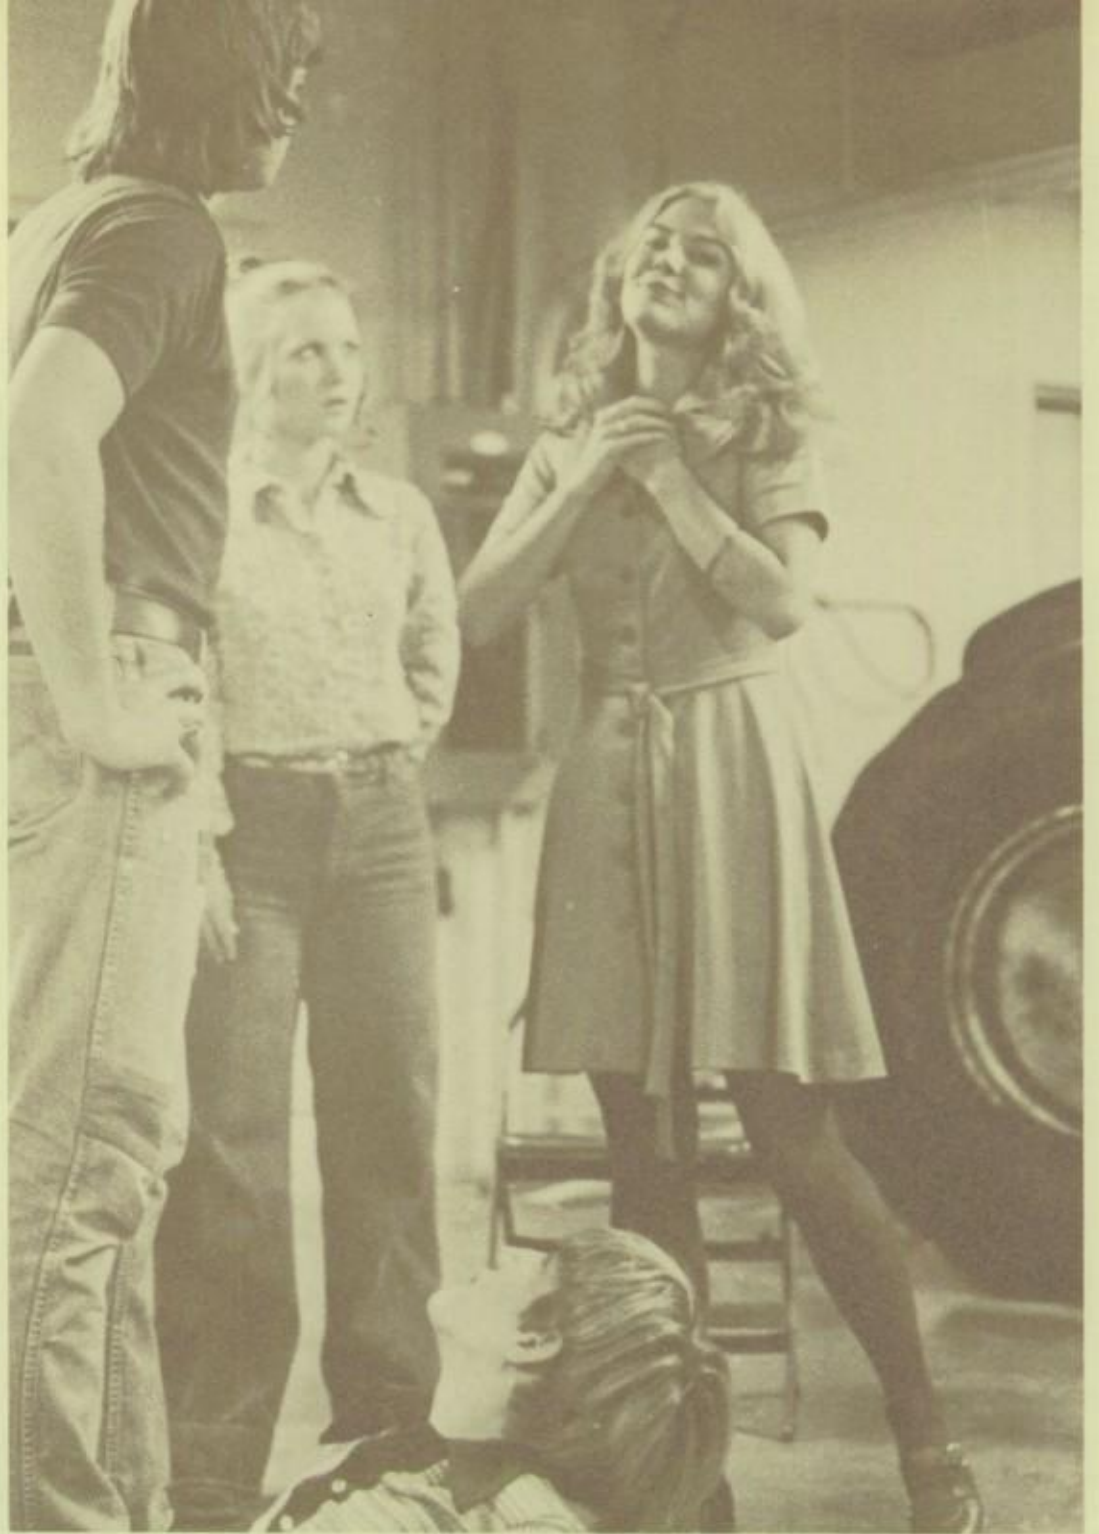

A. Mickey Mouse autographed programs at the Revue. B. The Dumb Clucks, Lynn Taylor, Vickie Forsythe, Sheila Cox, and Linda Gajderowitz sang "They Shouldn't Have." C. Miss Wagon Trails, Senior Margie Mason reigned over the 1974 Revue. She was escorted by Dickie Crane. D. The Mouseketeers added variety to the show. Shown are: L-R Kittie Swinney, Linda Weaver, Kim Linn, Becky Smitherman, and Rick Clark. E. Karl Wetzel has a snake friend. They sang BEIN' GREEN. F. Kim Linn one of the "Merry Mouseketeers" had her frying pan and cleaver after "The Dumb Clucks." G. Danny Scarborough, a Junior, sang "Chim Chimney."

Mooreville High School was always showing Mooreville another of its many faces. Whether behind the scenes or right out front, hiding our true selves or striving for recognition, we were always making news. Every day brought a new challenge, perhaps a highly embarrassing moment, but each hour spent in the classroom was meant to become a treasured memory. There was a lot of laughter at MHS and each opportunity to change the pace of high school life was seized. We began learning to accept ourselves and others as adults. This was only the first of many lessons learned that we never could have found in a book or graphed on a chart.

SAADLES AND BRYLCREM

The smell of greasy kid stuff once again filled the halls of MHS on March 19, 1975 as the FHA sponsored its annual Teen Angel Day. Many students dug out their old clothes and were judged for various categories such as hairstyle, shoes, and reddest lips. The finalists were announced that afternoon at a convocation presented by the choir, which featured many nostalgic tunes from the 50's. The winners of the best-dressed category, Jim Curry, David Bridges, Karen Abbott and Rhonda Hankins, were announced later that evening at a dance sponsored by the FHA and choir.

A. Dwayne Johnson dressed as a typical teen on Teen Angel Day. B. Donna Davisson was one of the students judged on Teen Angel Day. C. Tess Patrum and Paul Gregory posed for a 50's day picture. D. Teen Angel?? !?? E. Mr. Gregory and a student discuss the styles of the 50's. F. Four necessities of the typical teen angel.

Productions for the 1974-75 school year consisted of a wide variety of subject matter and talent. It all started with the yearbooks annual Revue starring Mickey Mouse. Following that, the Drama club presented two one-act plays; a comedy, "If Boys wore Skirts," and a melodrama entitled "The Farmer's Daughter." With these plays first semester ended. The spring brought two musical productions. The Variety Show, featuring the band, Kadettes, and the Choir was presented in March. April produced the musical "Once Upon A Mattress." The year ended with the planning of next year's productions.

PRODUCTIONS

A. In the musical last year, Becky Smitherman portrayed Princess Winnefred the Woebegone of Icomekill. B. The Kadettes danced many routines that required hours of hard work for the Variety Show. C. Drama club mouseketeers were astonished that Kitti Swinney could lift the barbells. D. Rehearsal for "The Farmer's Daughter" took place in the agriculture room. A setting with a tractor was already provided. E. During the song "FRED" Winnefred got drunk and Dauntless fell in love. F. The seven dwarfs were a feature attraction in the Revue.

The prom, "We May Never Pass This Way Again," was held on May 3, at the Holiday Inn East. The music was provided by the Jimmy Nash Orchestra while students and faculty danced. Mr. Curry crowned an excited Rosanne Cox as queen and son Jim as king. Also crowned were Phil Tapp as prince and Kim Hankins as princess.

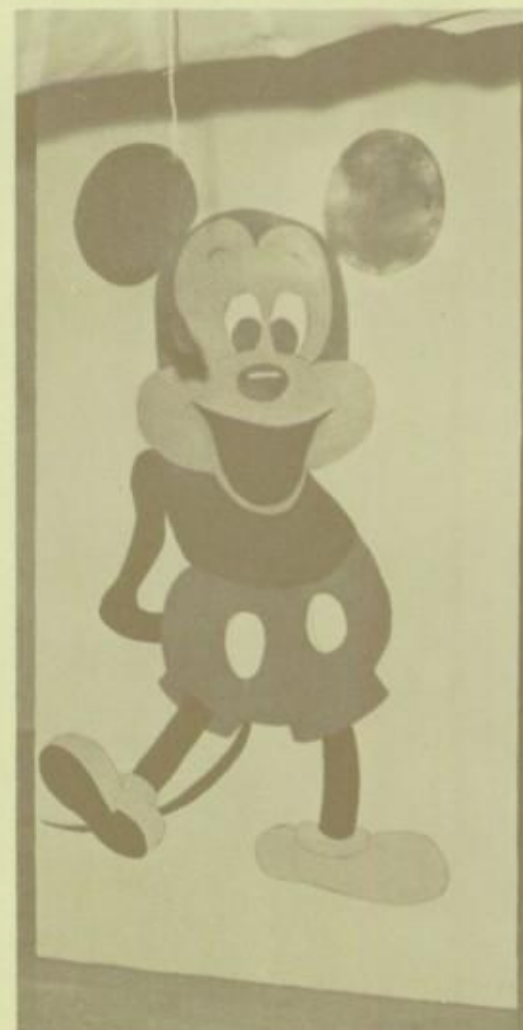

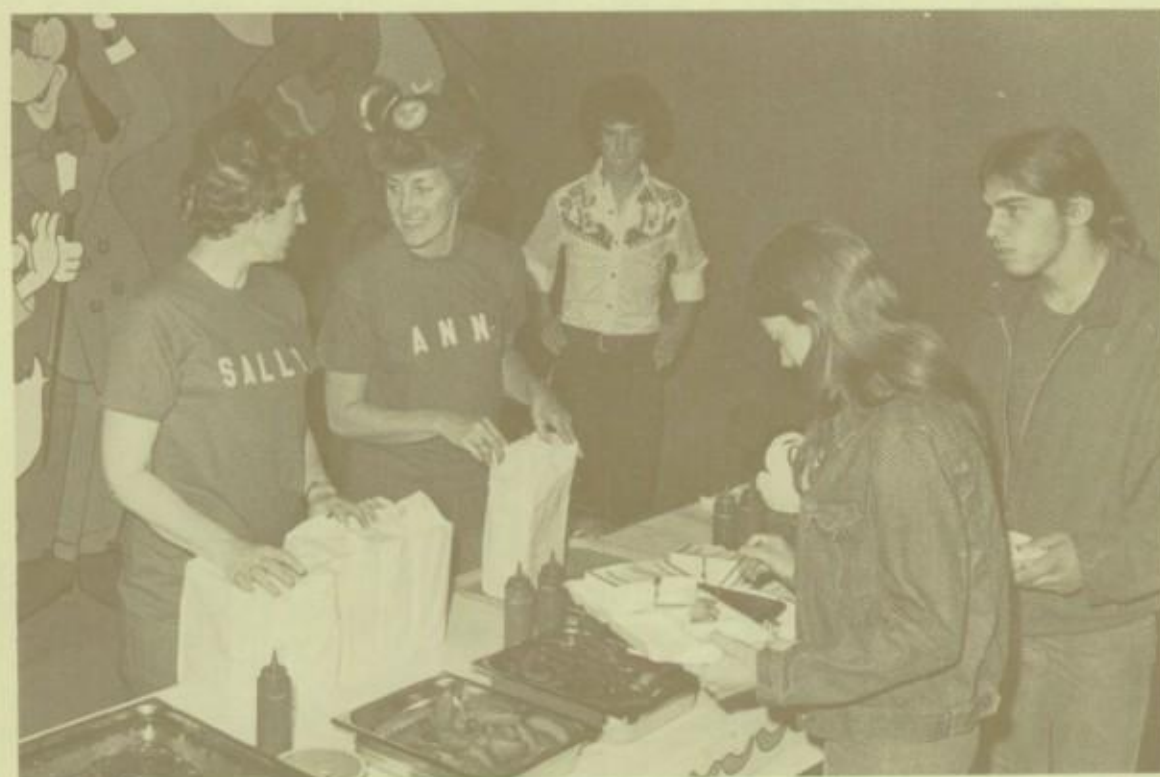

A. Memory books were passed out at the door by members of the Sophomore Prom Steering Comm. B. Friends looked on as the royal court danced. C. Queen Rosanne Cox displayed her flowers. D. Randy Lane and Penny Threlkeld were photographed at the prom. E. Mr. Curry crowned his son, Jim, Prom King. F. The king and queen with their court: Jenni Quillen, Mark Western, Charrie Rutledge, Chris Bkackwell, Phil Tapp, Kim Hankins, Rosanne Cox, Jim Curry, Julie Bowman, Mike Bagley, Pam Patrum and Ken DeLong. G. Kim Hankins danced with Phil Tapp.

Last year's Post Prom, "Disneyville", was sponsored by the Jr. Class parents. Music was provided by Macalaster. There were many games to play and the tickets won were traded for prizes. There were 1400 White Castles for a snack. Mr. Yoke announced winning numbers for door prizes. Sycamore Shop donated many gifts.

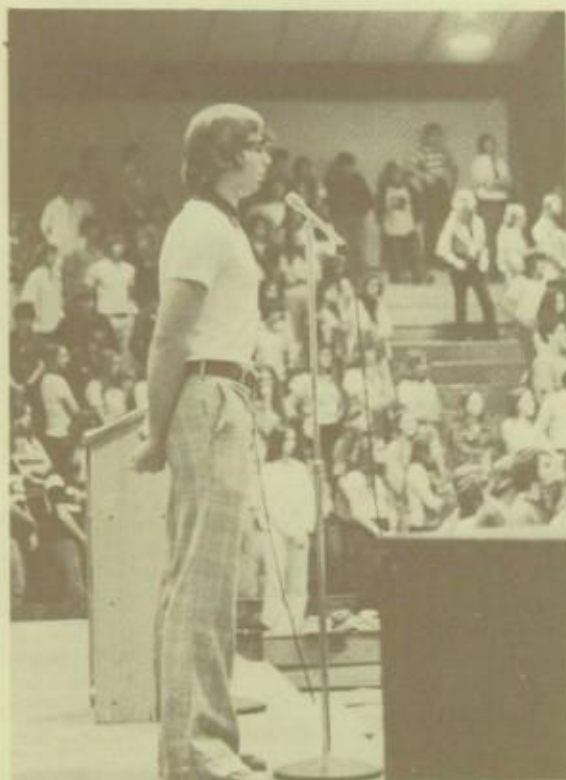

A. The card toss into the hats was one of the many games played. B. Mr. and Mrs. Smith looked on in amusement as Patty Rippey tried hammering in the nails. C. Mouseketeers, Sally Sterrett and Ann Prescott, helped with the refreshments during the Post Prom. D. Mickey Mouse was a star attraction at this year's "Disneyville" Post Prom. E. Friends got together and gossiped about that evening's excitement during the Post Prom. F. Sheryl Wiser and Paul Racic excitingly entered the Post Prom. G. Mr. Yoke played mouseketeer and passed out the prizes won in the drawings. H. Raggedy Ann and Andy took time out for a picture. They seemed to be having a good time.

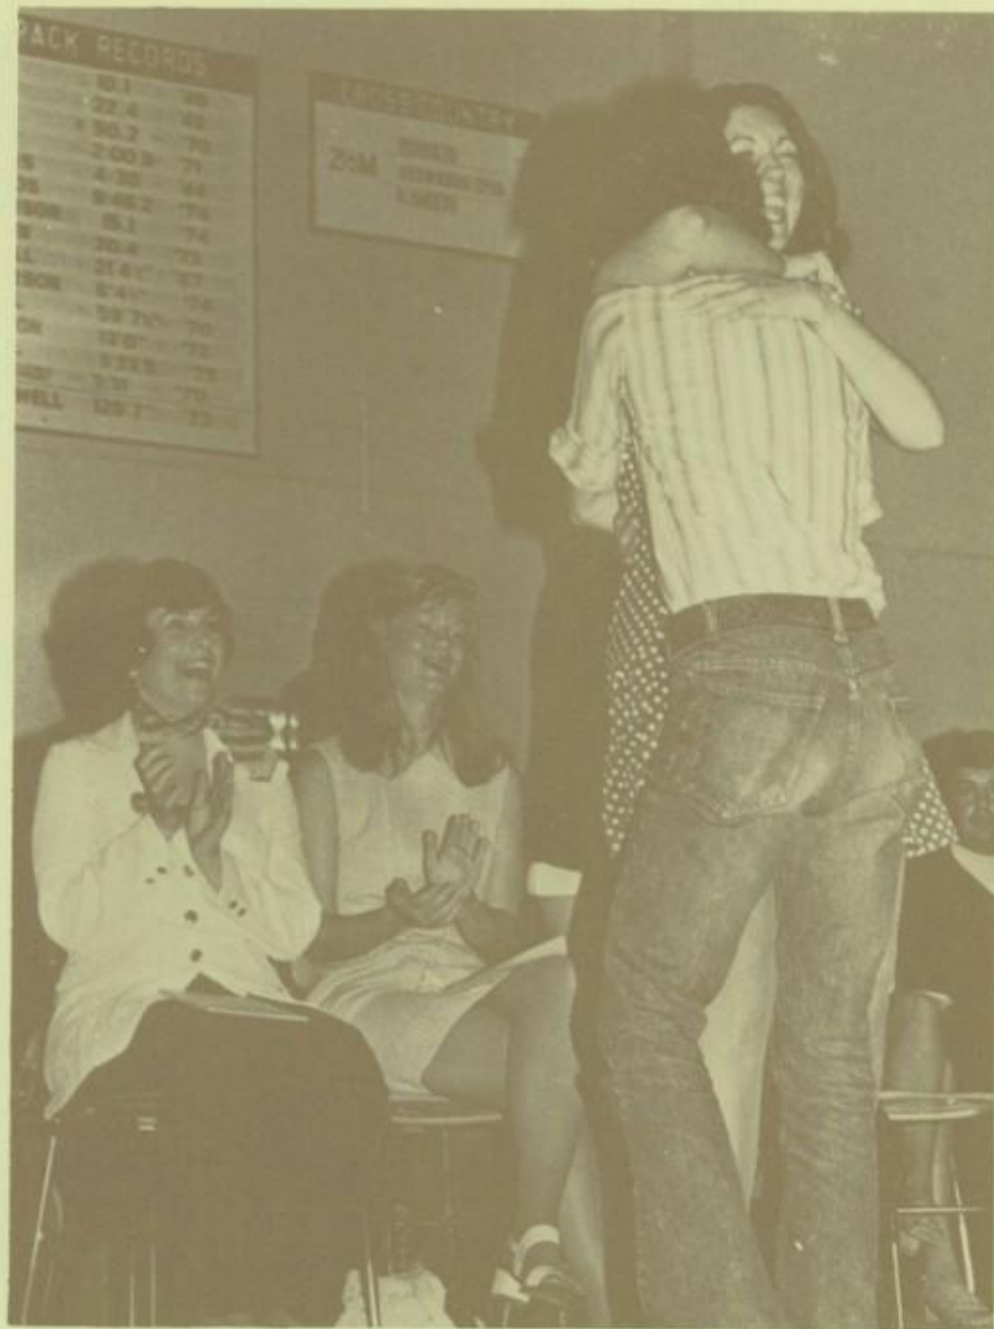

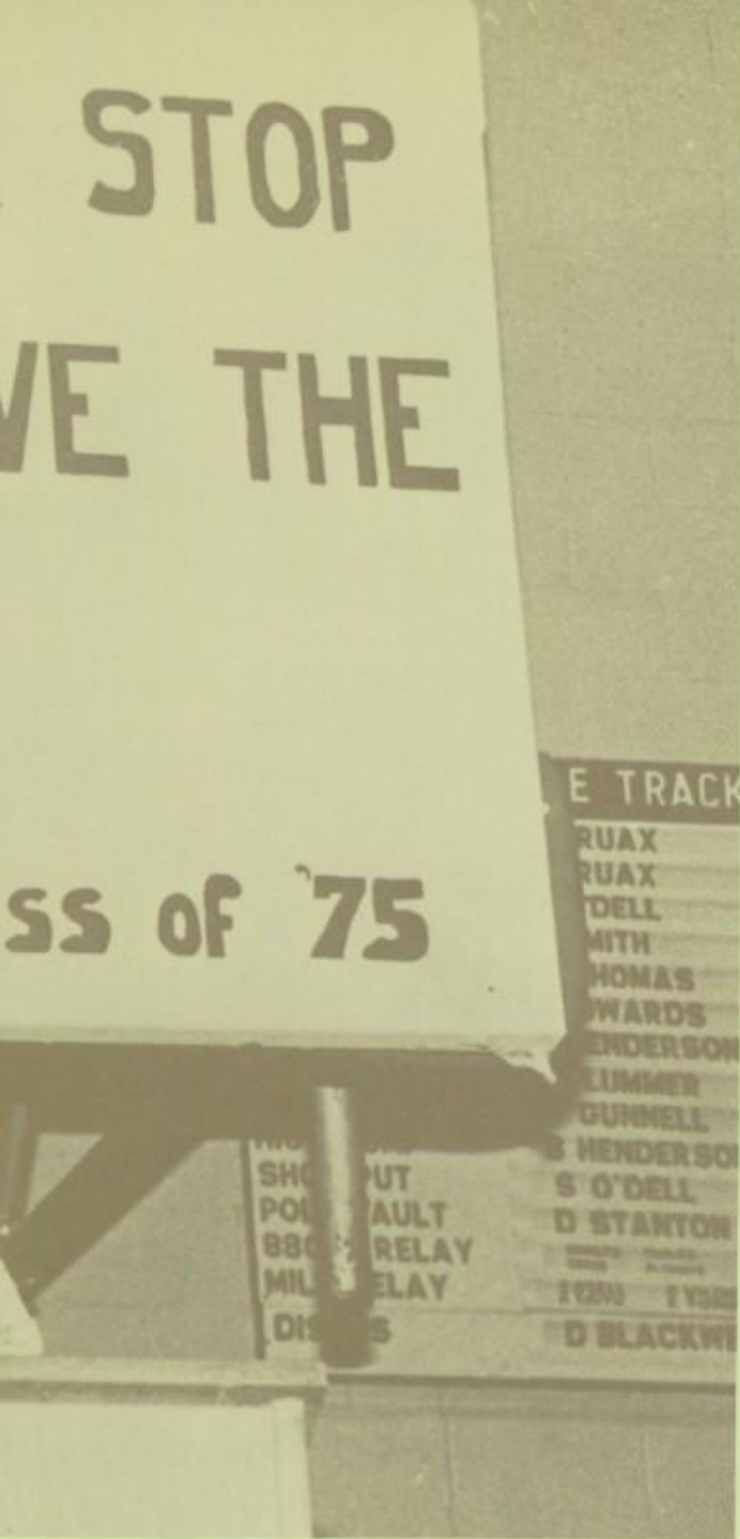

On May 16, 1975, MHS held its annual Honors Day, honoring particularly seniors, but also some underclassmen. Awards and scholarships were presented by the community, teachers, and organizations.

A. Mark Western sang the National Anthem on Honors Day. B. Penny Bolton bid farewell to students and faculty of Mooresville High School. C. Mrs. Bowman presented Julie VanHook with the senior German award. D. Larry Ferguson was honored as the boy with the highest scholastic achievement. E. Tim Crist received the sophomore art award, and in return Mrs. Hamilton received a big hug. F. Sheila Cox received the Mooresville Classroom Teachers Association Scholarship from Mrs. Randolph.

READING WRITING

MOORESVILLE

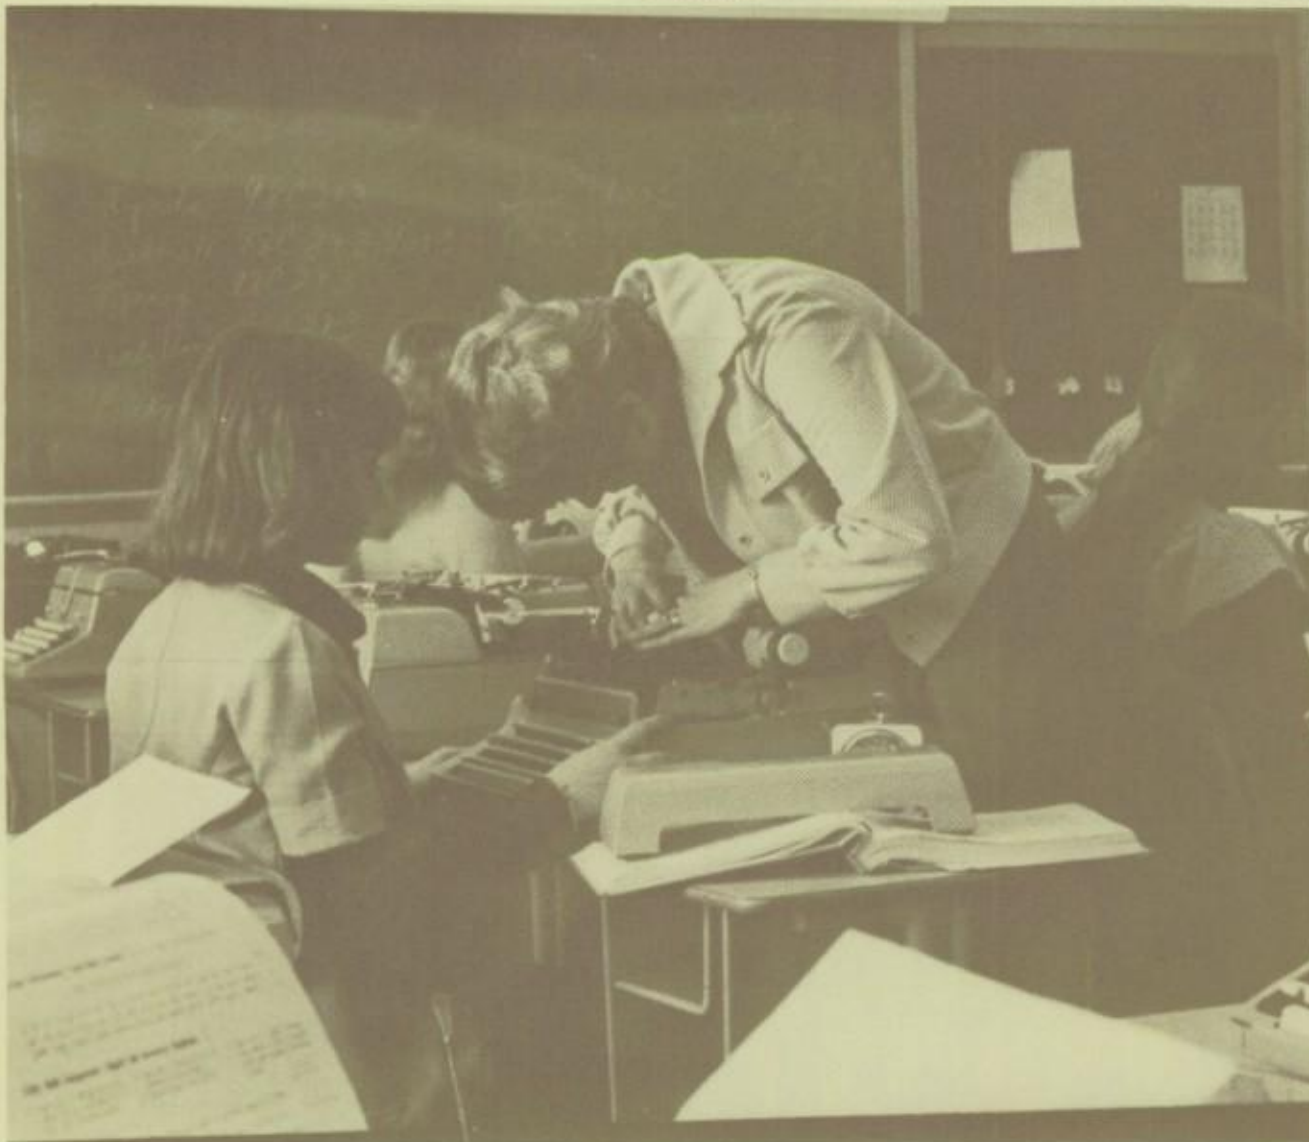

We remember sitting in class and trying so hard to grasp that which was above us, sometimes understanding, sometimes giving up and going to sleep. There was so much to know, and after we thought we knew it all, someone said, "Child, you'll never stop learning because you'll never know it all." So we made the best of it and made it fun, even the Readin', Ritin', and 'Rithmetic.

TYPIN'

Business classes were very active this year. The senior clerical office practice class took a field trip to Blue Cross-Blue Shield in the fall and a trip to Indiana Bell and IBM in the spring. The classes had many guest speakers including a representative from Merle Norman and a beautician. A few weeks before Christmas, the secretarial office practice class made cookbooks using colored masters.

Carol Walls showed extreme concentration during this timed writing.

Typewriter troubles were a real pain. But Mrs. Landwerlin came to the rescue as she attempted a repair.

STUDYIN'

Congressman Dave Evans visited MHS. He spoke to government students and answered questions.

The U.S. History class paid close attention as Mr. D. Adams recited a daily lecture.

A painful look of surprise as Mary Moon sat on a tack secretly positioned on her chair.

The social studies department at MHS consisted of civics, U.S. History, government, economics, world history, world geography, and family living. Economics classes learned about New York Stock Exchange by choosing stocks and keeping records of their activities. Congressman Dave Evans lectured government classes about his positions on various subjects. Government classes also visited the Capitol building.

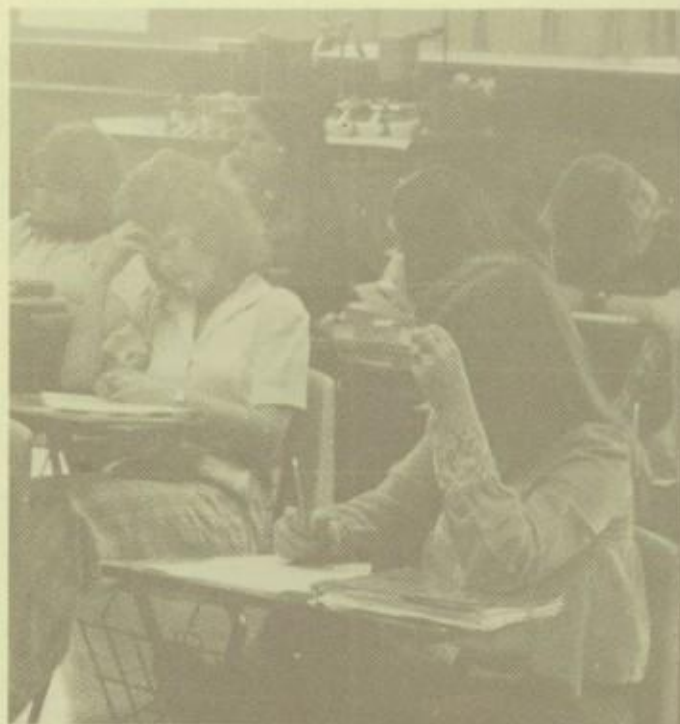

MIXIN'

In science we learn by doing. Students in our school may enjoy scientific experience in the fields of biology, general science, earth science, Chemistry I and II, and physics. Competition is keen in the scientific professions of today and one of the goals of our science department is to enable our students to become better competitors.

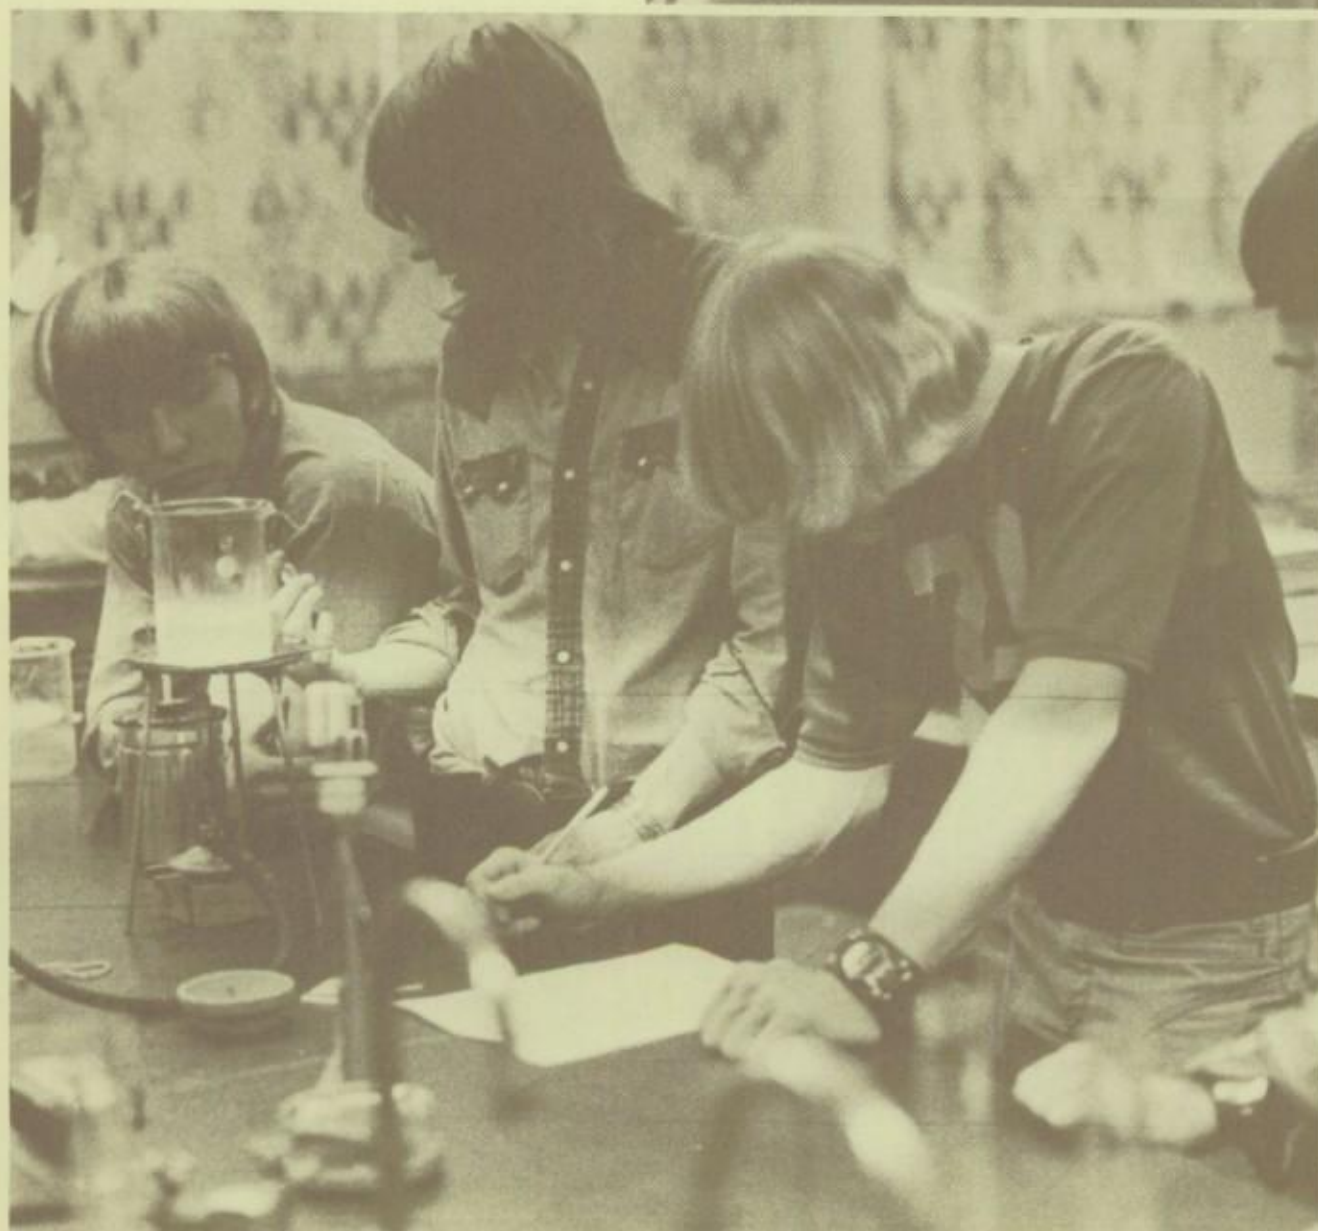

Whether training for a science profession or just studying science as a matter of interest, our students can learn by doing and enjoy doing so.

First year chemistry students concentrated on a lecture given by Mr. Alexander during 6th period.

Brenda Grass and Jody Cartmell performed an interesting experiment. They popped popcorn over a bunsen burner.

Derek Smith, Bob Hiles, David Holmes and Bill Warriner participated in a chemistry experiment.

MATHIN'

First-year freshmen found that fidgeting with figures for fun was a fantastically futile failure.

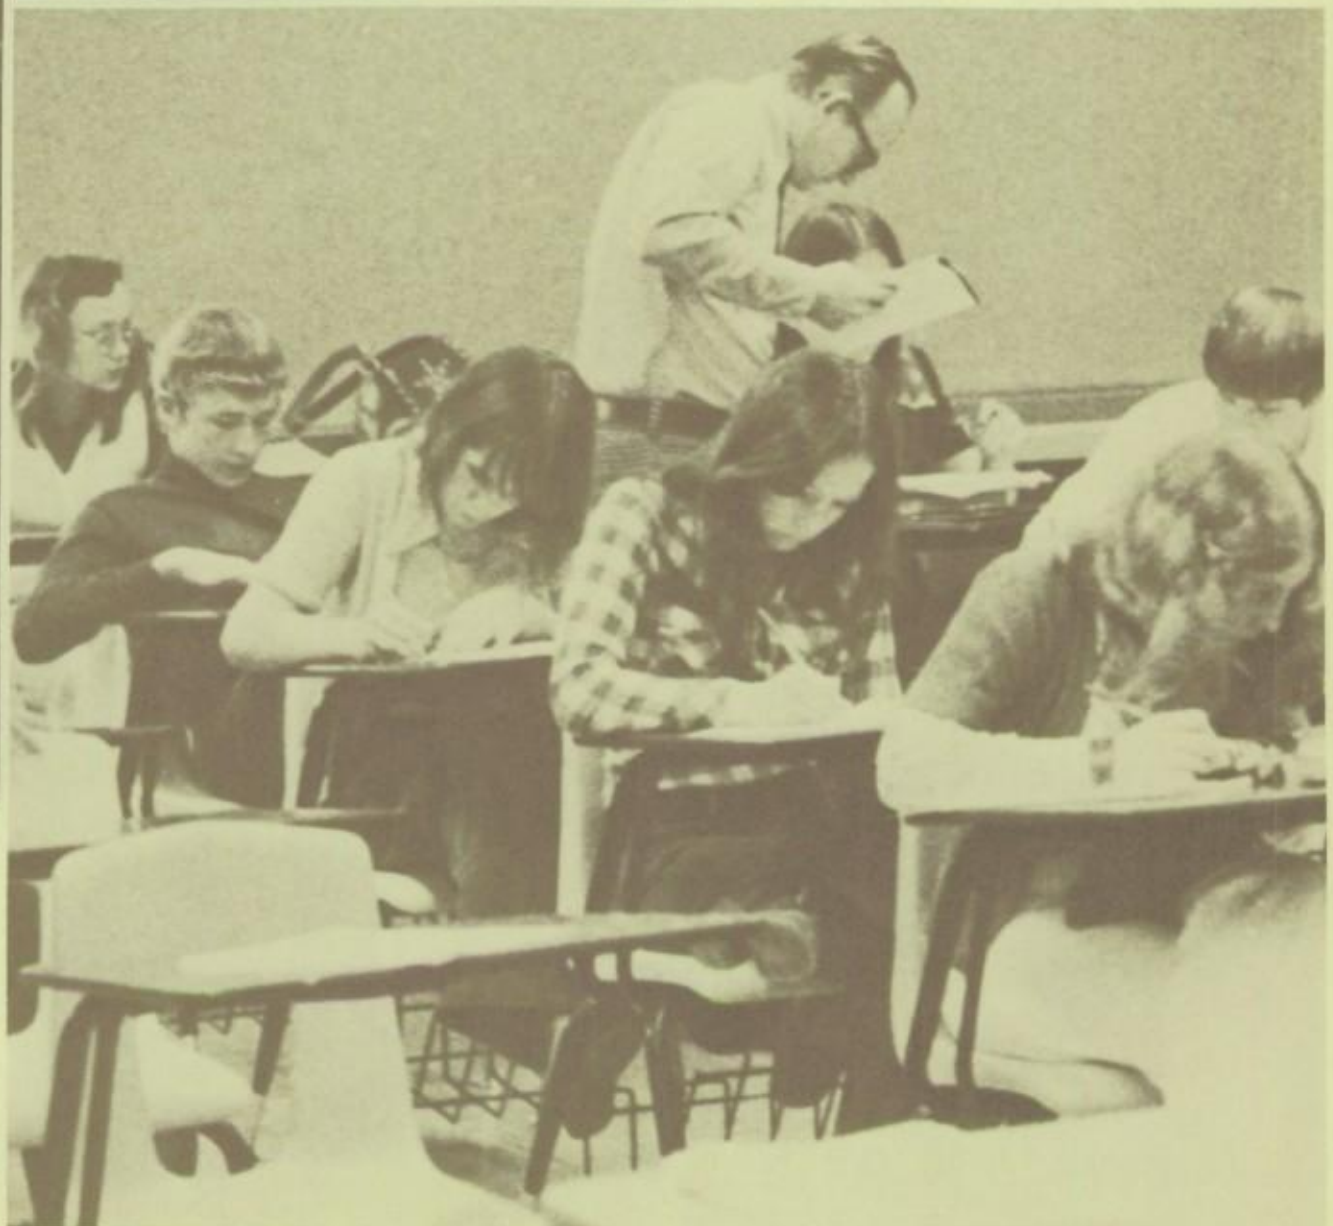

MHS had four math teachers last year: Mrs. Barbara Kacmar, who taught general math and geometry; Mr. Lee Musgrave, who taught basic math and Algebra I; and Mr. Robert Grosskreutz, who taught general math, senior math, and Algebra II; Mr. Norbert Johnson, who taught college algebra and trigonometry; and Mrs. Mitzi Lewis, who taught math and physics.

A special class in IV-Tran IV, a mathematical computer language, was taught by Mr. Grosskreutz.

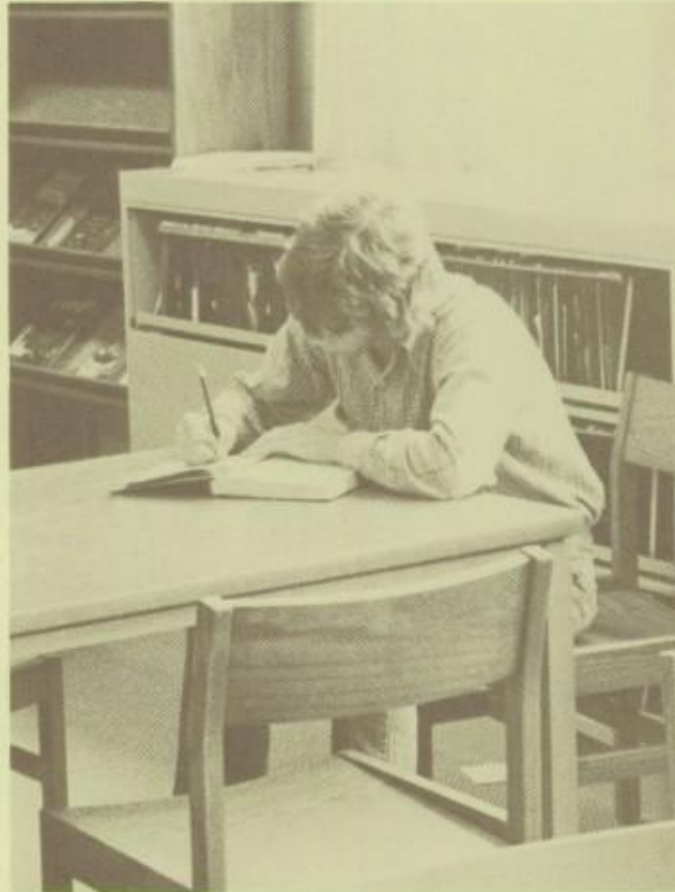

Mr. Musgrave must manipulate many minds to master the malpractice of mathematics at MHS on Monday mornings.

READIN'

The library was remodeled last year. This included a new front desk, tables and chairs, shelves, carpet, and a couch and chair near the magazine rack. A wide range of material was provided including paperback books, magazines, records, and cassettes. Library aids who assisted Mrs. Beaver last year were: Lori Summers, Cindy Pease, Donna Davison, Donna Fines, Sherry Hatfield, Vicki Wright, Julie Van Hook, Charlotte Helderma, Donna Dwinell, Pam Van DeVanter, Cindy Pemberton, Bonnie Hamilton, Donna Mattingly, Terri Phelps, Cindy Poynter, Cindy Dyer, Jo Harris, Carol Lewis, Sheryl For-noff, and Cindy Kays.

This photograph captured Dwayne Johnson in one of his rarest pastimes—studying diligently in the library.

DRAWIN'

The Art department consisted of course in jewelry, crafts, ceramics, sculpture, and figure drawing. Many of the creative projects made by the art students were placed in the display case across from the art room. Each student was given an opportunity to enter his project in the Tri Kappa art exhibit in April.

Ceramics was one of many areas of study in Art, in which students could develop their talents.

Senior Greg Whitaker spent much time creating pottery vases in art and made over forty pieces last year.

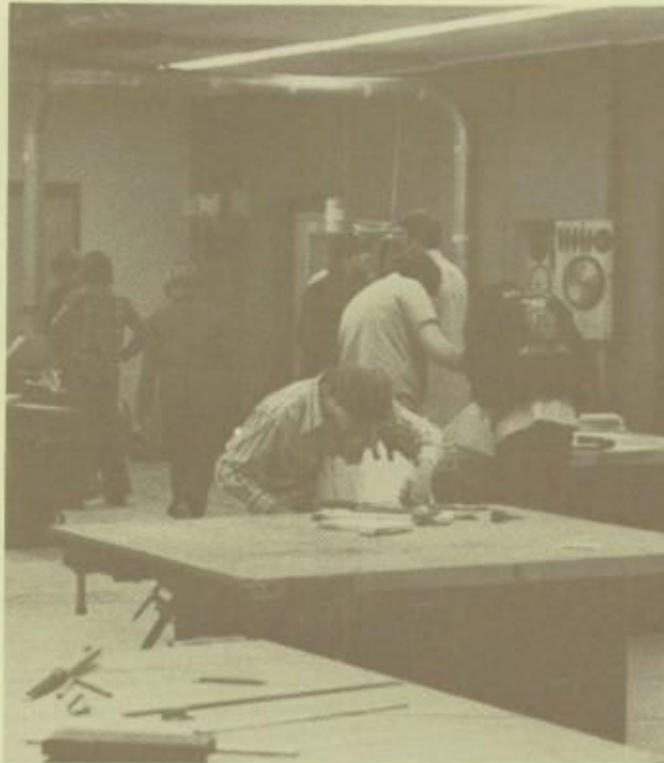

Another art class was jewelry. Pat Murray chose this class and exhibits his talent of making a ring.

BUILDIN'

The industrial arts classes at MHS that were offered last year were Metal Shop I and II, Drafting I, II, III, and IV, Auto Shop I and II, and Woods I and II. The purpose of these classes was to provide a skill that the students could use after they graduate. The classes were related to one another, and this helped some students to learn the geometric concepts involved in the woods and metals classes.

In the past these classes only interested boys, but last year five girls participated in some of the various classes.

How much wood would the wood shop use if the woodshop could use wood? Enough to teach vital building skills and crafts.

Although the draft has been abolished, tomorrow's architects are still drafting plans for a better America.

BAKIN'

Learning to clean up after a busy day was the task of these two boys in the co-ed home economics class.

Home economics class has grown from just the basic sewing and cooking classes. The housing class, for example, took a trip to the home show. Family management is as it says. The students learn to manage money, time, and transportation. Other classes are consumer ed., clothing and textiles, and personal relationships.

Miss Monique Cooper, from the Indiana Gas Company demonstrates the use of the gas range in the CO-ED Home Ec. class.

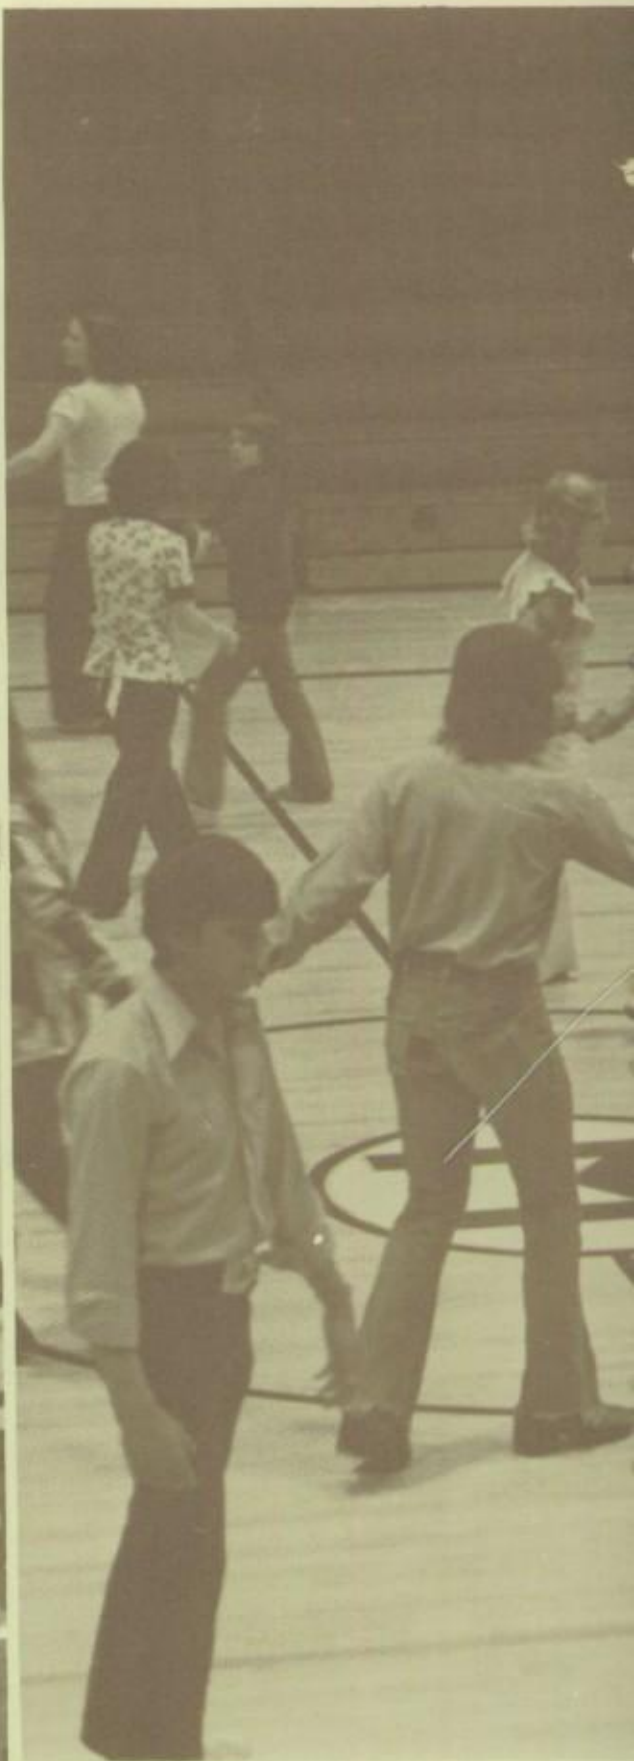

Mike Anderson learned the art of care while cooking special dishes. This could be helpful in later years.

RUNNIN'

Last fall the gym classes participated in co-ed archery, tennis, and softball. The cooler weather brought the classes inside with the sophomores bowling and the freshmen starting on volleyball. All classes practiced gymnastics and learned a few dances.

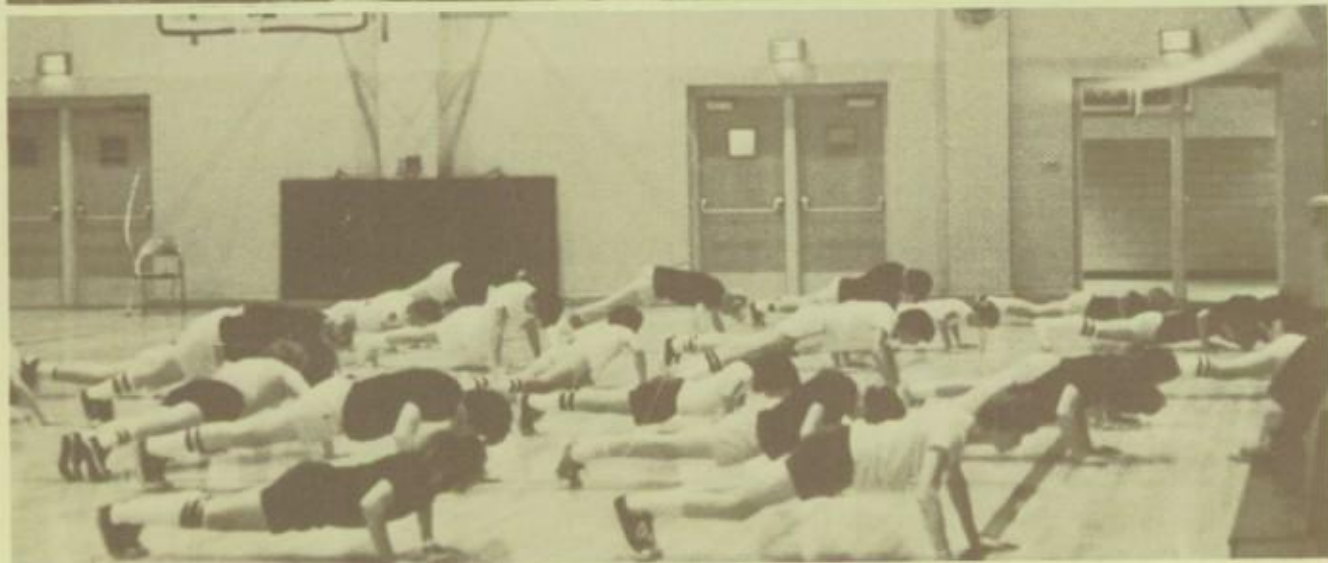

Students studied many areas of health. They learned methods of emergency first aid including treatment of shock, broken bones, and minor sprains.

This sophomore seemed confident in her spotter during one of the more difficult vaults in her gym class.

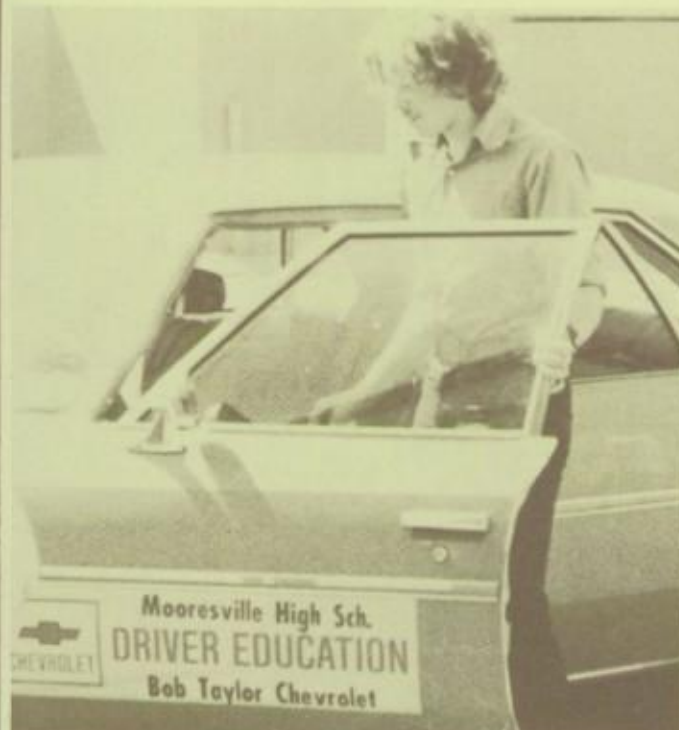

These students seemed very enthusiastic about the assignment that they are doing.

The boys in this gym class don't mind the number of push-ups they have to do.

RIDIN'

Getting behind the wheel of the MHS drivers education car for the first time can be exciting.

Drivers Education classes at MHS were taught by Mr. Dan Havens, Mr. Randy Qualitza, Mr. Don Pope, and Mr. Max Gregory.

The cars used by MHS had automatic transmissions and dual control brakes.

This class was offered during the summer and many students found summer classes more convenient than during the school year.

The students drove to Indianapolis, Plainfield, Martinsville, and other areas within a 30 mile radius of Mooresville.

These sophomore students seemed confused during the class on square dancing in gym.

Gary Floyd seemed anxious to change places with another student driver to try his skill behind the wheel.

COMPOSIN'

English, a four-year required course at MHS, helped students to learn the different parts of speech and how to use them properly. Freshmen are introduced to all major studies of English. Sophomore classes are designed for concentration on skill building. Juniors study is a continuation of this with an emphasis on American literature. Seniors may take English composition/literature or Senior English.

Journalism is an elective in the English department. All kinds of mass media are studied. The class may be taken for one year and is a prerequisite for paper staff.

Farm neighbors Ms. Debbie Hunt and Ms. ? Carl Leverett discuss last night's barn dance in Mrs. Randolph's English class.

Danny Scharbrough is shown here giving an informative speech for the rest of the journalism class.

Mrs. Roberts' Junior English class listens intently as she instructs them in their daily struggle for education.

CONVERSIN'

Senora Blickenstaff directed personal attention to one of her little banditos in first year Spanish class.

Activities of the foreign language students are many. Spanish students took a trip to the Mexican neighborhood in East Chicago. Later in the year they prepared a Spanish meal with boritos, tacos, and Spanish desserts.

French classes practiced speaking, reading, and writing using films and recordings. The third year class cooked a meal using a French cookbook and French weights.

Thirteen German students presented a program at the Jr. High to attract 8th graders to enroll in the class. Second year students practiced the language in conversation groups. Third and fourth year classes exercise literature and writing.

Mr. Brown was invited to join Madame Witte and one of her French classes for a French fondue.

Frau Bowman's German class talked about the weather . . . that may sound easy, but try doing it in German.

JAWIN'

Speech classes are designed to increase public speaking ability, along with increasing awareness in many other areas. Some students who did special projects during class competed in speech meets. Speech II classes were taught how to apply stage make-up and how to build sets. They also visited a radio station and presented a program for local elementary schools. The second semester acting and interpretation class put together portions of plays taken from English books for MHS classes, elementary schools, and the community.

The shadows of Kim Linn and Karen Abbott performing a speech cutting from PLAZA SUITE.

Chris Blackwell used a boa constrictor as a visual aid in a demonstration speech.

During this demonstration speech Steve Holland prepared cinnamon yeast rolls to display his baking talent.

THINKIN'

Sociology classes at MHS discussed the problems of society and the many possible solutions.

Psychology and Sociology classes at MHS were taught by Mr. John Riley and Mr. Rodger Hershberger. These classes help students understand themselves and others better.

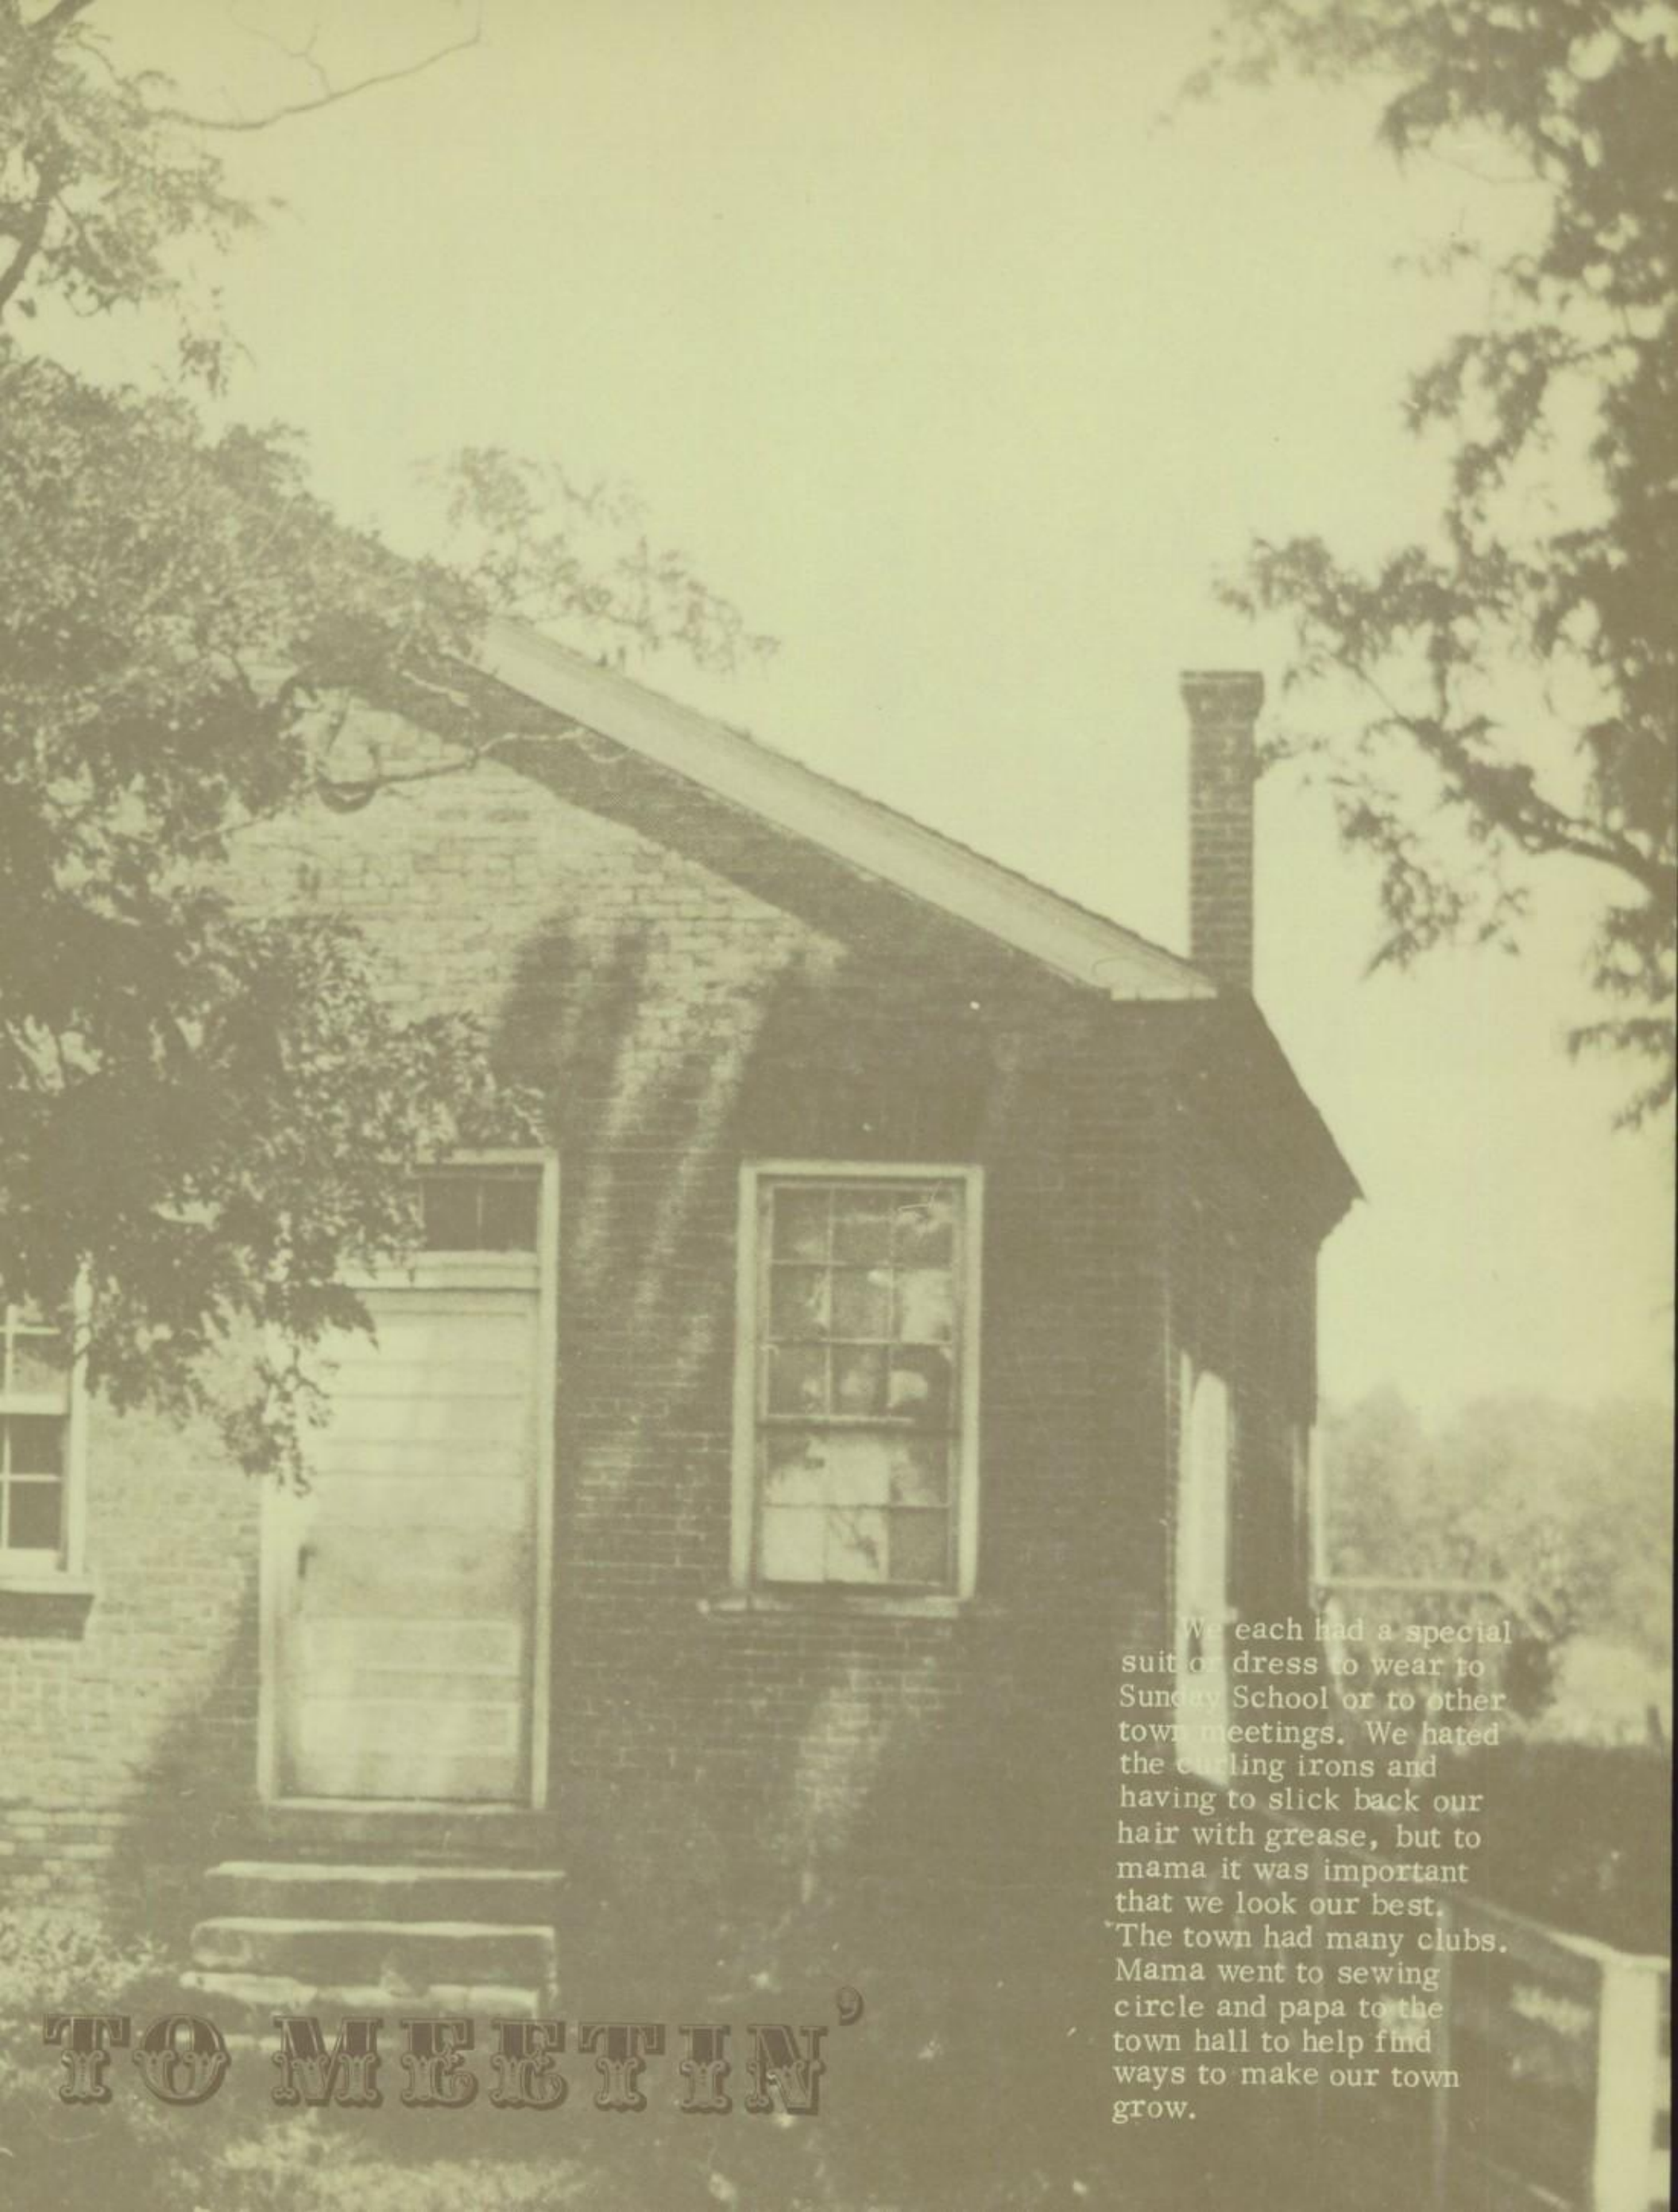

Observations were the major assignment in these classes. The students were to watch a subject and report on its behavior.

Jeff Edwards proved to be very attentive student as Mr. Hershberger explained one of the social problems.

Senior Sheryl Fornoff prepared a collage for Sociology class as Marvin Reid looked on.

We each had a special suit or dress to wear to Sunday School or to other town meetings. We hated the curling irons and having to slick back our hair with grease, but to mama it was important that we look our best. The town had many clubs. Mama went to sewing circle and papa to the town hall to help find ways to make our town grow.

TO MEETIN'

MUSIC IS YOU

The freshman ensemble took a first at contest. The Rhythmaires posed for a picture before a performance.

Cathy Carney tried out for the Revue with "I Honestly Love You."

The Glee Club presented a medley for all to enjoy.

The music department at MHS was one of the most outstanding last year. Their many performances around the community and school were widely accepted and enjoyed. They performed at the Elkes Club, New Teacher's Dinner, the open house for Bud and Bloom, Optomist Club, and PTO. They also treated the school to many concerts such as Christmas, Thanksgiving, Wagon Trails, Teen Angel Day, and the Variety Show. The chorus also went to contest and fared quite well by bringing home many firsts. They ended their busy year with the musical which they co-sponsored and their spring concert.

Varsity choir performed "Take Me Home Country Roads" in the Variety Show.

Mr. Jones conducted the Cadet Choir for one of their concerts.

Vicki Forsythe and Lynn Taylor practiced clucking for the Dumb Clucks.

Waving bye-bye as he slowly sank into the quicksand, King Sextimus warned Larken of the danger.

Winnifred gently yawned after her busy day of swimming moats.

Larken and Harry exchanged promises before Harry left on his quest for a princess.

Fred offered a solution to break the spell put on King Sextimus.

The Jester was planning a time when Dauntless and his father could have a talk.

The Queen and the Wizard discussed the final question as everyone else awaited the reading.

Last year's musical, which was performed on the 25th and 26th of April, was the hilariously funny comedy "Once Upon A Mattress." The actors and actresses thoroughly enjoyed doing it and the audiences seemed to have enjoyed it even more. Many months of hard work went into this production, and it all paid off in the end. The cast received a standing ovation both nights it was performed, and that made it worth all the time and effort that went into it.

Colleen Orender and Duane Davis were drum majors for last year's band.

Trumpeteer Harold Goldsberry marched with the band at Martinsville.

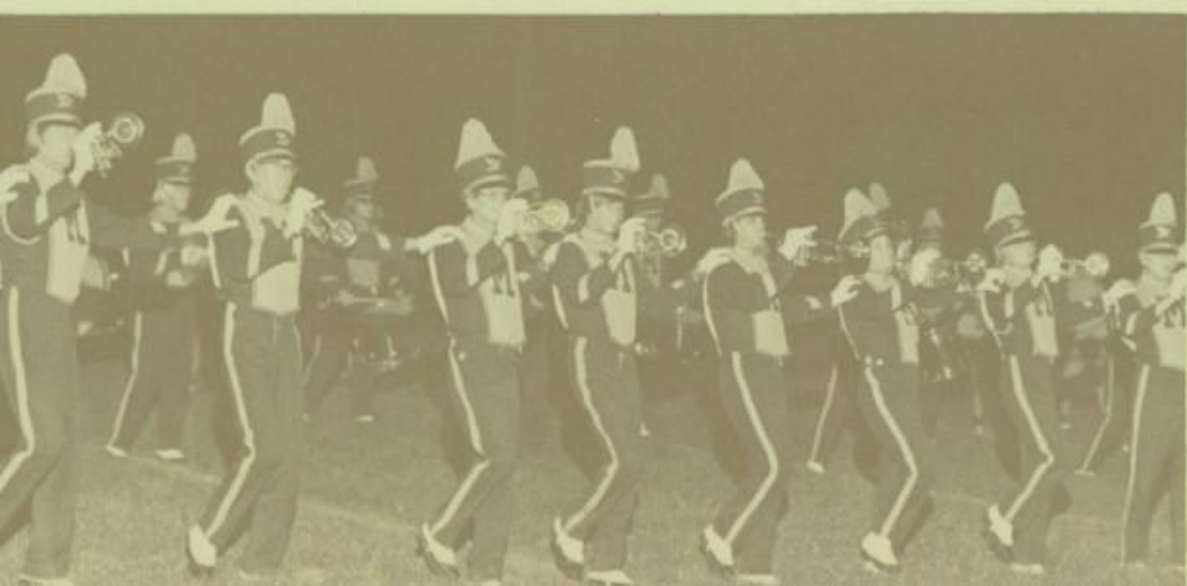

The MHS Marching Pioneers put on a superb show at the '74 State Fair. This performance was just the beginning of one of their busiest years. The band and the Kadettes presented many unique routines for all the home football and basketball games throughout the year. They also went to contest and brought home many first place medals and trophies. Their major contribution to last year's festivities was the Musical Varieties of 1975. They ended their year with the selection of a new Kadette corps and a Spring concert.

Kadette Shirley Hall portrayed "Dopey" in the Revue.

Tim Edwards played the sax for Pep band at the games.

The Kadettes awaited the starting whistle at the State Fair.

Jeana Palmer and Vickie Mynatt were escorted by Paul Gregory for an afternoon stroll.

Kent Sterrett had a trumpet solo with the Concert Band.

A jazz number under the black light was performed by the kadettes.

VARIETY SHOW

The Dance band played many numbers that appealed to all.

Kim Linn portrayed each member of the "Slick" family as an MC.

The Kadettes made a train for one of their dances in the show.

Paul Gregory was a talent scout for the Variety Show.

The Musical Varieties of 1975 was the highlight of last year for band members and kadettes. Their skits, dances and songs were appreciated by all ages. Although, it was delayed a day by snow, it was one of the best ever. Attendance was not hampered by this fate of weather. Paul Gregory and Kim Linn were MC's with many acts featuring the "Slick" family.

EXPRESSIONS

Mike Holtsclaw built the sets for all the productions of Drama Club.

Making and selling pottery was a money-making project for art club.

Becky Smitherman and Kim Linn were Mouseketeers in the Revue.

The fine arts were accentuated in both Art Club and Drama Club. Painting, creating, acting, and communicating were foundations the clubs built on. Creativity was the key to being involved and appreciating the activities each group offered, and on top of it all, they were fun.

The cast from the melodrama, "The Farmer's Daughter" by Drama Club.

The art club's Halloween party was quite successful.

Mark Western stopped the villain, Dan Scharbrough, from harming his girl.

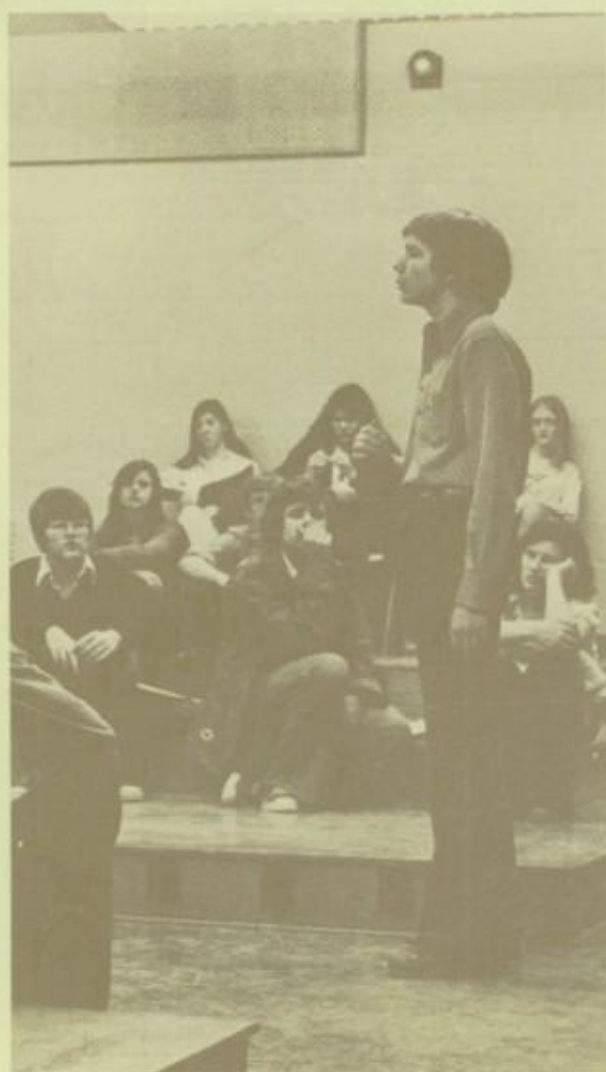

Julie Prescott decorated the art club Christmas tree in the front lobby.

The floor was a good working place for newspaper co-editor, Linda Weaver.

Speech team members had a strange way of unwinding after a tough meet.

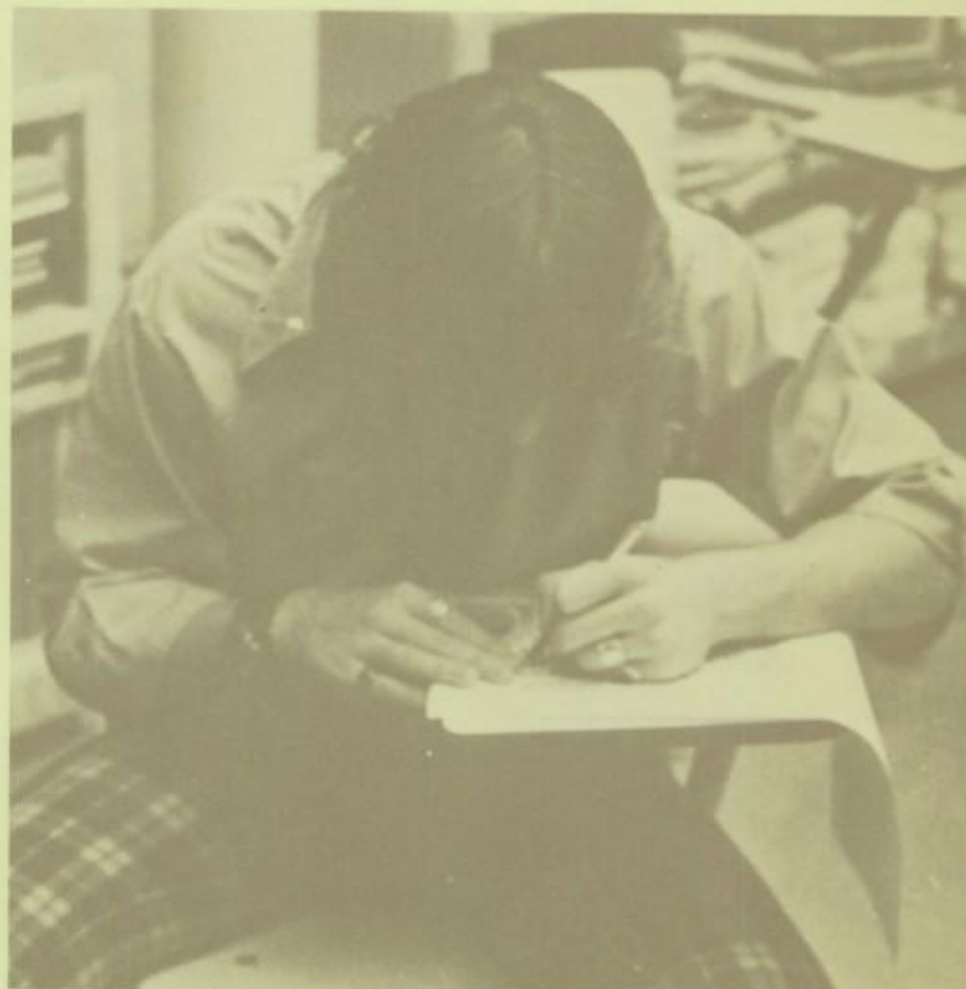

Steve Hadley anxiously awaited round scores at a speech meet.

Underclass English students listened as Steve Smith presented his speech.

Speech team members received room cards from their advisor, Mrs. Stewart.

At deadline time, Campus Crier staff member Bill Headley worked on headlines.

Much preparation went into the Crier by Julie Bowman and co-editor Rheba Western.

Speaking out was what Campus crier and the Speech team tried to promote. The speech team was coached by Mr. Bradshaw and they had a very successful season. They also visited the Jr. High to inform the students about the speech program along with a special program for the Freshmen. Campus Crier, although they had problems with the printing press managed to put out a few very fine newspapers. Speaking out was what it was all about.

PARTICIPATION

Mrs. Snapp joined in the fun on Teen Angel day by dressing up.

The leg contest on Daddy Date night was quite funny.

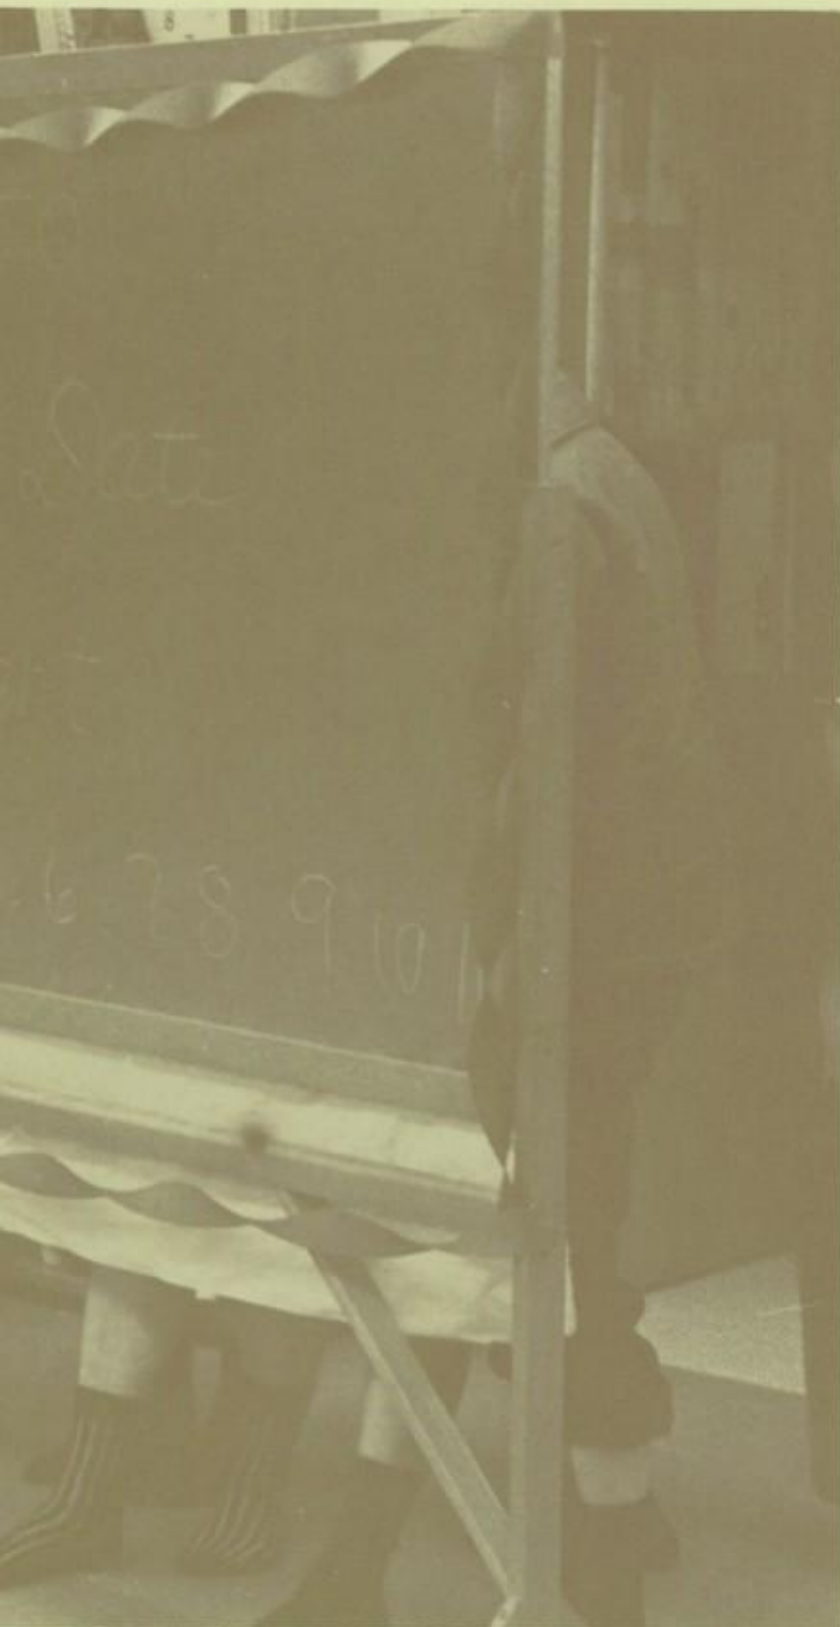

Sheila Cox and Pam Coffey displayed their 50's outfits.

Concentration was needed for the games of Daddy Date night.

Brenda Gass and Jody Cartmell discussed a minor problem.

FHA was one of the most active clubs last year. They not only did things for the school, they also visited the nursing home every month to celebrate the birthdays of the residents. FHA sponsored Brownie Week in February and was a delight for the faculty, and Daddy Date night, which involves the fathers and daughters. For the benefit of the school the annual Teen Angel Day took place ending with a very exciting 50's dance that was enjoyed by all who attended.

Displays were used to campaign for new FHA members.

Donna Davisson awaited another customer at the chili supper.

Looking very hurried, Diane Weber served at the FHA Chili Supper.

Kitti Swinney had to keep score for the home tennis meets as a Netette.

On a cold spring day, Vickie Mynatt and Kim Hankins kept the score box.

Beth Henderson held the post as Duane Davis high jumped.

The Mat Maids hung a "Victory" clothesline for a pep session.

Keeping score with mittens on proved quite a task for Diana Martin.

One of the jobs for Trackette, Janet Waddell, was holding the finish line.

The Netettes sponsored a ping pong tournament during the lunch periods.

Mat Maid, Sheryl Wiser, recorded scores for '75 Sectionals.

Four dedicated groups of sports minded girls aided their teams each season by keeping the stat-charts and generating school spirit for that sport. Netettes, Mat Maids, Bat girls, and Trackettes supported the Pioneer athletes and helped the coaches whenever possible.

LEADERSHIP

Mrs. Roberts discussed Honor Society tapping with current members.

Honor Society members dressed for Halloween and presented a Goblin Gram to Mr. Grosskreutz's class.

All representatives listened while Kerry Jacobs proposed a solution during a Student Council meeting.

Homecoming Queen Toni Martin presented 1st place for floats to senior class president Greg Finch.

The leaders of the school were shown through National Honor Society members and Student Council representatives. They both tried to promote many ideas that would benefit the school. Student Council sponsored Homecoming and summer jobs for students. Honor Society tried to boost school spirit through posters and skits. These members are selected by the faculty on the basis of scholarship, character, leadership, and service. Student Council representatives run for office and are selected by the students to represent them.

The wrestling team presented the trophy from Mid-State to Student Council president Ann Barnett.

To receive a Goblin Gram was quite an honor, especially for a freshman girl.

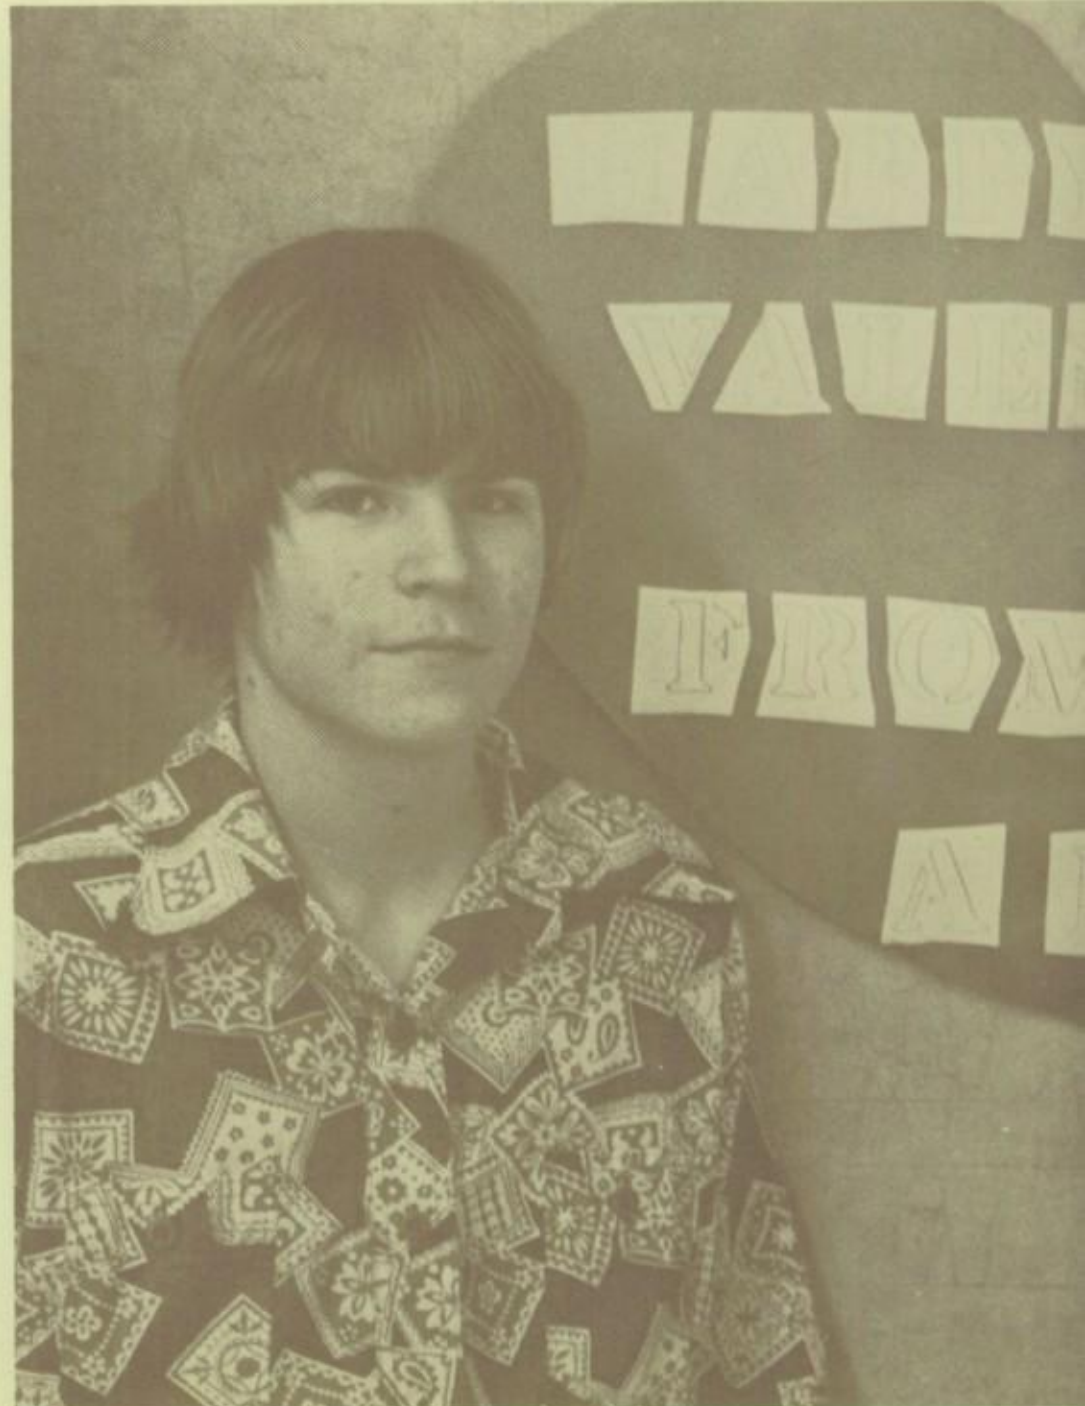

German Club showed their spirit by decorating a car for the homecoming parade.

One of the feats for Spanish Club initiation was to play leap frog in study hall.

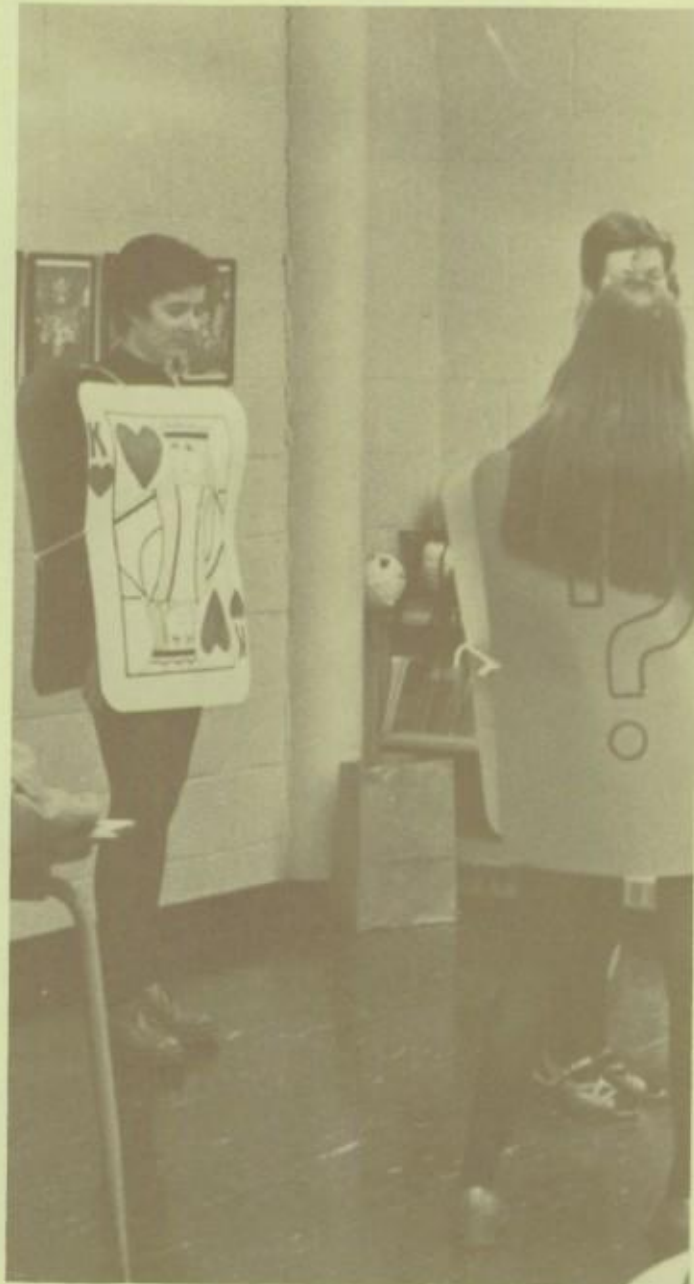

This team won the valentine making contest at the AFS Valentine party.

Twister was an activity for all to play at the French Valentine party.

Brenda Grass and Jody Cartmell dressed up as cards for a French Club party.

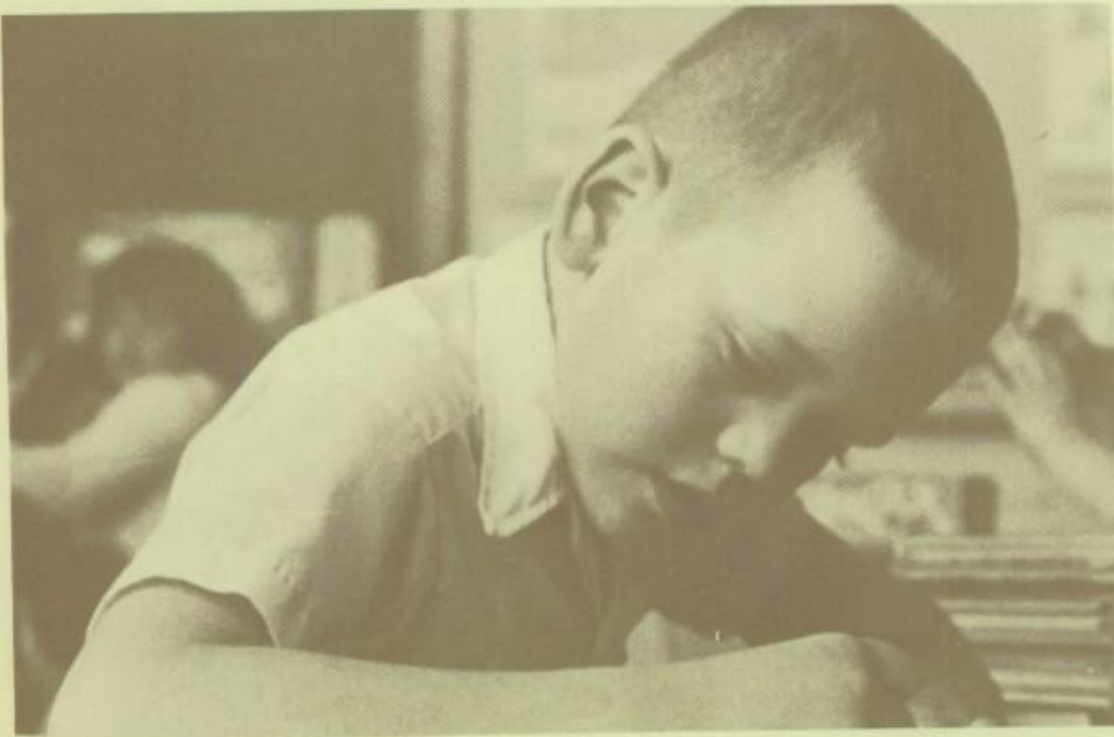

Mike Bastin made a valentine for foreign exchange student, Penny Bolton. Penny was from South Africa.

An international flavor was added to MHS through such clubs as Spanish Club, French Club, German Club, and AFS. Students in these clubs learned the languages and customs of many countries and got to know our foreign exchange student. Foreign dinners and Old World traditional parties were all part of these organizations.

PREPARATION

Whether to look at the photographer was the topic of Cheryl Damon and her students.

A. A young man worked diligently on an exercise given by his cadet teacher. B. Jeff Pierson explained a geological map to his class.

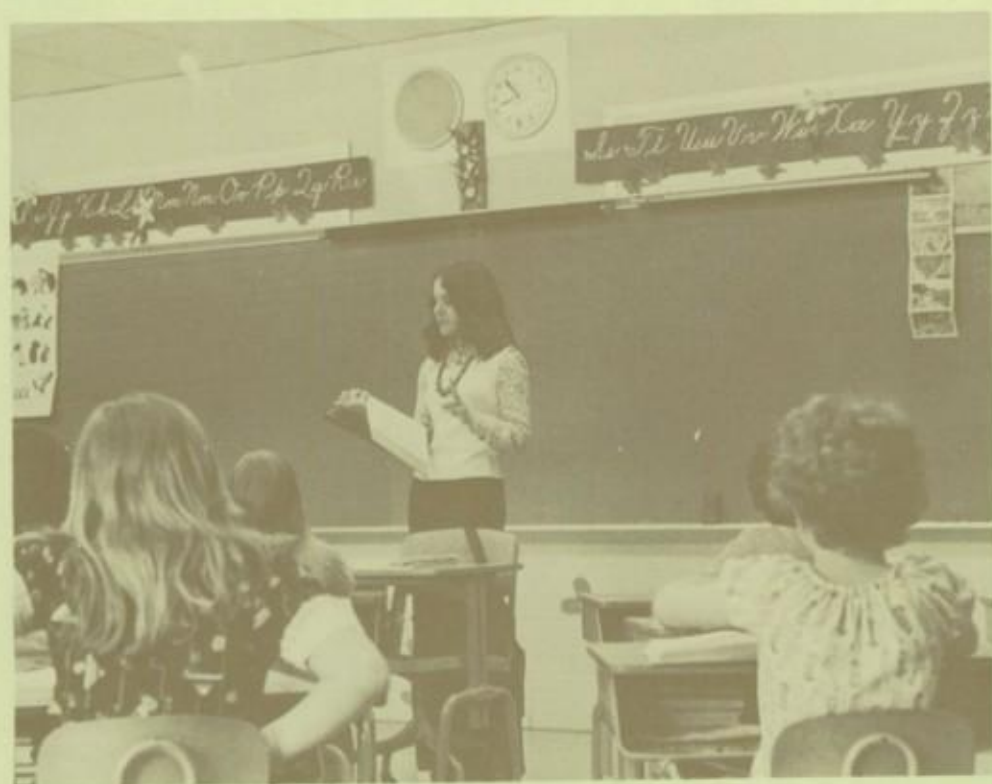

In preparation for a career in teaching, Seniors may go to one of the grade schools or Jr. High school for a period of each day and teach. Eleven students took advantage of this opportunity and experienced some unusual situations. They varied in the grades taught along with subject matter. From 7th and 8th grade physical education to 1st grade music and art. It was quite rewarding.

Sarah Gregory assisted one of her students with an assignment.

Scott Overholser read the material given to him by Beth Whitaker.

A. Dietra Sears read aloud to her class.
B. They proceeded to go on from there on their own.

David Thatcher watched as his partner gained a man in a checkmate.

The dissection of a frog was a project done in science club.

Precision was of main concern with Kerry Murphy and Penny Threlkeld.

CONCENTRATION

Which way to move to gain, appeared to be a topic question in this match.

Greg Finch, Jody Cartmell, and Larry Ferguson did an intriguing experiment.

No. 1 man on the chess team attempted to beat his opponent.

Concentration played a major role in the successes of checkmate and a complete chemical reaction. Chess club was an opportunity to learn strategy in playing qualified opponents and traveling to different schools to meet new competition. Science club gave students the opportunity to expand their science interests in a series of experiments and visited two natural science museums in Chicago.

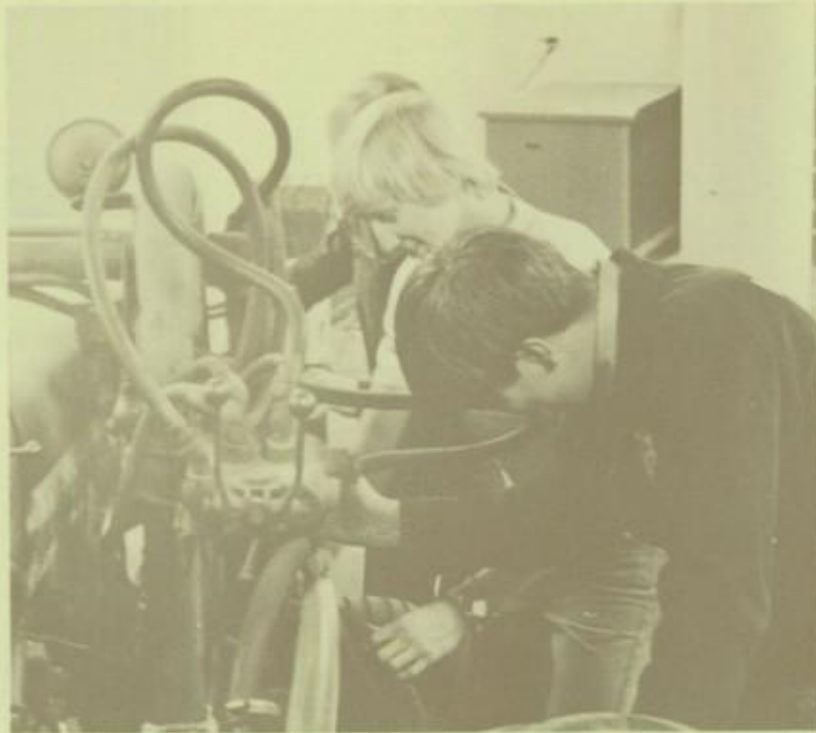

MOSTLY MALES

Many clubs escorted the team mascot, Mighty Joe Young, during the year.

Ronnie Wright sold ice cream during lunch to make money for Lettermen.

Although Women's Lib was far from dominant in some formerly all-male clubs, the female population was expanding into such clubs as Lettermens Club. FFA has not yet been approached by a female wishing membership but after learning about the many activities these organizations sponsor, girls may soon be seen at FFA district contests or readying pies for the Lettermens pie eating contest.

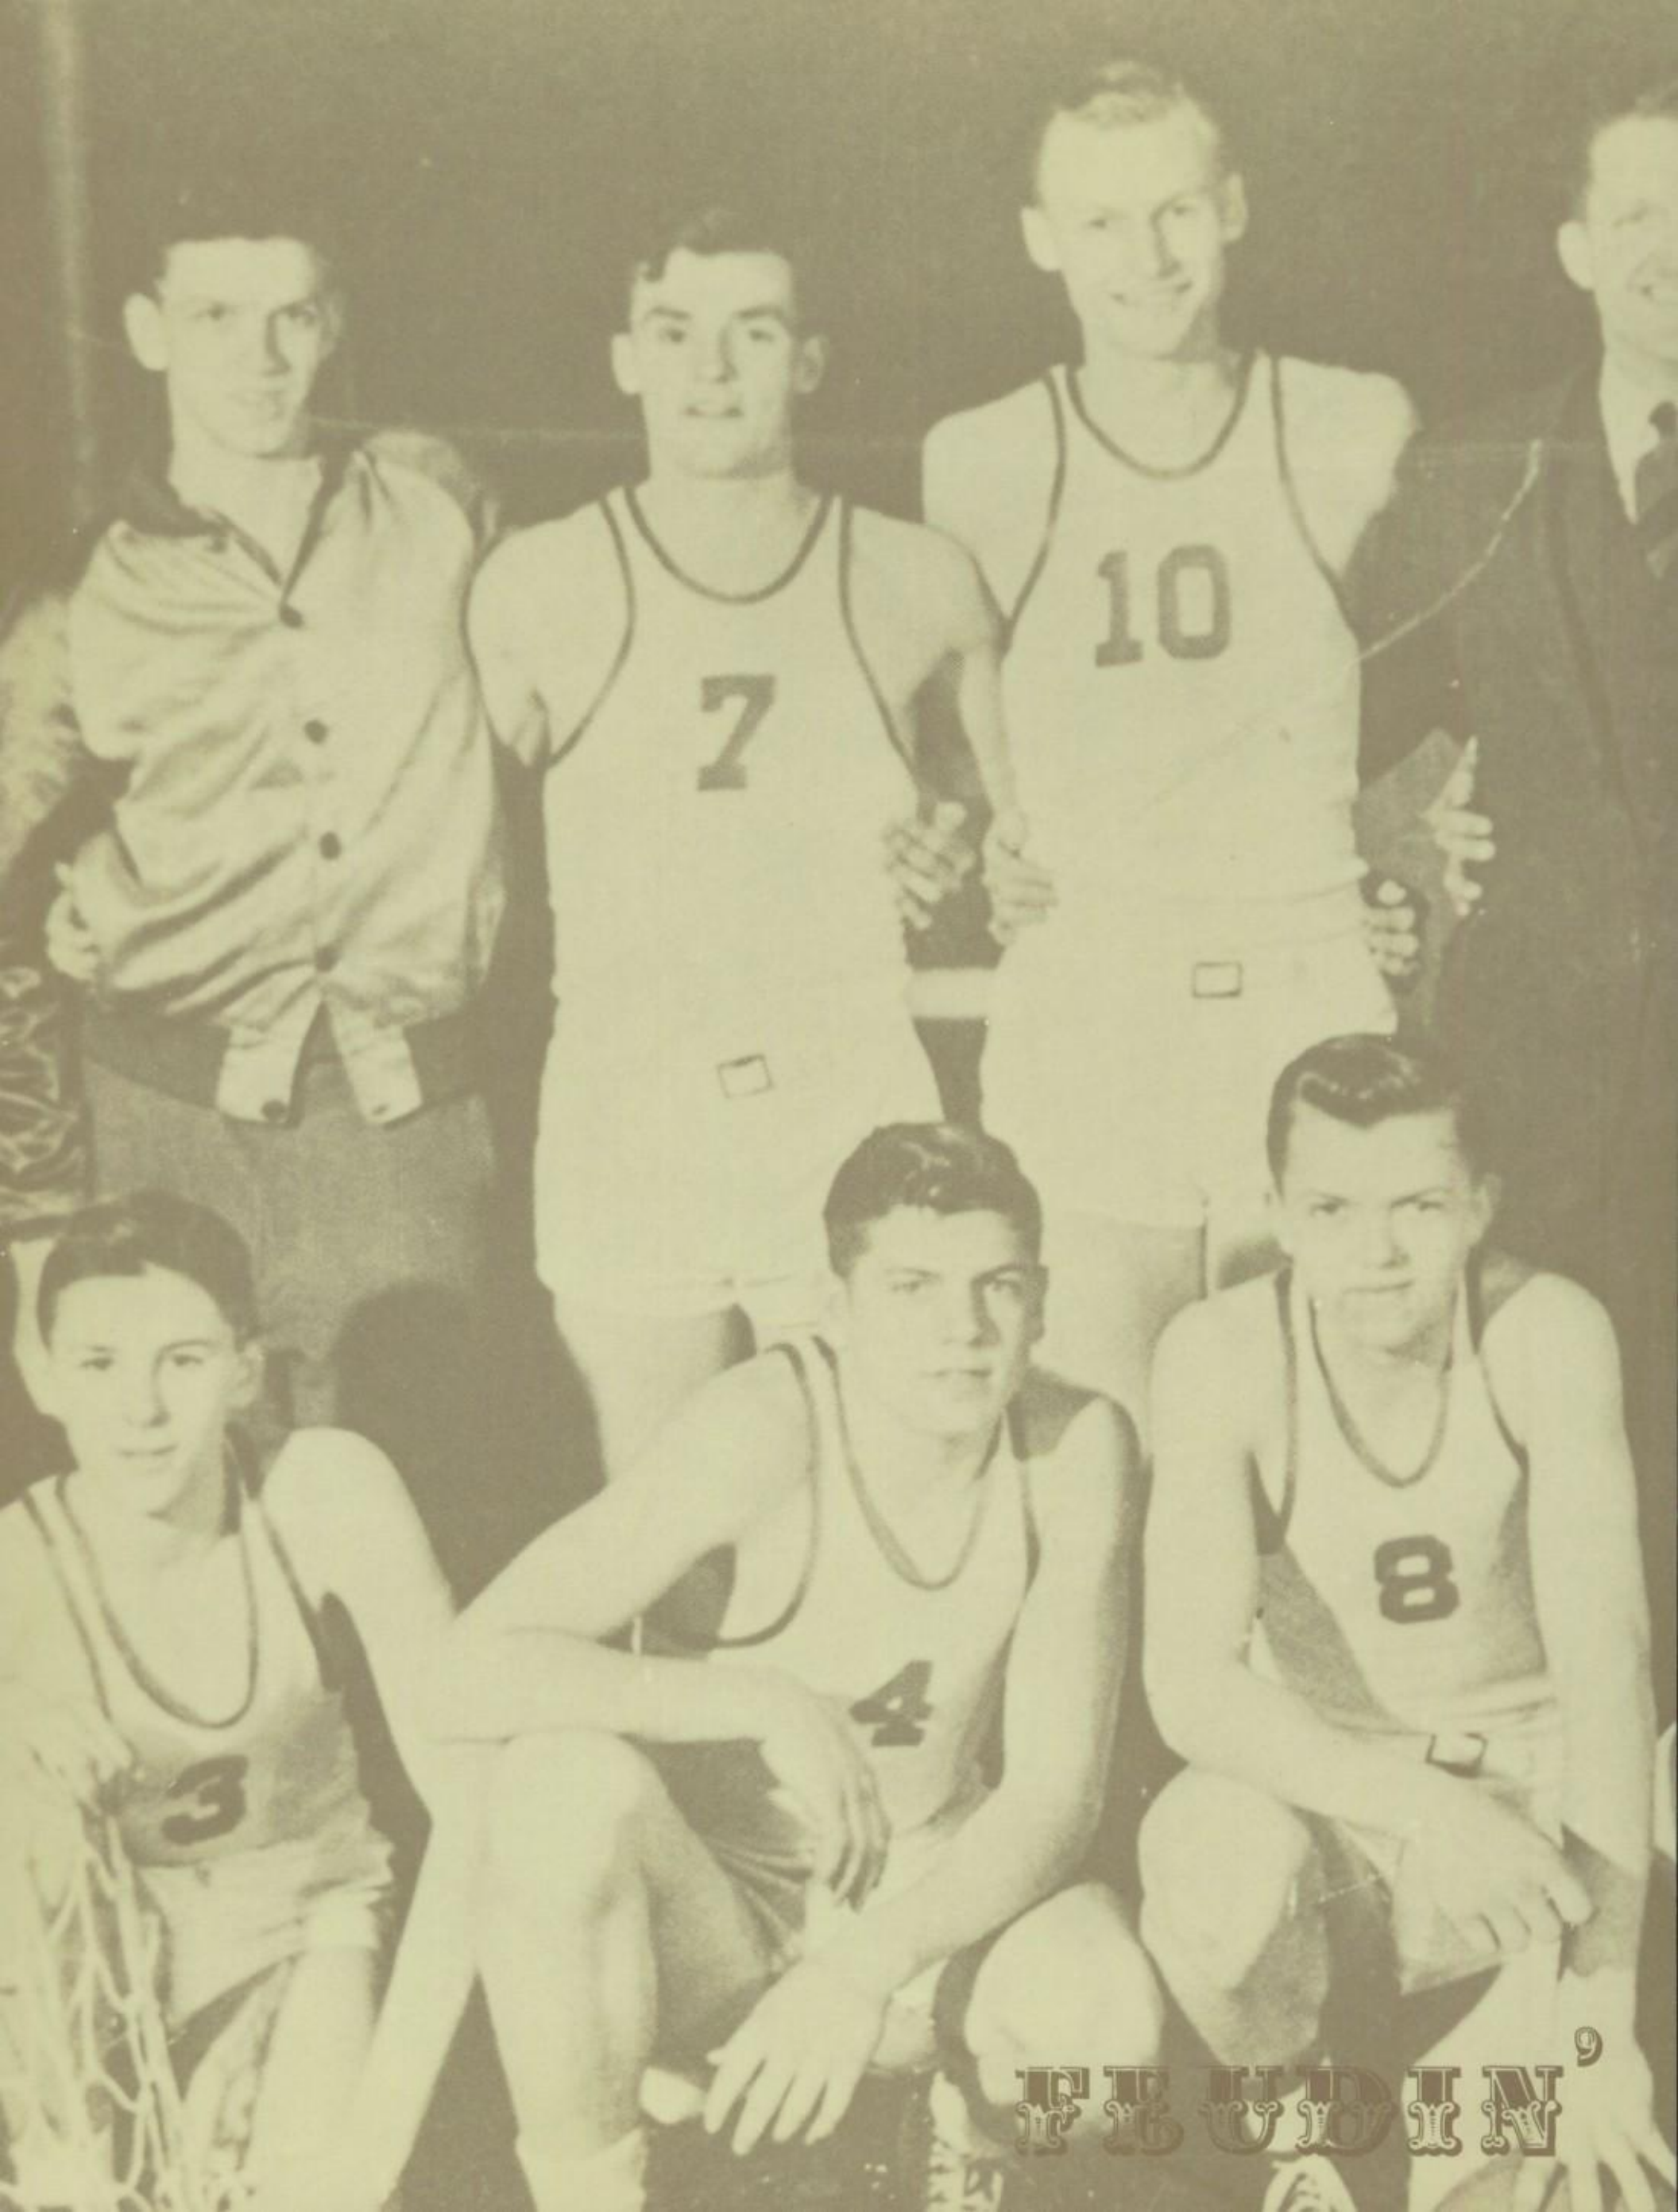

The contestants prepared for the starting of the pie eating contest.

FFA member Jeff Limbach worked to tune up a tractor.

FFA President Ronnie Wright conducted all meetings.

Members responded to questions put to them about FFA.

We ran and played and wrestled in the pasture, sometimes getting out the burlap sacks and using them for bases when we played baseball. Sometimes we fought — our gang against one from the valley. Sometimes in fun, sometimes for real. We'd see who could run the farthest or jump the highest. "I'll race you to the barn, but you can't jump the creek!" With time came organizations and honors. The glory of being the best.

Our young cross-country team compiled a record of 3 wins and 8 losses in dual competition for the 1974 fall season. In three-way meets, the team made fine showings with 3 seconds and 1 third for first-year coach, Dan Havens.

The cross country runners placed 4th in the Brownsburg Invitational, 9th in the Brazil Invitational, and 9th in the Mid-State. They also did well in the Bloomington Class Run, with times of 14:04 by Phil Sheets; 14:21 by Tim Crist; 15:40 by Jeff Edwards and Dan Quillen; and 16:32 by Dan Peasley.

Returning lettermen were: seniors Phil Sheets, Jeff Edwards, and sophomore Tim Crist. Runners receiving varsity letters this year were: Mark Williams, Dan Quillen, Dan Peasley, Nick Racic, and Jim Roddy. Scott Hicherson received his freshman numerals.

Jeff Edwards ran first and second places for the Harriers.

Tim Crist, a sophomore placed well throughout the year.

Mark Williams was able to pick up his varsity letter this year.

Senior Bill Headley awaited another pass from quarterback, Blackwell.

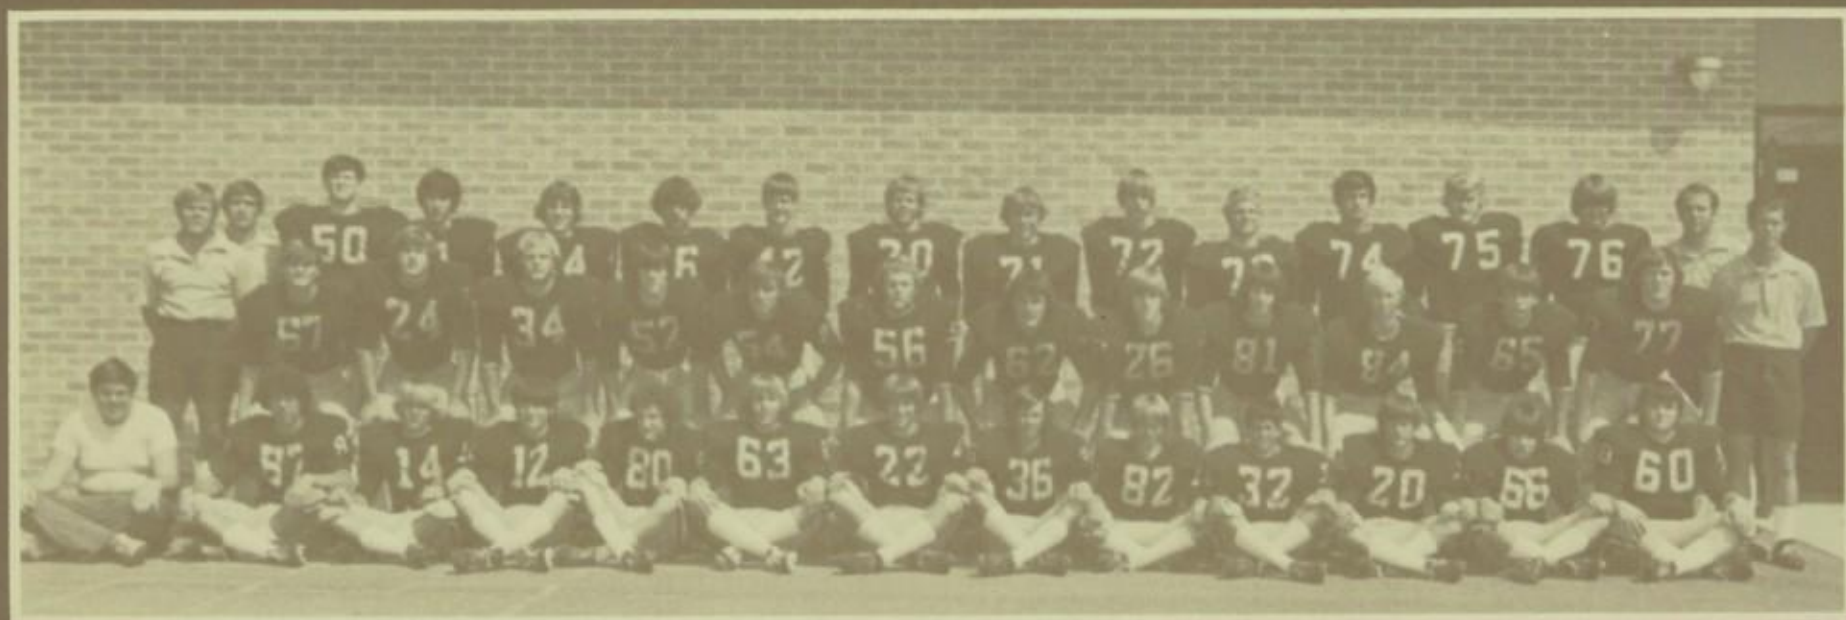

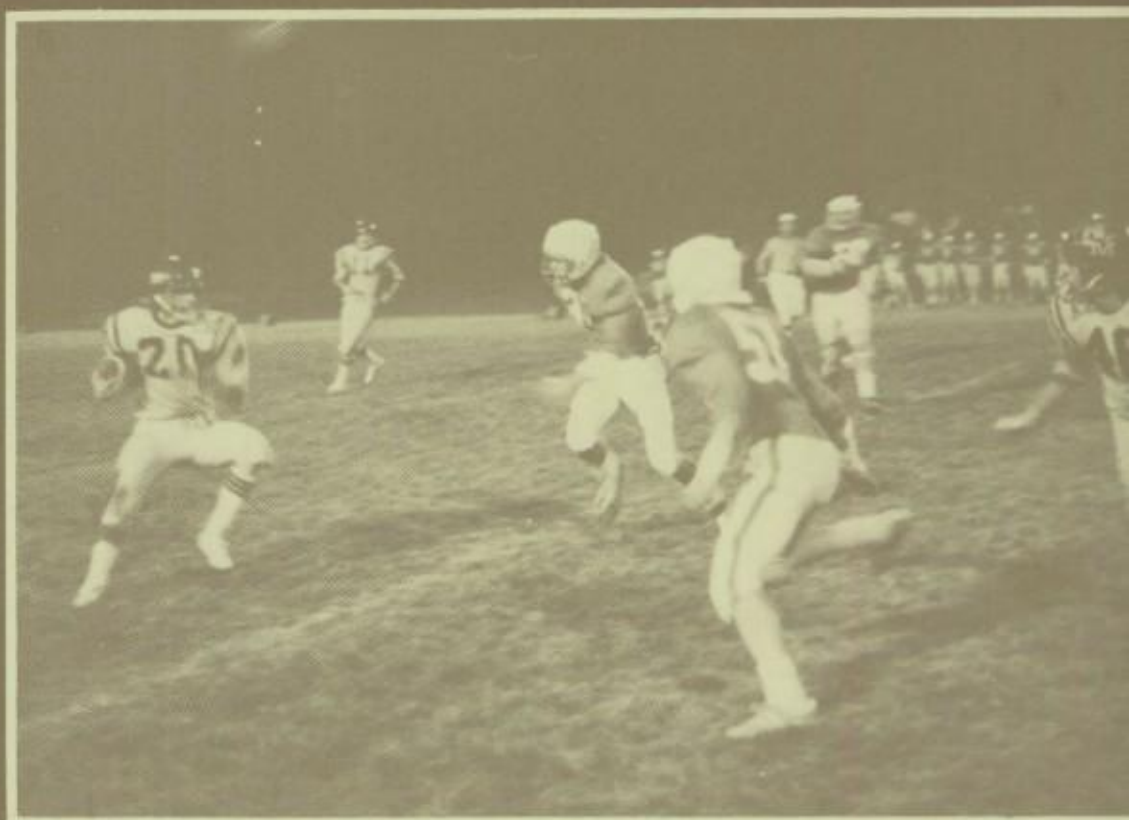

Sophomore Doug Opel, against Plainfield, had many fine rushes.

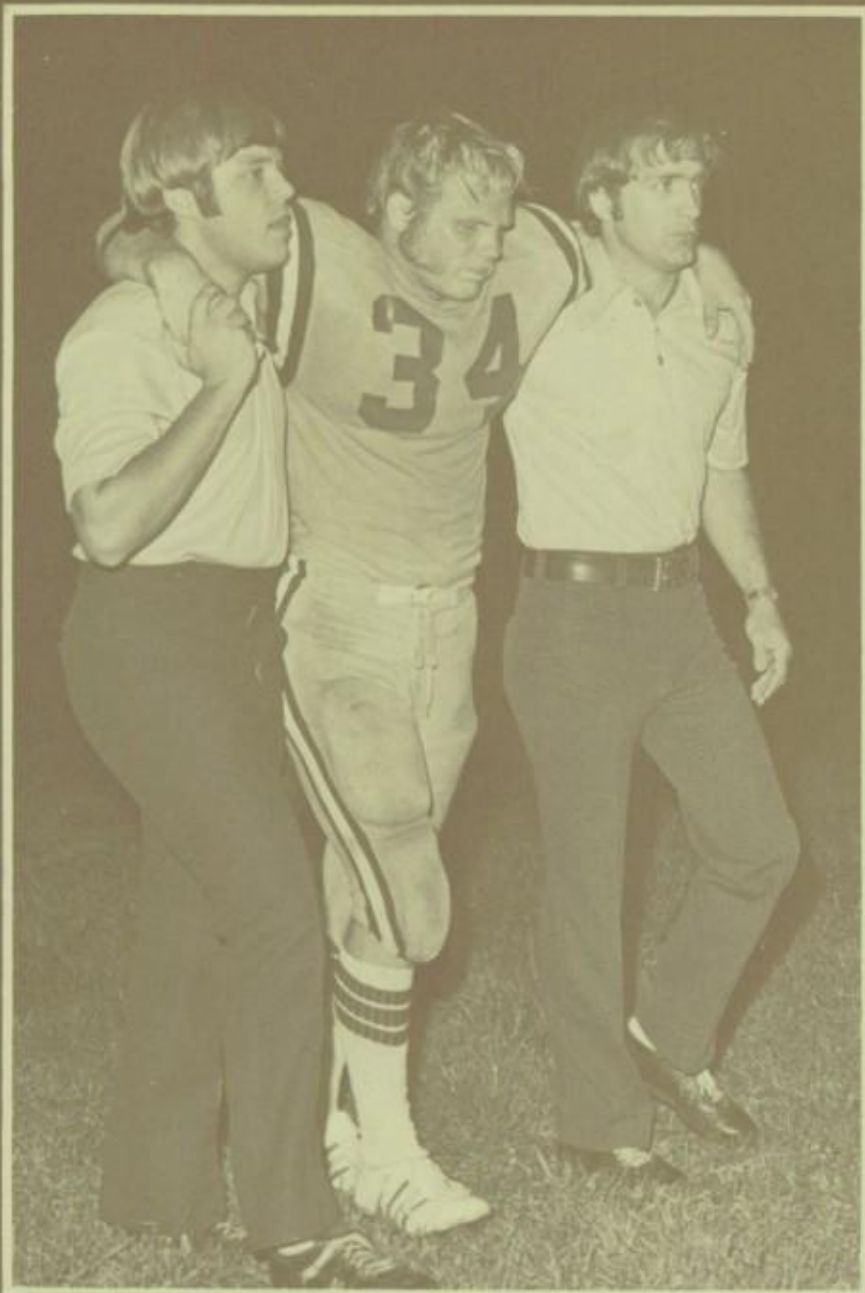

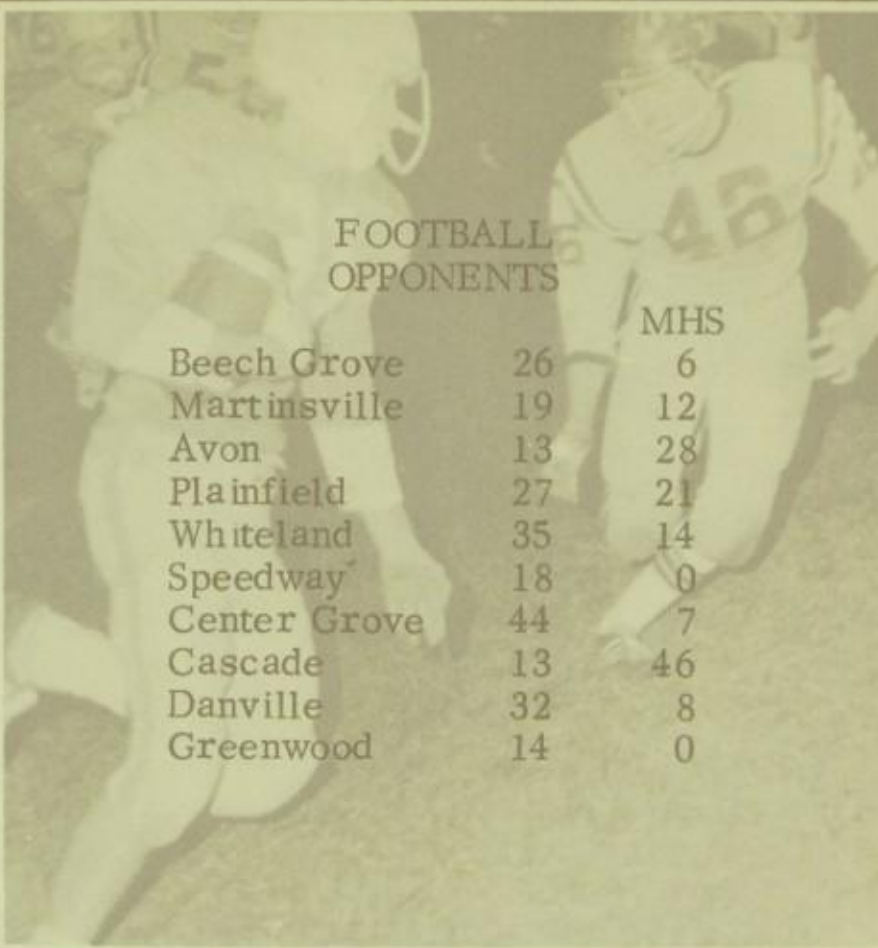

The 1974 Mooresville High School Varsity Football Team.

Under new coaching and new ideas, the Pioneer football team was victorious twice and defeated eight times. Despite the losing season, much experience and determination arose for the upcoming 1975 season. The record does not show the value and ability of the team, as they played many good games; for example - Mooresville vs Martinsville. Against a powerful Artesian football squad, the MHS team performed eye to eye but came up short in the final minute. The MHS, Plainfield clash showed that the team had effort and pride but again were defeated in the final seconds.

Coach Pope is looking to 1975 and eighteen returning lettermen.

Highlights of the season were winning the first three out of four games, including a 20-6 victory over Plainfield.

Ray Garner received his award for winning another reserve tourney.

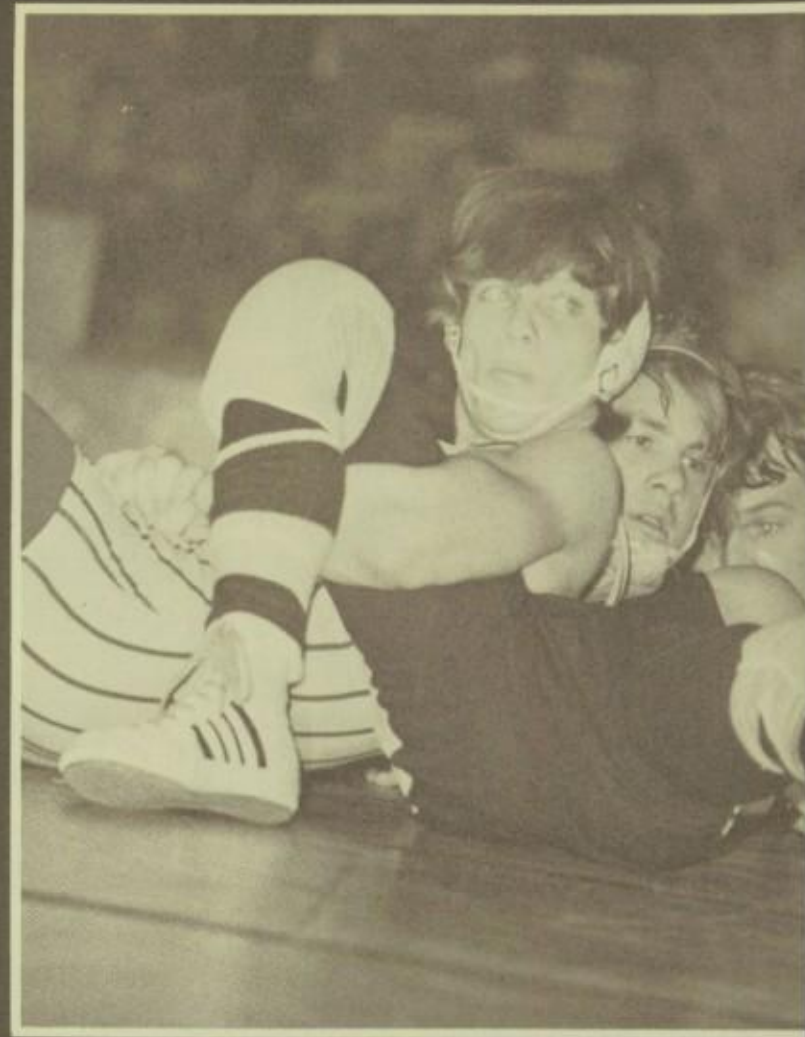

Karl Wetzel, junior, was victorious again after a rugged match.

1974-75 Reserve Wrestling Team

The reserve and freshmen wrestlers went undefeated last year. In fact, the junior high and varsity were also undefeated, a feat which is quite astonishing.

The reserve placed third in the Warren Central tournament and placed first in the Greenwood Invitational Tournament, while freshmen placed first in the Mid-State Tournament and first in the Center Grove Invitational Tournament. Coaches Everhart and Hershberger were very proud of the performances of their boys.

Our 1974-1975 Varsity Wrestling Team placed Mooresville on the map, as the polls had the Pioneers 3rd in the state. MHS also placed nine wrestlers in the regionals, with five of these going on to the state tournament.

At the end of the year the grapplers had chalked up an undefeated season and became Mid-State Champions.

Outstanding individual record holders were Paul Racic with a 26-1 record, Jeff Graham 24-2, Mike Murphy 22-3, Eric Kriebel 23-3, and Ken DeLong 18-2.

Seven seniors compiled this fantastic Grappling team along with six juniors and three sophomores.

The tri-captains for the season were Racic, DeLong and Graham.

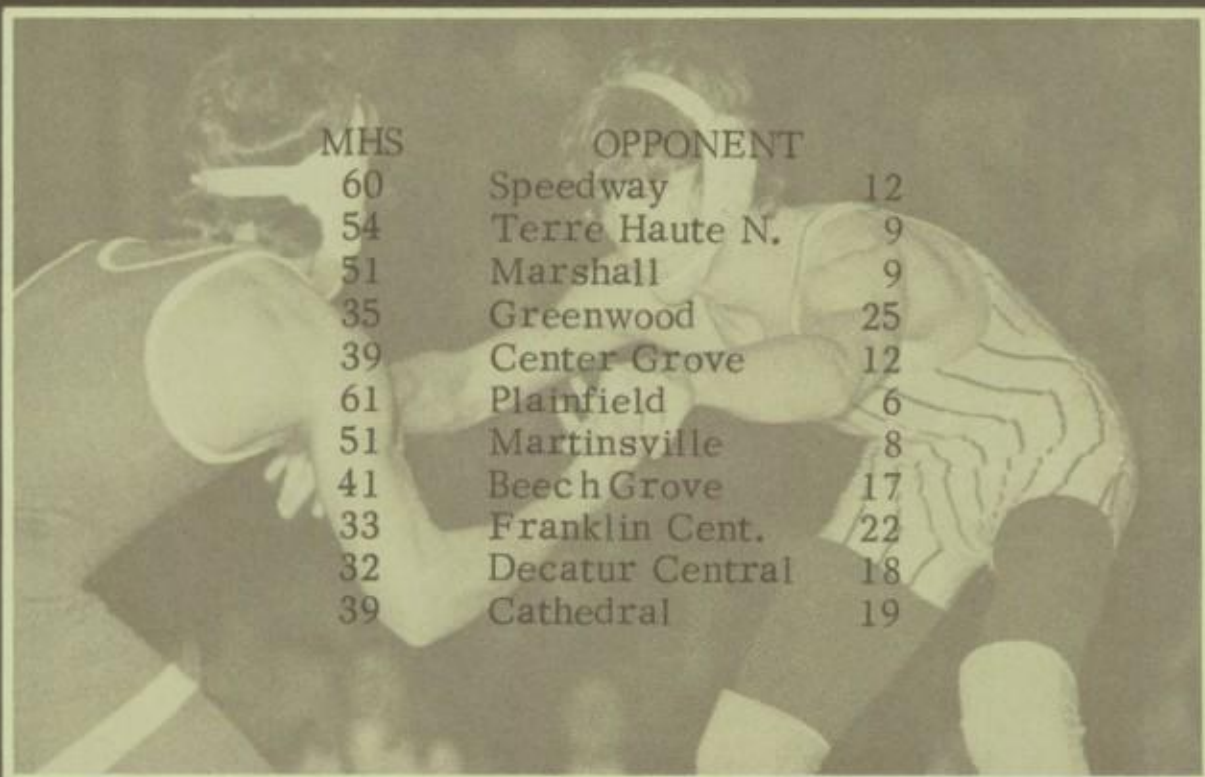

C. Junior Mike Murphy has his man in quite a predicament as he came on to win the match. D. Senior Chuck McKain had a winning position of his man. Chuck was also Sectional and Regional Champ. E. Tri-Captain Ken DeLong put the move on his Danville opponent. DeLong compiled a record of 18-2.

Last year's basketball team was full of enthusiasm and hustle. They compiled a record of 8-13 even though they were lacking in both size and experience. Coach Hammel's stress on defense accounted for many of these wins. Mooresville placed third in a competitive Frankfort Tournament and third in the Danville Invitational Tournament. Next year's basketball team will be quite strong as only two seniors are leaving and six returning lettermen will lead the squad. At the Winter Sports banquet, Chris Blackwell received the Most Valuable Player trophy. He also received the All-Conference and rebounding awards. Harold Goldsberry was given the Best Free Throw Percentage trophy. The two graduating seniors were Mike Bagley and Jim Curry.

This past season, our baseball team did rather well, compiling a record of 9 wins, 10 losses. Alan Camden was the main battery for the Pioneers, as he pitched in eleven of the nineteen games. Coach Silver was pleased with his team and expects another well-rounded team next year.

Eight lettermen, including: Don Perry, Alan Camden, Ron Wright, Bob Medsker, Doug Opel, David Thatcher, Pat Donovan, and Clay Jones, rounded off the team with experience and determination. Only 5 were seniors, which means many returning players to uphold the winning tradition of Sectional Champs!

The MHS tennis team compiled a fantastic record of 18 wins and 1 loss in dual meets, a 3rd consecutive Mid-State Championship, Runner-up in the IHSA Sectionals at Southport, and for the first time, a ranking of 9th in the state of Indiana.

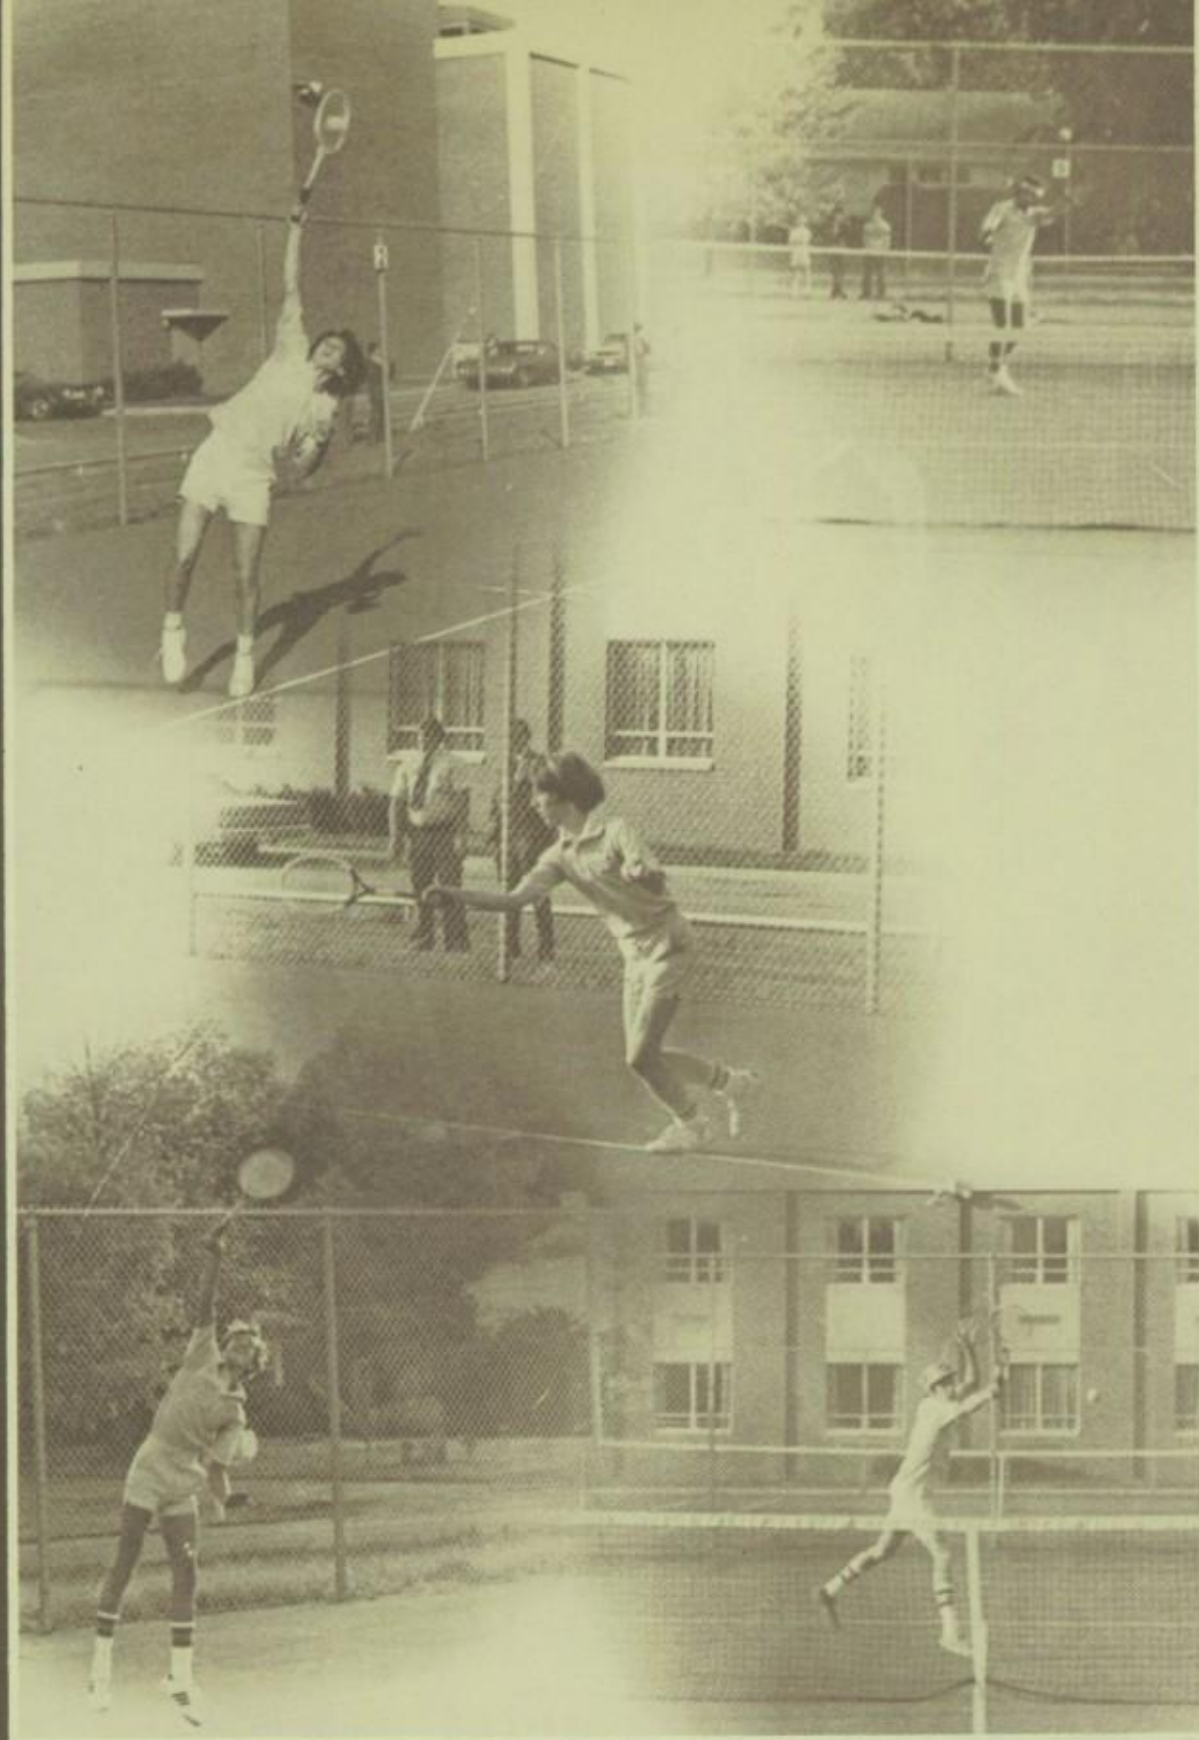

The team consisted of #1 Conference Champion and Sectional runner-up Mike Bagley; #2 Conference Champion and Sectional runner-up, Brad Adams; #3 Conference Champion and Sectional Champion, Greg Patchett; #4 Conference Champion and Sectional Champion, Harold Goldsberry; #5 Conference Champion and Sectional runner-up, Rick Squires, and Rick Moore. Greg Patchett, Harold Goldsberry, and Clay Jones are Juniors and will be returning next year.

Under eight year veteran coach Don Peters, the varsity tennis team has built a dynasty which will last for many years to come.

SSSTROKE

The freshman tennis team was very successful. They compiled a record of five wins to only one loss. At the end of the varsity season injuries and conflicts forced pressure upon these freshmen as they had to fill in on varsity. The freshmen biggest win was against Southport when they defeated them 7-6. Eddie Hall, Don France, Mike Gray, Robbie Hundertmark, Rick Allison and Brian Gunnell received their freshman numerals. Coach Don Peters remarked, "These freshmen will be a big part of the varsity team in the future."

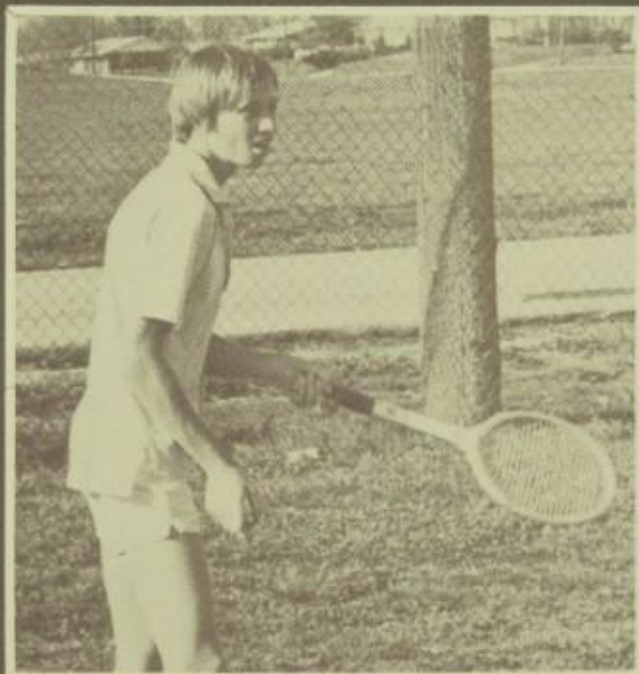

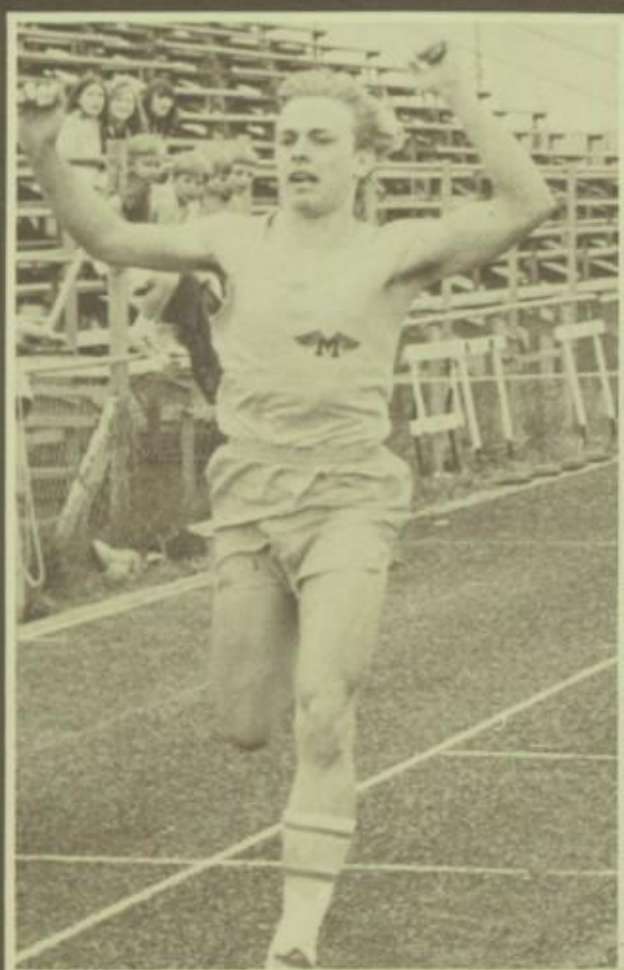

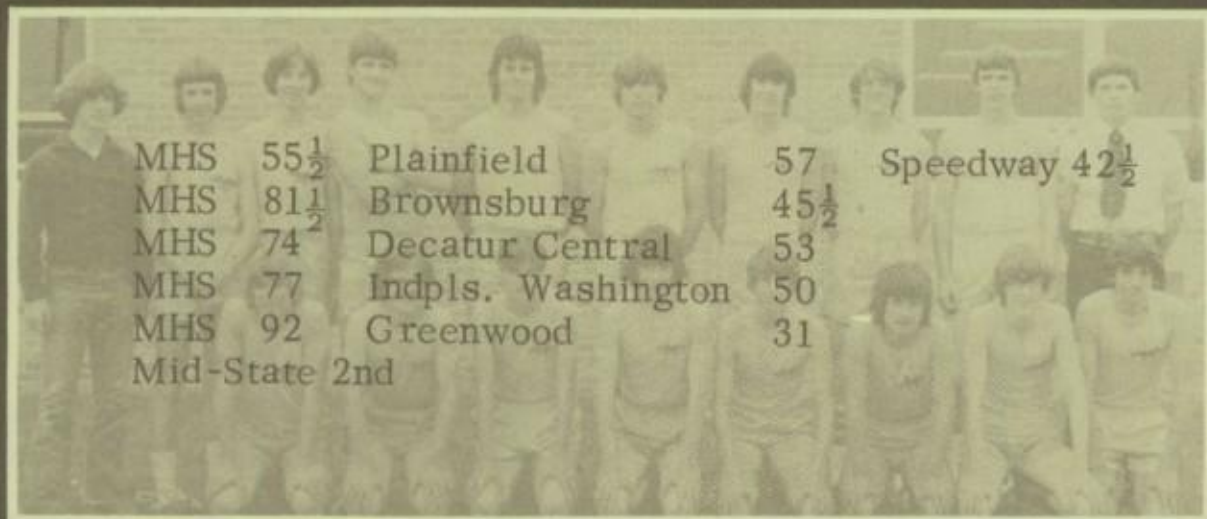

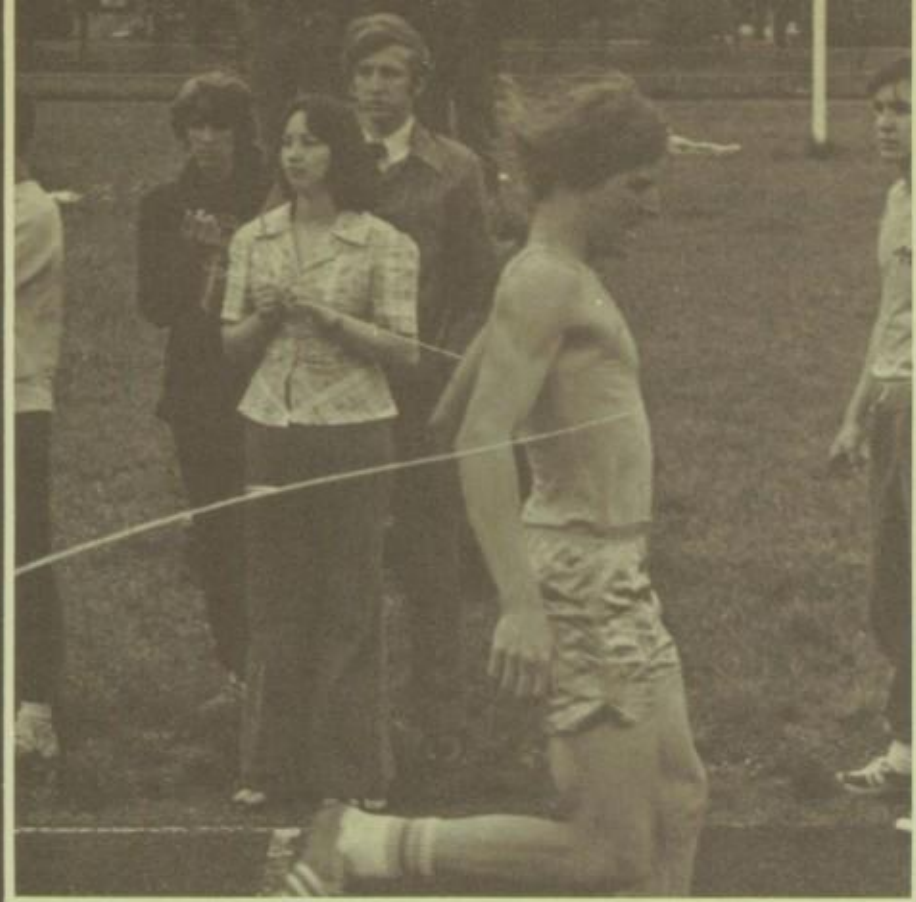

1975 Freshmen Tennis Team

Don France returned another fine shot.

No. 1 Eddie Hall scored a forehand volley.

Mike Gray displayed aggressiveness as he rushed the net.

Mike Bastin scored another first for MHS.

Greg Jones won the hurdles for MHS.

Tom Robling jumped for a record breaker.

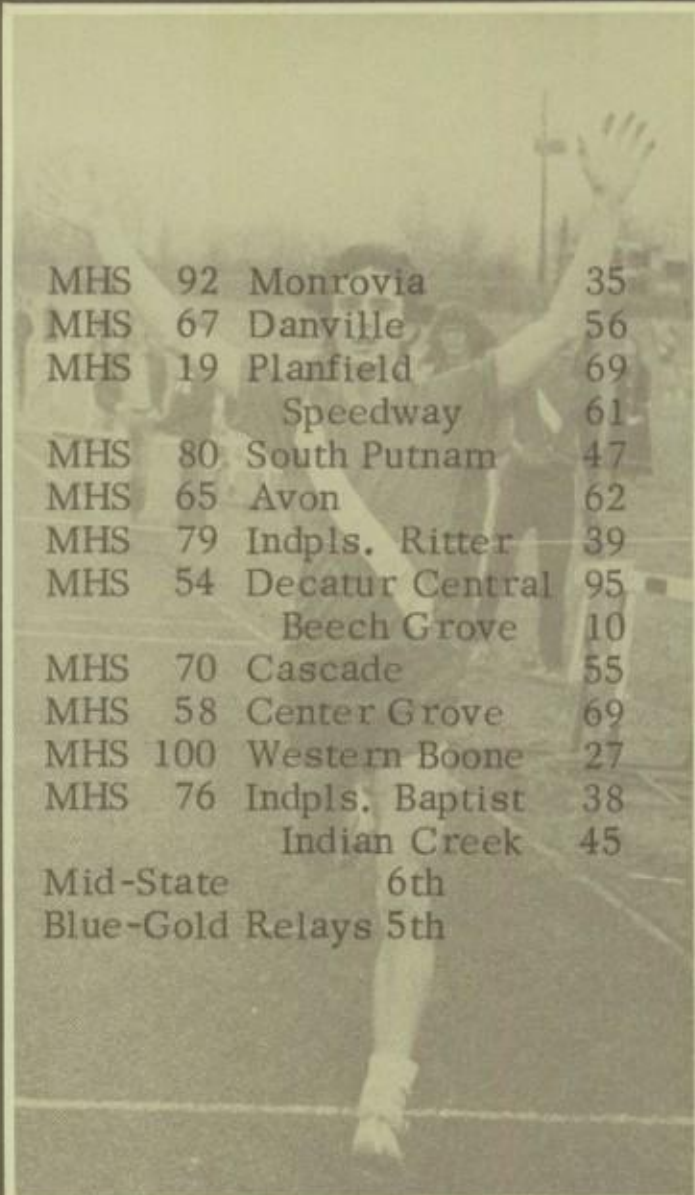

Brad Bailey broke the school record in the 220.

"Super" is the word for last year's freshmen. Not only did they compile a record of four wins to only one loss but many of these freshmen were moved up to varsity and won. Freshman Brad Bailey ran the 220 and also qualified for the regionals in that event. John Bailey broke the record for the high hurdle in 16.9 seconds. Pioneers placed second in the Mid-State to Plainfield. During the year they managed to tie or break ten freshman track records.

The Varsity Track team compiled a season total of 10 wins and 4 losses. Their most outstanding win was over Western Boone 100-27. Many fine times were clocked by several different runners. Jeff Edwards ran the mile in 4:29.9 which broke the old record set back in 1944, and the two mile in 9:51.9. The 880 yard relay team of Bailey, Byrnes, Stokely and Spoon ellapsed a time of 1:36.2.

Coach Hamm had fifteen lettermen on his team last year, which sparked them to this fine record.

Being able to express how one feels in words, drawings, or photographs is a great art. There were many students at MHS who were quite talented and few people ever knew. On the following pages some of their talents, their feelings are related to you, the reader, so that you will know just how special these people are.

Anne Carlisle

I shot an arrow to the moon
but it struck the cold dust and died.
I wasn't discouraged so soon to think that success was not mine when first tried.

I took my bow of silver make and slowly aimed my arrow high.
I vowed and swore the sphere to take and pull it to my yearning heart so nigh.

A silky golden yarn attached
the feathered bullet to my hand,
And so my arrow took the moon and the lifeless planet was now my land.

I gently pulled the silky cord to better view my gleaming star,
Yet as I tugged my silk string broke and the gleaming planet floated afar.

It slowly glided into place with awe I watched it light the sky.
It seemed to fit well out in space,
but as I watched a tear still filled my eye.

My moon so lovely and so bright.
It was mine! It belonged to me!
I loved it so, but my heart knew
My precious star would now always be free.

Spelling bees, hopscotch, hide-n-seek,
Who's got the button? Don't you peek!
Cinderella dressed in yella
Went upstairs to kiss her fella . . .
Remember the childhood days of old;
For childhood memories are made of gold.

Ring around the rosy and London Bridge is falling down;
and the last one down is a big fat clown.
Susie and Joey sittin' in a tree;
K-I-S-S-I-N-G.
Don't forget the childhood days of old;
For childhood memories are made of gold.

Swings, slides, and kickball games.
Johnny Walker is calling me names.
I brought my puppy for Show-n-tell.
Lemonade, 10¢ a glass, for sale.
Please record our childhood days of old;
For the childhood memories are the best we hold.

If you were a Daisy
I'd want to pick you
But I wouldn't
I'd dig you up, roots and all,
and put you in a big window box with a hundred of your friends,
just to keep you company.

Then, I'd care for you forever,
and ever.
Protect you from the wind
but not smuther you.
Protect you from the pounding rain
but not starve you.
Protect you from freeze, and cold,
and snow, and hail.
I'd love you.

I'm the dirt
and from me you'd bloom.

You are special,
because you are my Love.
You are my light,
as, to the Shepard, were the stars above.

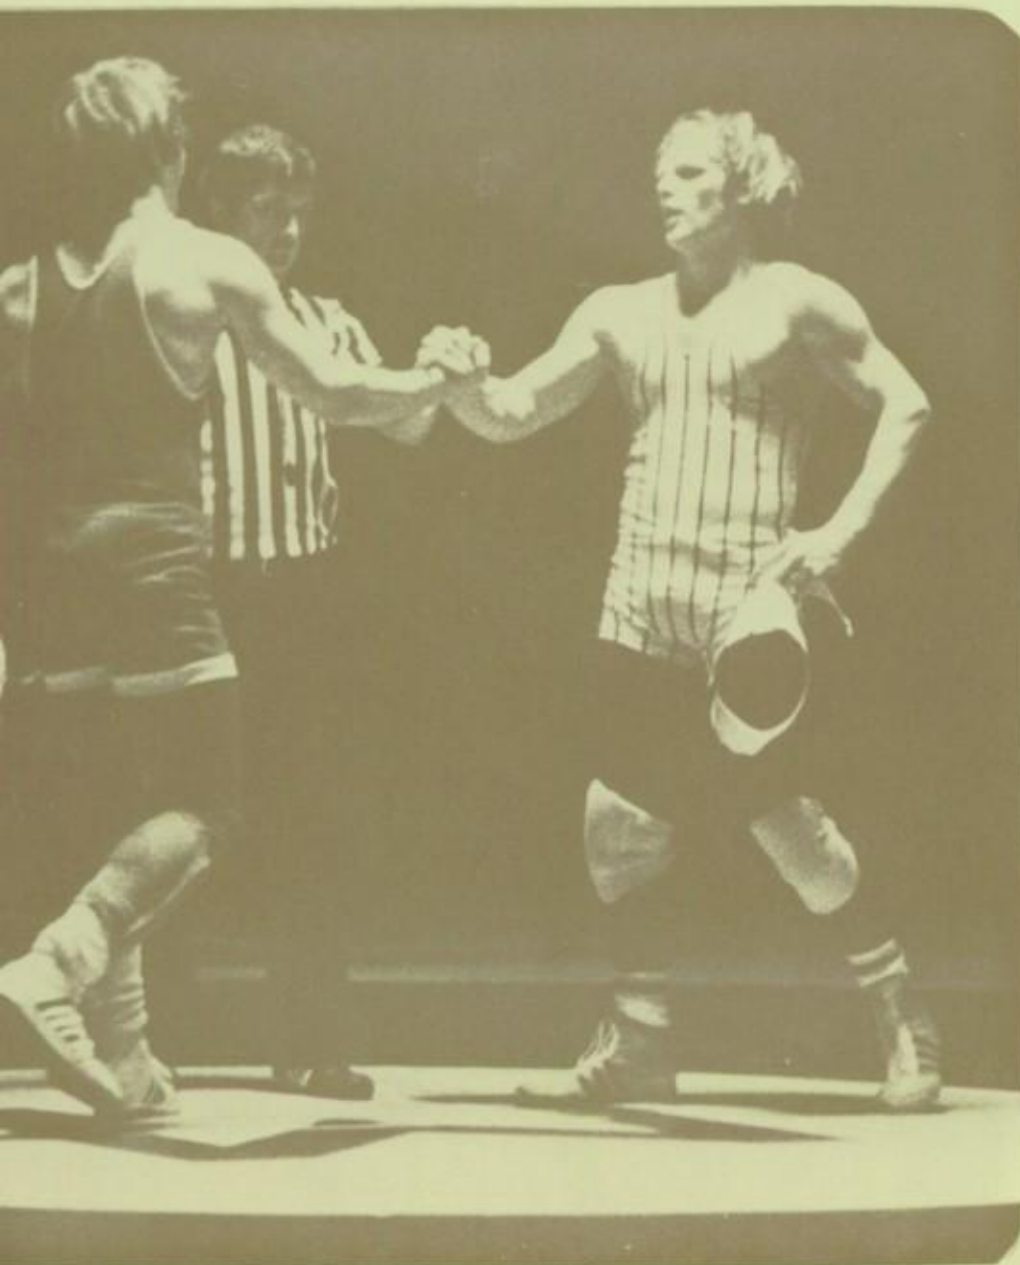

You are my light,
my guiding star.
You will always make sure,
I don't stray too far.

When I am down,
You touch my hand.
I tell you my problems,
and you understand.

Then, to make me happy,
You stand there and smile.
That is when it seems like my heart leaps out a mile.

You are always there,
to catch my heart.
And then we are able,
to get another start.

You are special,
because you are my Love.
You are my light,
as, to the shepard, were the stars above.

I like all sorts
of all kinds of sports;
basketball
tennis
ping-pong football baseball soccer
rugby

wrestling and more!

More than anything though
I like to talk to you.

All my yellows turn to blue,
And my thoughts are a kaleidoscope of reason and emotion.
I feel my world, not at all.
I can see, yet my eyes are closed.
Starkness is gone, but the memory lingers,
Cutting my conscious like thousands of sparks unleashed.
My body is weightless
But dragged to the bottom of a never-ending hole
by my dreams.
And all my yellows turn to blue.

The tracks are rusty
The grounds are bare
No longer do the voices
Of happy children fill the air

The ferris wheel
No longer goes round
Everything is silent
Not one single sound

No more
Does the barker cry,
"Step right up,
Hit the clown with a pie!"

There is no sideshow
No more wonders of the worlds
That used to frighten
Innocent little girls.

No my friend . . . There is no sadder thing
In the present or from the past
Than when a carnival
Has breathed its' last

ALBUM

In the evening, after the supper dishes were put away, Mama would make popcorn, and we would all sit on the big, round rug and look at the Family Album. We held it carefully, for in it were all our dearest memories of those we loved.

Class of '75

Robert Grosskreutz and Lesette Harrington, class sponsors, seemed to be envious of the Seniors when graduation drew near.

Seniors entered the halls of MHS on August 27, 1974, and began the countdown of their final year.

They showed enthusiasm at pep sessions, and succeeded in winning the first "Spirit Jug Award" in keen class competition.

After searching frantically for a company to make their paddles, the class managed to acquire them for Homecoming festivities. The class of '75 at last captured first place in float competition with the theme "Pioneer's Don't Monkey Around."

Cap and gowns, along with graduation announcements, were chosen to coordinate with the class colors--brown and peach. The class flower was the Brown-eyed Susan; the motto was "We will never stop trying to achieve the impossible."

Officers for the Senior year were Greg Finch, president; Bill Headley, vice president; Joanie Rierson, secretary; Rosanne Cox, treasurer.

They became Mooresville's largest graduating class with 272 graduates. 194 participated in spring commencement ceremonies while 78 graduated mid-term.

Juniors had a very busy, exciting year.

Besides the traditional magazine sale and concession stand, they sold M & M's to help finance their activities.

They showed much enthusiasm during Homecoming festivities, winning second place in float competition, and winning first in the tug of war contest.

Working in the concession stand can be fun.

Finishing their second year at MHS, the Sophomores have many memories of the first half of their high school years.

Class officers were Doug Opel, president; Tim Crist, vice president; Pam Fenwick, secretary; Cindy Pease, treasurer.

Highlights of the year included: crowning of Kathy Ulrich, sophomore princess of the Wagon Trails Revue; Lori Summers, Homecoming princess; third place Homecoming float competition. Other thrills included receiving "Spirit Jug Award" at pep sessions and receiving class rings.

Debbie Patrum crowned the 1974 Homecoming Princess, Lori Summers. Lori's escort was Kevin Wiser.

SCHOOLMAKERS &

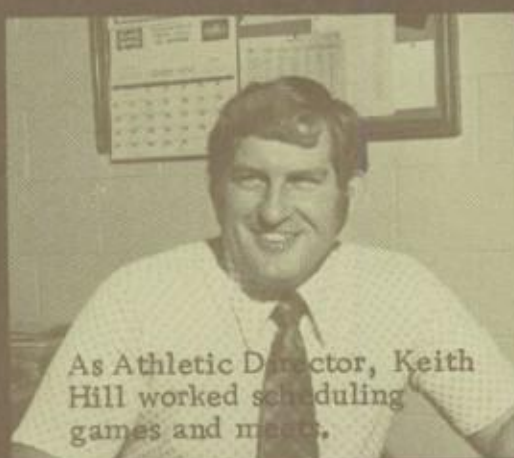

We remember the first day of school. How we had to put on the stiff, denim jeans or new dress and the horrible, new leather shoes which were so tight, we thought they would pinch our feet off. Much worse, though, was meeting the schoolmarm and masters. We just knew we would hate them. They crammed verbs, numbers and equations in our heads until we thought we would burst, but also found it hard to leave some of them. They had offered so much of themselves.

MASTERS

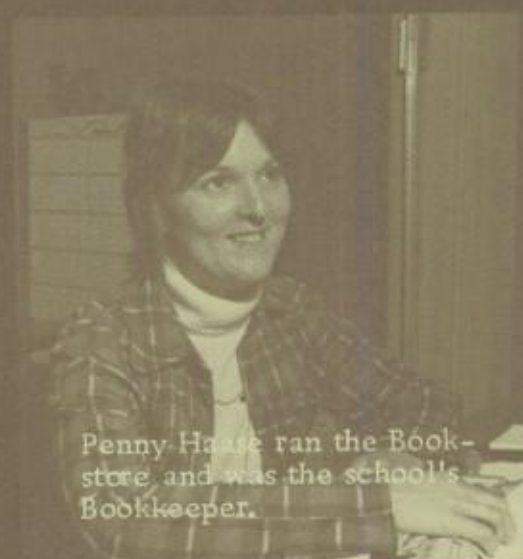

Schoolmarms and Masters were the faculty and administrative members of Mooresville High School. This year, we have tried to depict them as humans and not semi-divine characters. If you would have studied them as the faculty section did, you would have found people with private feelings, special needs, strong opinions and simple loves. They also played leading roles in keeping the school spirit rolling. Many teachers devoted precious time to sponsor activities. As you look at Mooresville's Schoolmarms and Masters album, we ask you to remember these people as humans with goals to reach, like you and me.

Lon Milburn worked to prepare Seniors for colleges and jobs.

As Athletic Director, Keith Hill worked scheduling games and meets.

Penny Haise ran the Bookstore and was the school's Bookkeeper.

Guidance counselor, Judy Butcher was in over the Junior Class.

Norb Johnson was recognized this year as an assistant principal.

SCHOOLMARMSTOBY

ES

Sally Corbin helped many office duties at MHS.

Jerry Brown was the new assistant principal at MHS.

Main Office Secretary, Dian Chandler, enjoys training office help.

Imogene Wood is the secretary in the finance office.

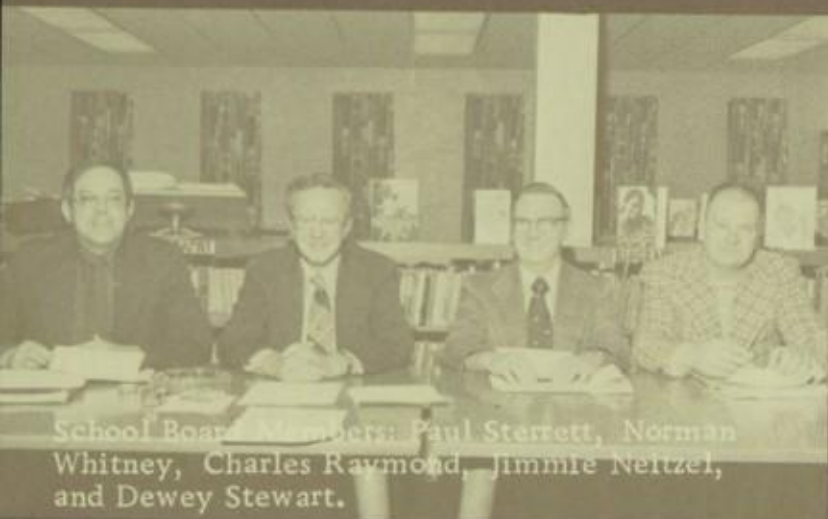

Asst. Superintendent, Robert E. Patterson is in charge of Curriculum.

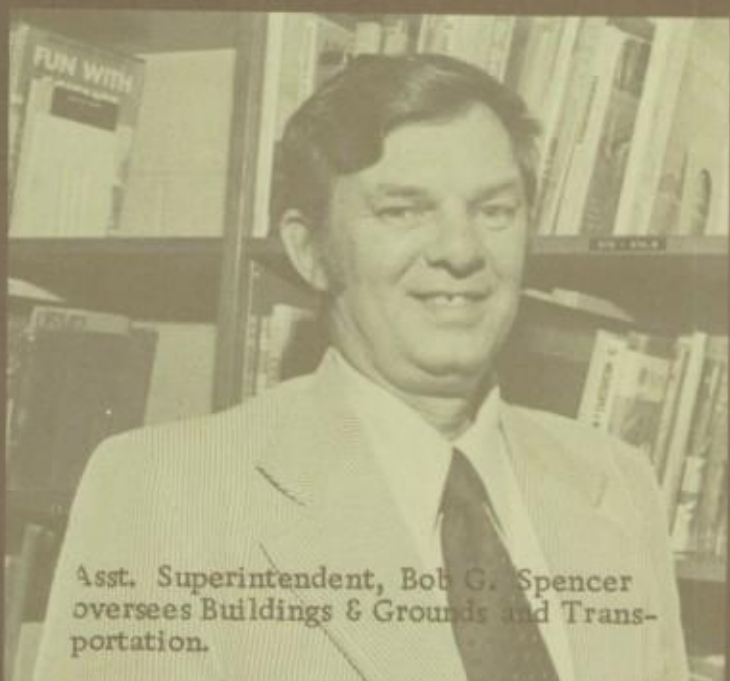

William R. Curry is the Superintendent of the school corporation.

Principal, Bill Overholser and the MHS students share a mutual respect between them.

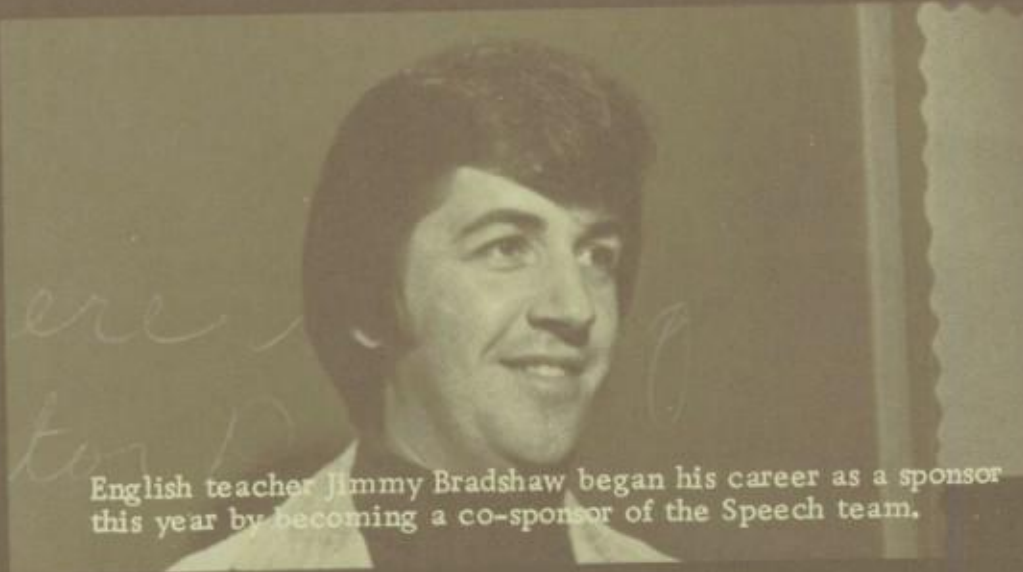

School Board Members: Paul Sterrett, Norman Whitney, Charles Raymond, Jimmie Neltzel, and Dewey Stewart.

Asst. Superintendent, Bob G. Spencer oversees Buildings & Grounds and Transportation.

FAST TRACK

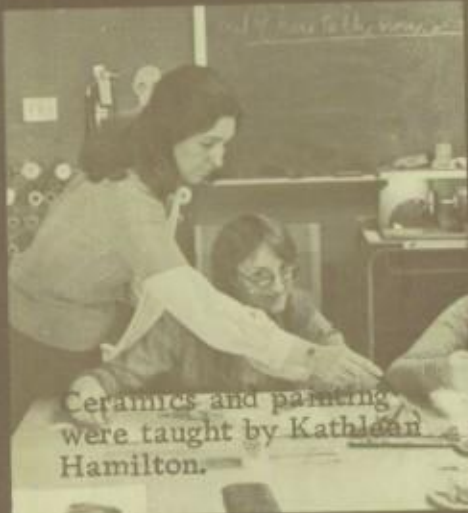

English teacher Jimmy Bradshaw began his career as a sponsor this year by becoming a co-sponsor of the Speech team.

Bob Adams taught English to travelling sophomores.

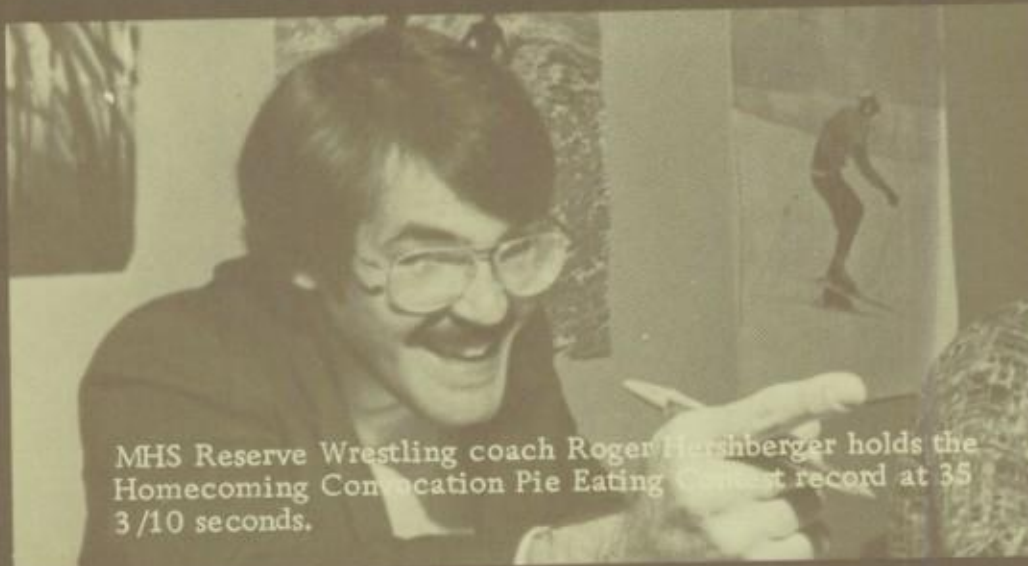

Home Ec. teacher Janna Hazelbaker sponsored the Mat Maids!

Ceramics and painting were taught by Kathleen Hamilton.

Gaylord Gole sponsored the Future Farmers of America.

MHS Reserve Wrestling coach Roger Hershberger holds the Homecoming Convocation Pie Eating Contest record at 35 3/10 seconds.

TEACHERS

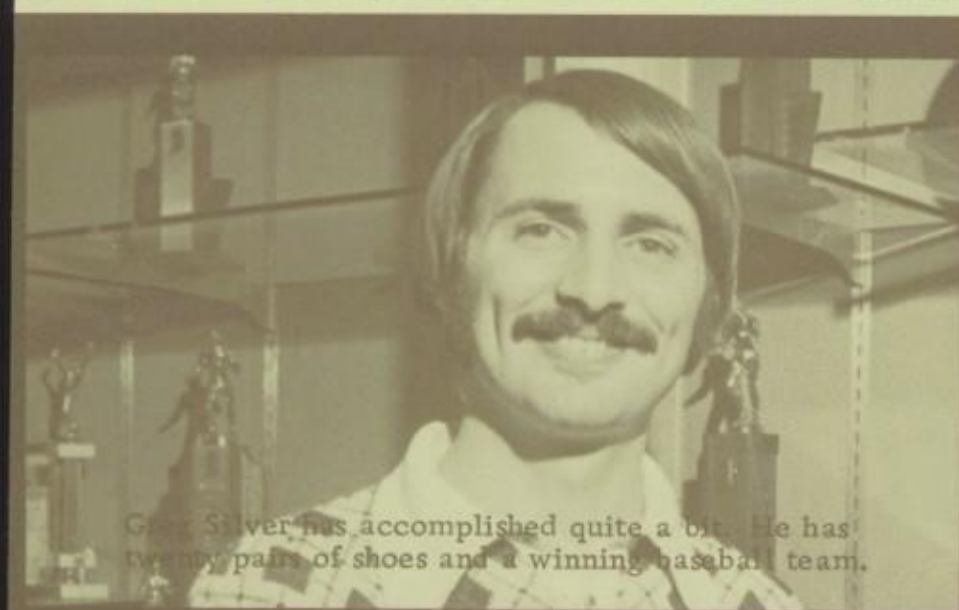

Judy Bengtson retired to the teachers lounge after a class.

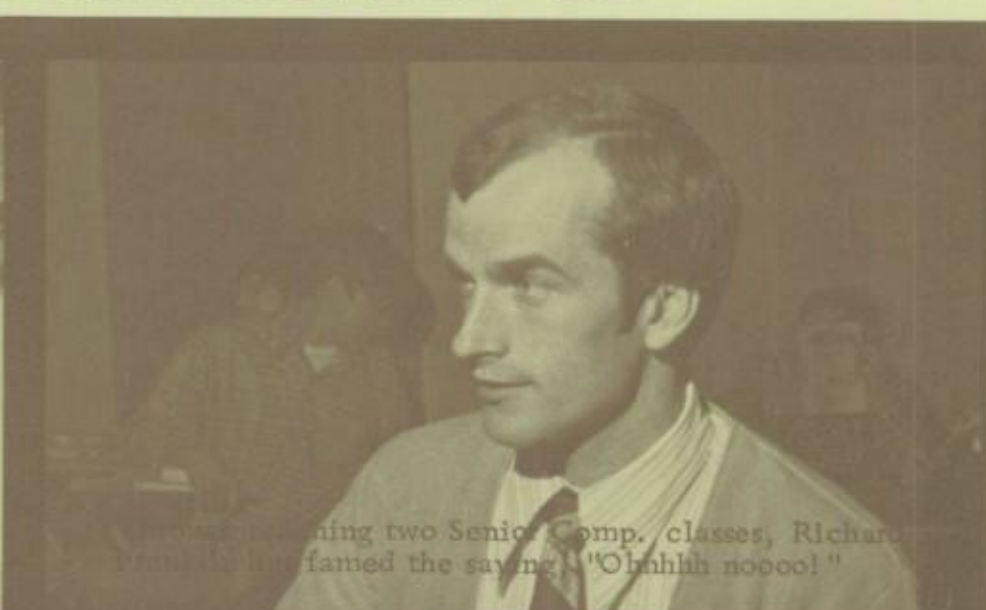

EN

LIGHTENMENT

Greg Silver has accomplished quite a bit. He has twenty pairs of shoes and a winning baseball team.

After teaching two Senior Comp. classes, Richard Penella has famed the saying, "Ohhhhh noooo!"

Candy Roberts enthusiastically sponsored the all new "Spirit Machine."

Denny Pelley's thoughts about life- "It's great! It's great!"

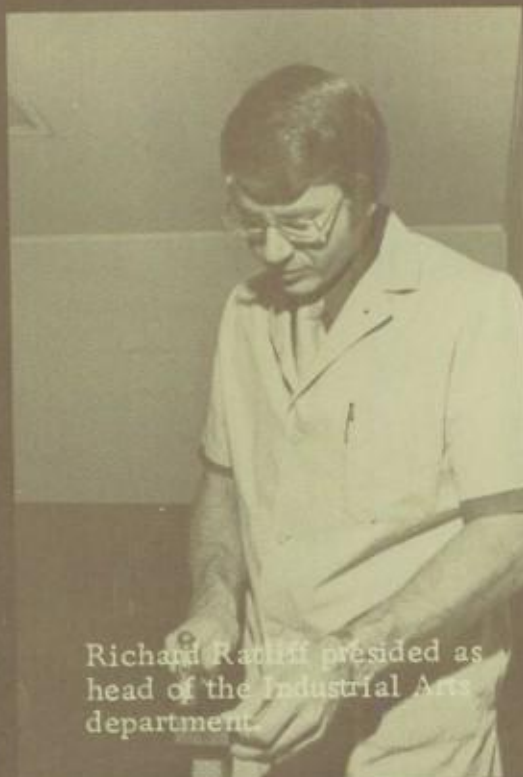

Mary Randolph expressed love, laughter and self during class.

WINNEDITING

Ken Jones relaxed between days rehearsal and Wilson Trails Revue.

Richard Radliff presided as head of the Industrial Arts department.

Holly Beaver, librarian, was extremely proud of the newly re-modeled MHS library and she ran it with efficiency and smiles.

Economist Dan Havens worked to solve the chocolate chip shortage.

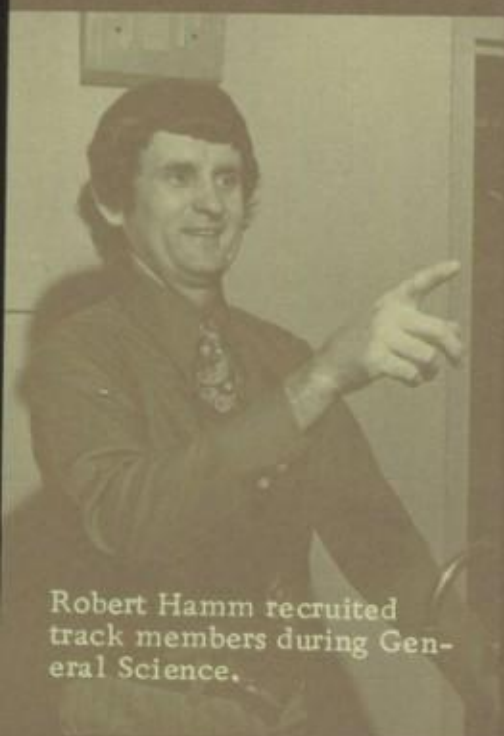

Jim Hammel assumed a new position counseling the Freshman Class.

THE MHS JURY

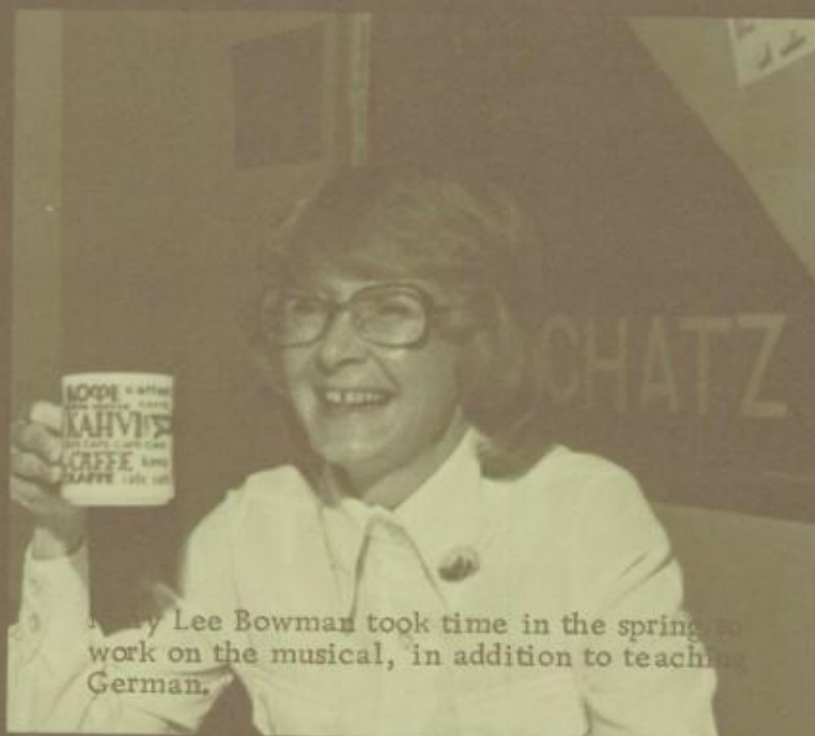

No school but MHS deserved a "Fireball" Betty Roberts.

EXCITEMENT

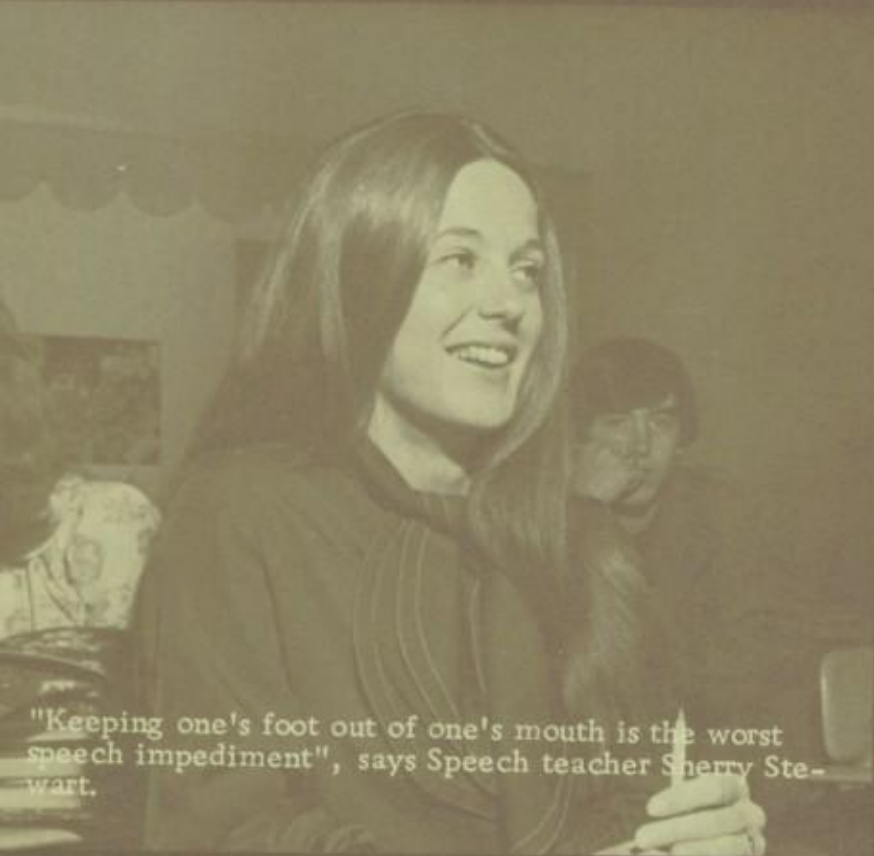

Robert Hamm recruited track members during General Science.

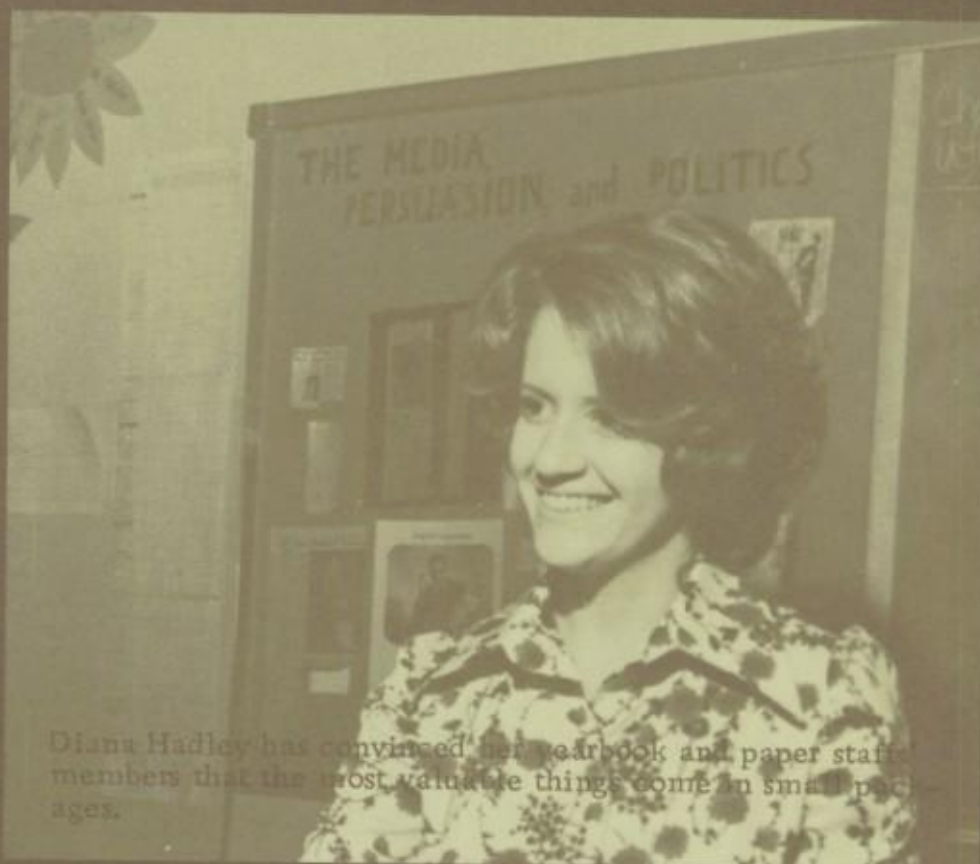

Nancy Lee Bowman took time in the spring to work on the musical, in addition to teaching German.

Wrestling season brought a smile to Medman Randy Qualtrough.

"Keeping one's foot out of one's mouth is the worst speech impediment", says Speech teacher Sherry Stewart.

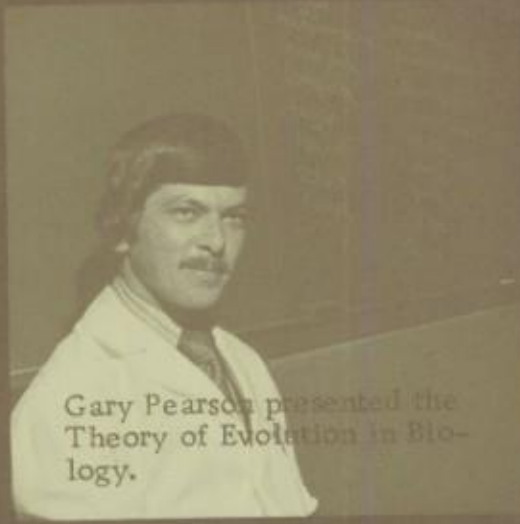

Diana Hadley has convinced her yearbook and paper staff members that the most valuable things come in small packages.

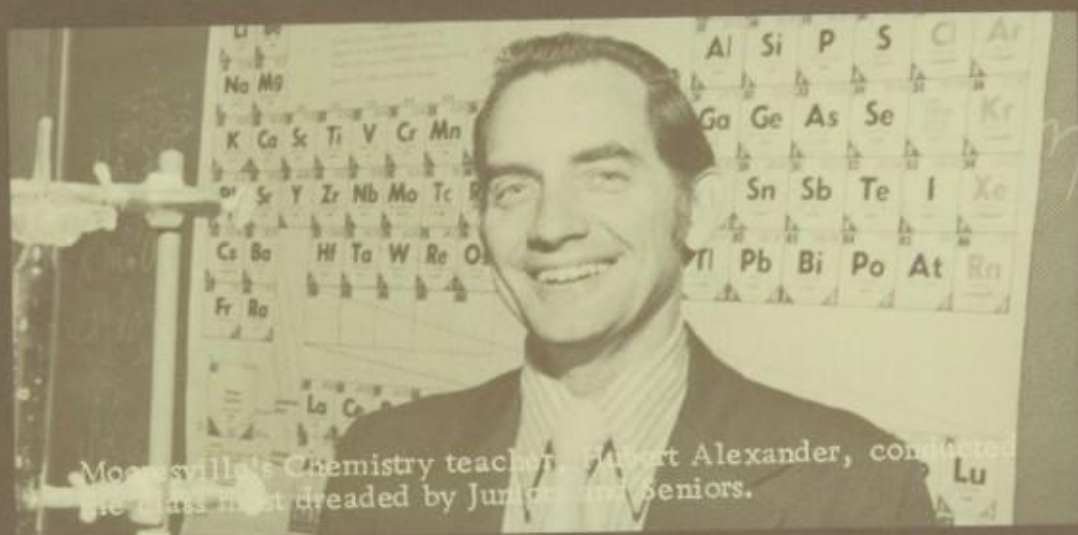

EXCITEMENT

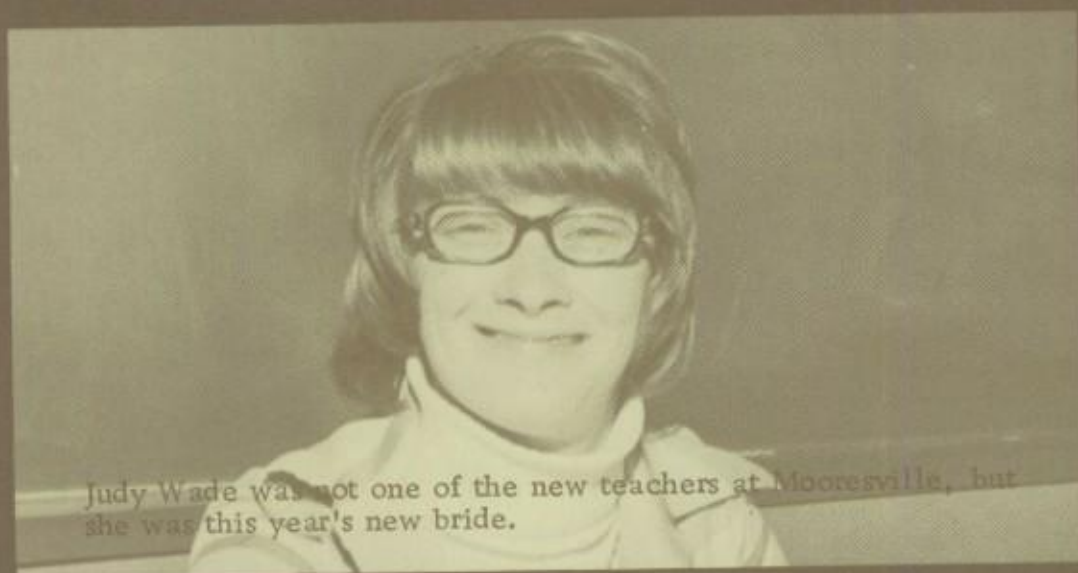

Dan Thurston taught Civics, a required Freshman course.

Gary Pearson presented the Theory of Evolution in Biology.

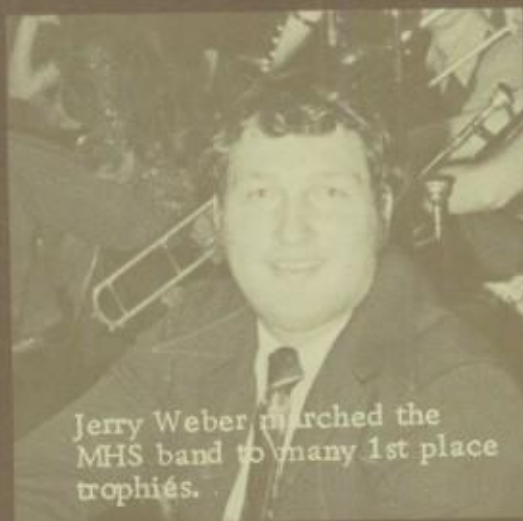

Mooreville's Chemistry teacher, Robert Alexander, conducted the class most dreaded by Juniors and Seniors.

Judy Wade was not one of the new teachers at Mooreville, but she was this year's new bride.

Metals teacher, Wayne Johnson, also sponsored the Freshmen.

Jerry Weber marched the MHS band to many 1st place trophies.

TEACHERS

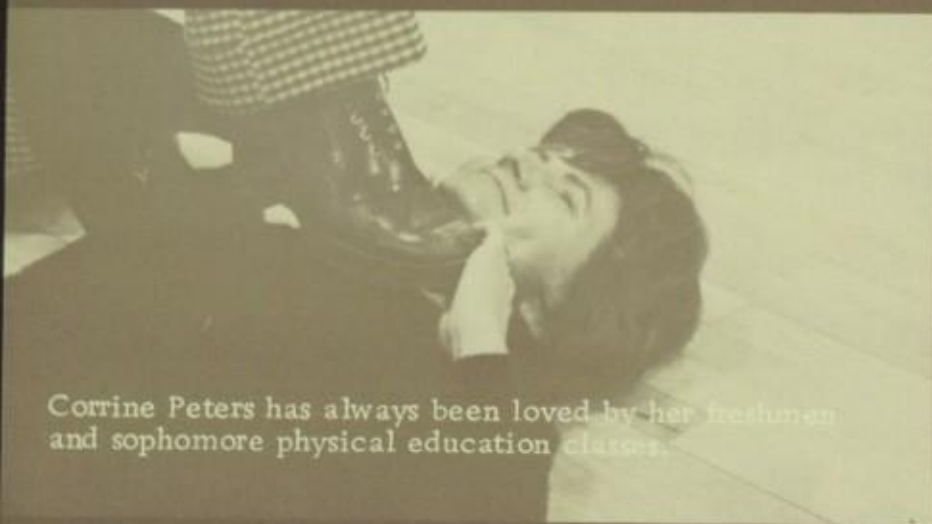

Kelvin Maxfield ruled over the A.V. equipment and aides.

Lesette Hamilton sponsored the Senior Class and FHA.

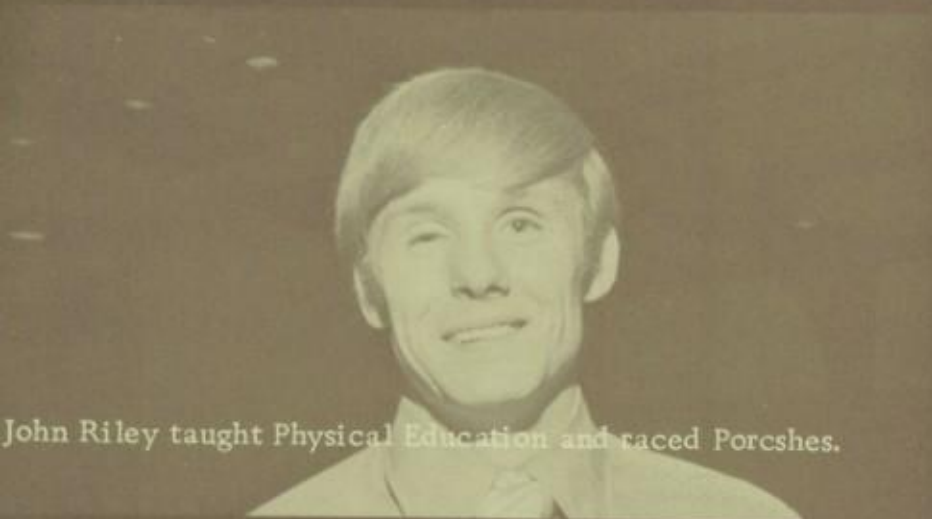

MBODIMENT

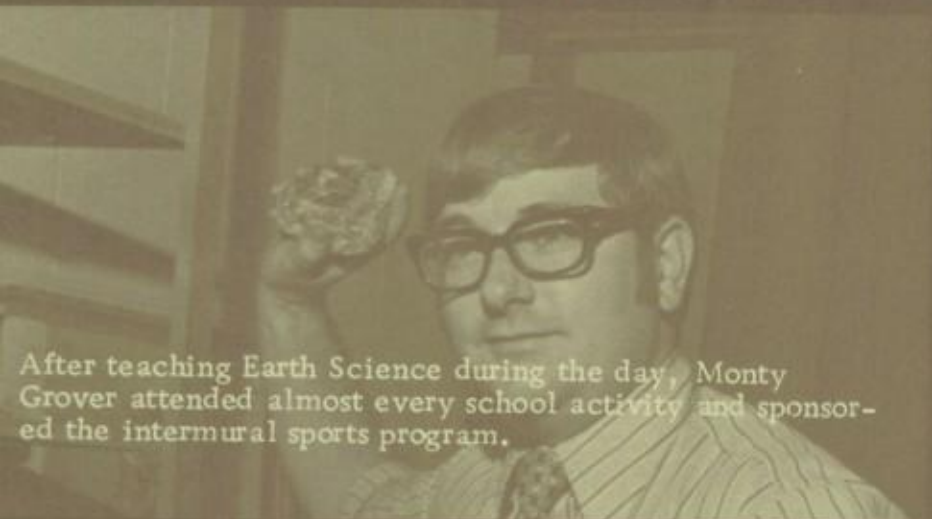

Corrine Peters has always been loved by her freshmen and sophomore physical education classes.

Elizabeth Yoke co-sponsored the dynamic Junior Class.

John Riley taught Physical Education and raced Porches.

After teaching Earth Science during the day, Monty Grover attended almost every school activity and sponsored the intermural sports program.

The Model United Nations was a project Don Adams encouraged International Relations' students to participate in.

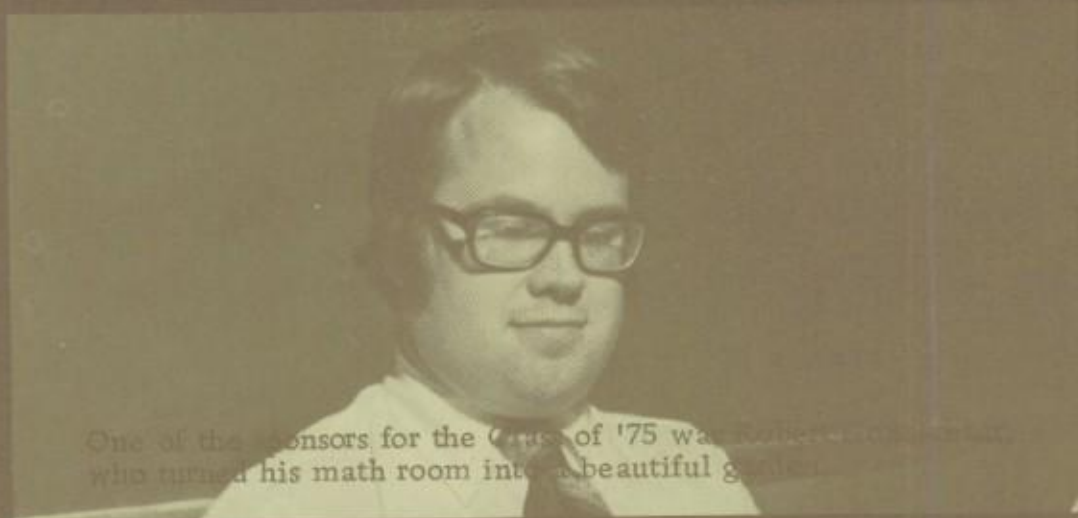

EMBODIMENT

Peggy Saylor taught to "Little Ones" taking Business courses.

Barbara Kacmar promoted girls track and volleyball teams.

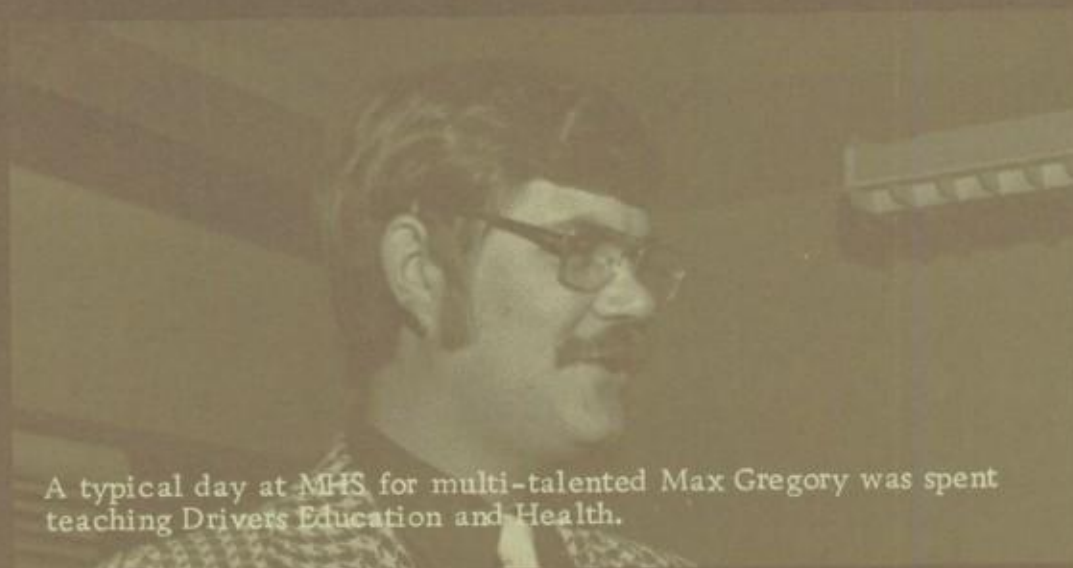

One of the seniors for the Class of '75 was Robert, who turned his math room into a beautiful garden.

Stan Hall spent this year looking for a stapler to call his own.

Spanish was one of the classes taught by Lester Gillem.

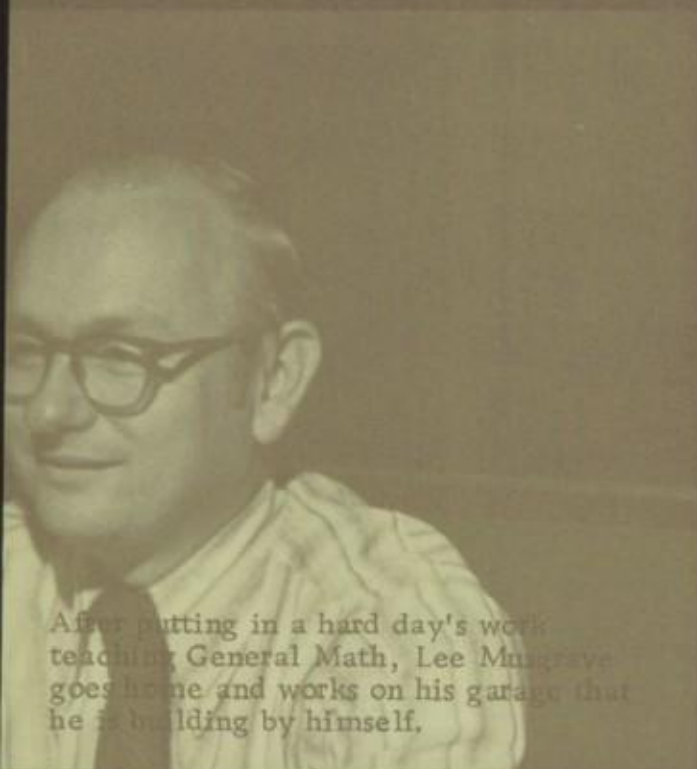

A typical day at MHS for multi-talented Max Gregory was spent teaching Drivers Education and Health.

THE MHS JOURNAL

9 year veteran, Gerald Williams, was an "old pro" at teaching Government to MHS Seniors.

INTANGLEMENT

After putting in a hard day's work teaching General Math, Lee Musgrave goes home and works on his garage that he is building by himself.

Aloha Landwerlen taught Secretarial Office Practice along with other business courses.

Nancy Witte sponsors French Club and helps with AFS.

Joe Ash stepped out of the business hallway, and out onto the track to assume a new position as assistant track coach in addition to teaching.

Carolyn Blickenstaff enjoyed teaching Spanish at MHS.

INTENTIONAL

Kenneth Everhart taught printing and coached Frosh Wrestling.

Terry Crowe taught English her first year to Frosh and Juniors.

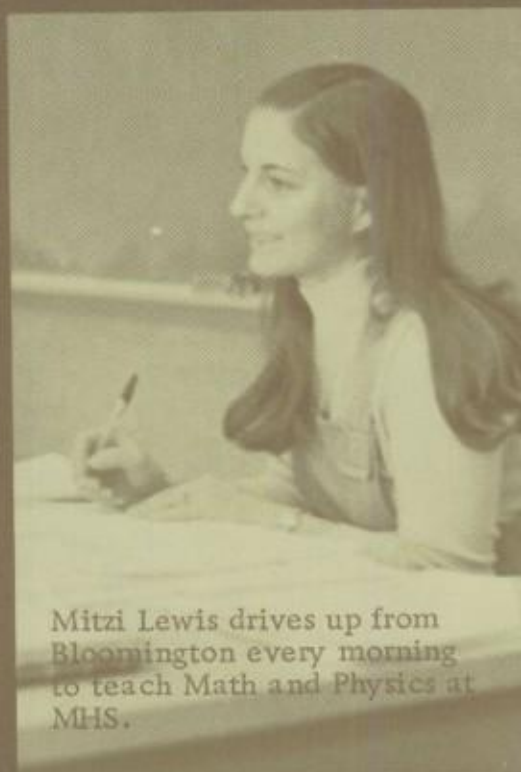

Frank Riley has taught drafting to MHS students for many years.

Leanne Howard taught English and was another new face at MHS.

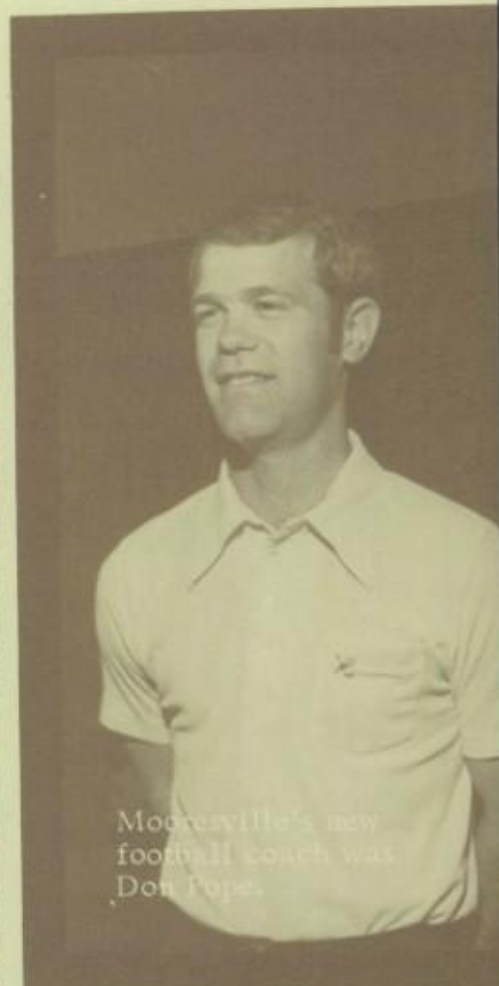

New at MHS, Clarissa Sharp sponsored the rookie Freshman class.

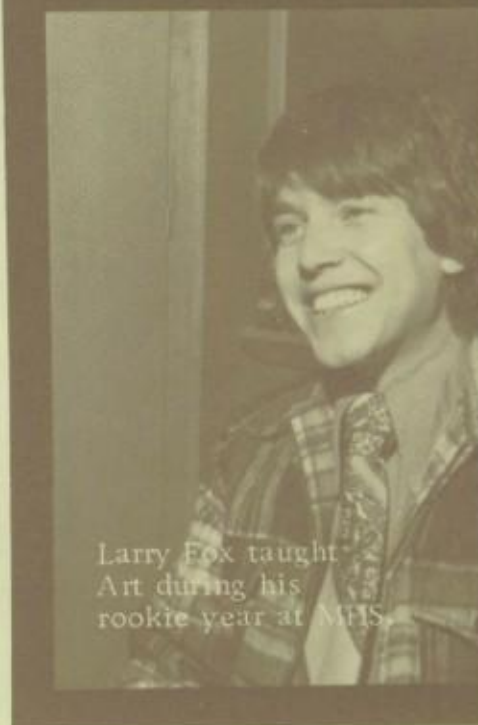

Mitzi Lewis drives up from Bloomington every morning to teach Math and Physics at MHS.

JUNIOR

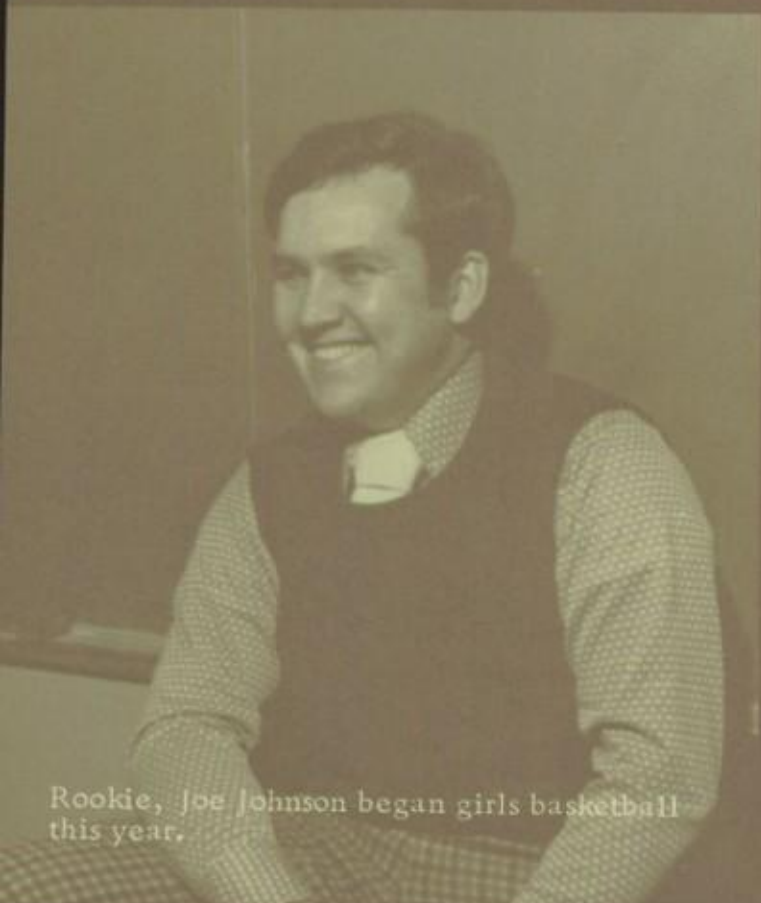

Mooresville's new football coach was Don Pope.

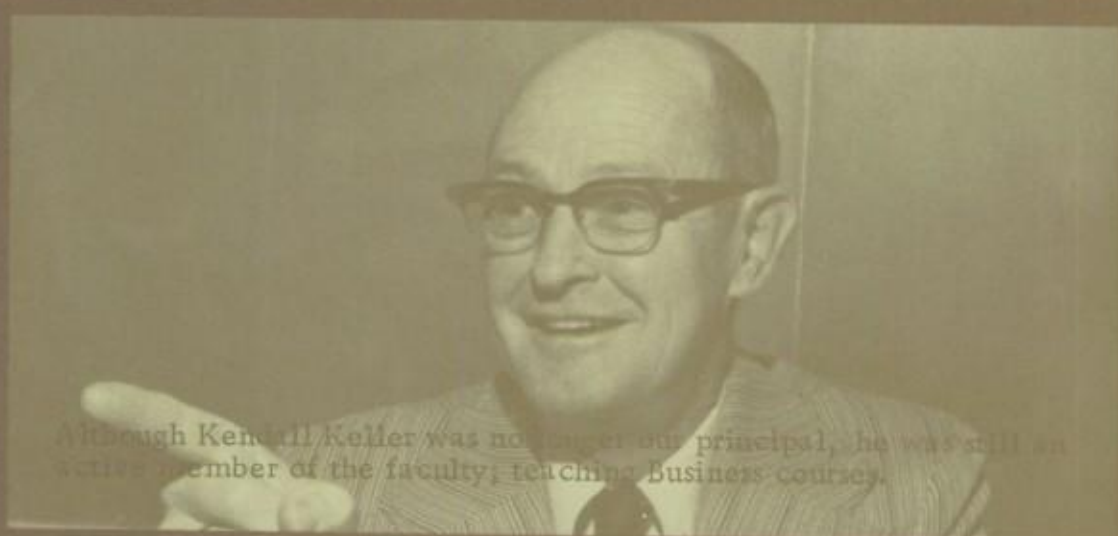

Larry Fox taught Art during his rookie year at MHS.

EXPERIMENT

Rookie, Joe Johnson began girls basketball this year.

Although Kendall Keller was no longer our principal, he was still an active member of the faculty, teaching Business courses.

The cooks at McWesville High School helped boost spirit by taking charge of the fan bus and wearing smiles.

Miss Stewart was here 1974-75 and was the first to teach English.

These were the bus drivers for McWesville Consolidated Schools. They transported elementary, Jr. High, and high school students.

On Saturday's we would all load up in the pick-up and go to town. Sugar, flour, cloth, and other necessities had to be bought and sometimes, if we had been good, we got a stick of candy, or maybe a soda pop. We loved the General Store-for in it were so many interesting things.

We would like to extend our thanks to the entire Wagon Trails staff, faculty, administration, and community. Most-ly though, our thanks goes to the stu-dent body, for without their help, con-cern, and cooperation the yearbook would not have been published. We hope that throughout this book we have de-picted last year as it really was by put-ting in the most memorable occasions. Thanks for letting us do this for you.

CLOSING

Each night before bedtime, we looked at the scrapbook of the town's progress. We added pictures and articles which told about the events of the day. We were proud of our town, because we had watched it grow and left a mark of time between the Buggies-N-Baggles.

RONALD GILL
PROFESSIONAL PHOTOGRAPHER
789 MORGAN STREET
MARTINSVILLE, IN

The 1974-75 yearbook staff gives special thanks to the nice people at Gill's Studio for photographic supplies, workshop scholarships, continuous calls, and last minute requests.
